Communication from P. L. Patterson, Hillsboro attorney, representing M. H. Stevenson, who had purchased tax title to the Hockens unrecorded acreage along Watson street and is seeking to secure a quiet title, was also considered. It seems that the town has liens for street improvements of Watson street. Mr. Stevenson offered to deed back to the town a strip 100 feet long, reserving a strip forty feet wide for a connecting road from the acreage to Watson street, which was agreeable to the council. The case is to be heard at Hillsboro sometime soon. Stanley Myers represented the interests of the town.

Conservation and the Scout Law (VII)

11. "A scout is Clean. He keeps clean in body and thought, stands for clean speech, clean sport, clean habits, and travels with a clean crowd."

The reference to conservation in this law is indirect.

Obviously a person who does not travel with a clean crowd will be less likely to uphold forest regulations and will care little about the welfare of the woods. On the other hand, a good scout will leave a clean camp and a dead fire. His good turn would be to teach others what good forest manners are.

12. "A Scout is Reverent. He is reverent towards God. He is faithful in his religious duties and respects the convictions of others in matters of custom and religion.

The groves were Gods first temples. A good scout admires the big beautiful things of nature. Alone in the silent depth of our wooded slopes, what opportunity for communion.

A few of these suggestions were gleaned from a lecture prepared by the U. S. Forest service. The end.

Last Friday the troop met as usual and had a test work hour in which two tenderfoot scouts passed their compass requirements. Also there was run a first aid two-man relay race.

Thursday night Gene Brown appeared before the Portland Court of Honor for the merit badge in bird study. This is his nineteenth merit badge, and is required for the Eagle scout rank. He needs but two more badges to qualify for that high rank.

The regular monthly overnight hike is planned for Saturday, April 28

"SITTING PRETTY" AT RITZ THEATRE FOR 3 DAY RUN

Music written by Mack Gordon and Harry Revel, two of America's ace song writers combined with comedy furnished by an all-star comedy cast headed by Jack Oakie, Jack Haley, Ginger Rogers, Thelma Todd and Gregory Ratoff are the main ingredients of the fast and furious screen musical-comedy "Sitting Pretty" coming to the Ritz Theatre Sunday for a three day run.

"Sitting Pretty" boasts a good supporting cast including Lew Cody, Jerry Tucker, Walter Walker and two well-known radio features, the Pickens Sisters and the Beverly Hill Billies

Jack Oakie and Jack Haley are a couple of likable muggs from New York's Tin-Pan Alley who finally sell a song and go to Hollywood. They lose their money in a crap-game and have to hitch-hike. They meet a "nut" who tells them he's the president of a motion picture company. He takes a liking to them, gives them a contract and away they go.

When they arrive at the studio the cold receion given them comes as a complete surprise. But with characteristic boldness they talk themselves ino a big job and meet all the blondes

Then their troubles begin. Success goes to their heads. But it remains for a sweet, demure home-town sweetheart to swing things into shape again.: She gets the boys back on their feet, and the picture ends in a surprise climax that is crammed with laughs and hilarity.

Friday-Saturday, April 20-21 "Olson's Big Moment' will be featured.
