BEST GOVERNMENT ON THE FACE OF THE EARTH

Easter has come and gone again. Instead of peace on earth and good will toward all, there is unrest, class hatred and actual revolution in many parts of the world. Politics has become the "biggest business." It bids fair to consume savings and capital of many countries. Taxation grows and the constant fear of wars drains the public treasuries to prepare war.

With growing talk of fascism, communism, and socialism as a remedy for worldly troubles, we as a nation, should not lose sight of one outstanding fact, namely; that we, the people of the United States are the government. No other form of government ever gave such complete control to "the people" as does our own constitution.

We have no ruling class here that it is necessary to revolt against in order to protect ourselves. By the ballot we, the people, have the power to express our views in a more emphatic and speedy manner than can ever be accomplished by force.

In these days of unrest and discontent, we should remember these facts. We should appreciate the great government that we have. We should get down on our knees and offer a prayer of thankfulness that our ancestors, through trial and suffering, created a constitutional form of government that gives each and every one of us the greatest liberty and equality of opportunity of any people in the world.

Our constitution is the poor man's greatest heritage and the rich man's only protection.

NOW THAT SPRING IS HERE

Now that spring is here, and summer is just around the corner, the minds of millions are occupied with plans for vacationing.

This is an unusual year for the traveler. The mysterious exigencies of international exchange have made tremendous changes so far as paying for one's wanderlust is concerned. The current rate of exchange with most European currencies, for example, is much less favorable than it was a year ago. That American dollar which used to be so potent has literally shrunk in size. A hundred and fifty or two hundred of them are needed to do the work that a hundred used to do.

The result is that where travelers used to think of Europe, they are now going to follow the old adage and really see America.

Seeing America is an especially excellent idea. It's a big country—and a very few of its citizens have more than a cursory acquaintance with it.

HOW WILL THE VOTE GO?

The proposed Congressional bill to tax all government business enterprises on exactly the same basis as private enterprises should not be lost to sight. It should be brought to a vote at the earliest possible opportunity.

First, the government is in dire need of additional revenue—and it is becoming increasingly evident that this cannot be safely obtained by additional taxes on individuals and industry. Taxes are now so high that business is lagging because of inability to attract capital—and the individual property-owner is being taxed to the point of confiscation. The total value of government business enterprises—federal, state and local—runs into billions. Taxation of municipal and federal power and light properties alone would bring in gigantic sums to the Treasury.

Second, the public has never had an opportunity to judge the efficiency of government in business—largely because, being free from taxes, public enterprises have a tremendous advantage over private businesses of the same nature. The average electric company, for example, pays more than ten per cent of its gross—all the revenue it receives, before any expenses are deducted—to the tax collector. The public electric company pays nothing. Taxing all businesses, whether public or private, would favor none—and would give the voter an excellent yardstick with which to measure comparative efficiency.

There is not a single good reason why government ventures which fall within the realm of business, as distinct from those performing a necessary service benefitting the entire nation should not be taxed. The proposition of the bill is to be congratulated—and it will be interesting to see which way his colleagues vote.

Did you ever study the psychology of good cheer? Try it some time. Say "Good Morning" with a long-drawn cheerful lilt to the first acquaintance you meet—and put a little note of joy into it; then, to the next you meet, just grunt 'G'morning' and see if you do not get a reply in kind in each instance. Cheerfulness is catching—just the same as the blues—Capitol Press.

INSURANCE COMMISSIONER AGAIN ISSUES WARNING TO PUBLIC

Salem, Ore., April 13—(Special)—While the office of Insurance Commissioner A. H. Averill has issued several warnings to Oregon citizens concerning the inadvisability of patronizing unauthorized companies which are attempting to do business in this state, numerous requests for assistance in the case of disputed claims are still received, and the department is forced to inform the complainant that it has no jurisdiction and can be of no assistance.

A number of these unauthorized companies which are active in an attempt to procure mail order business claim in their advertisements that no commission is paid agents and that because of this fact the insurance can be written at a lower premium. Upon checking the financial statement of one company, it is found that, while no commissions were paid Oregon agents, of the total cash income approximately $370,000 only $78,000 was paid to members, but the expenses amount to $23,000 over and above payments to members, from which it will be seen that of the total sum collected only a very small proportion is paid out in claims.

The department can only warn the public that dealing with companies which do not or cannot, due to their poor financial condition, comply with the Oregon laws and procure a license to transact business may lead to disappointment when a legitimate claim is presented.

SOMETHING HERE TO PONDER OVER

How repeal is "promoting temperance" is impressively shown by the official records of the Washington, D. C. police department, which showed an increase of 65 per cent in arrests for drunkenness for the first week-end of legal liquor, over the previous week. The police declined to estimate how many others, who may have been under the influence of liquor, were not arrested.

Practically the same percentage of increase in arrests for intoxication was shown from the legal consumption of beer after legalization last year, despite the fact that it was supposed to be non
