

Beaverton Locals

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Oliver and son, of Portland, were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Keller.

Dr. and Mrs. O. G. Goffin of Portland, visited Saturday at the homes of Mrs. M. E. Pike and Mr. and Mrs. John Summers.

The Beaverton Grange will hold the regular all day June meeting Saturday the 9th. All grangers are cordially invited. Business session in the morning. Potluck dinner at noon. The afternoon lecture hour is open to the public. Roll call will be "Name of the flower of my birth state and why it was chosen?". Bring sale slips.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Denney left Saturday for a motor trip around the central states to the Century of Progress Fair at Chicago. They will visit enroute through Kansas and Indiana. They plan to be gone a month or more.

About forty were in attendance at the final meeting of the season of the study class of the Bethel Congregational church Thursday May 31, which met at the home of Rev. and Mrs. George Taylor. Rain prevented the class from being held on the Taylor's lawn and through the courtesy of Mrs. V. O. Stinerod, a near neighbor, it was held in her drawing room. Devotionals were given by Mrs. Louise Carter, the title of which was "The Master and Cheap Scrap." The life of Peter and what the master made of him was the example used. The speaker of the morning was Rev. Mrs. Hansacker of Portland. She discussed "Race Prejudices" and spoke particularly of the negro and the injustice done him in our state.

A potluck luncheon was served in the Taylor home after which the business meeting immediately followed. Miss Juliette Carter gave a brief review of the recent Congregational conference.

Mrs. B. K. Denny was a caller at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Lawrence Tuesday.

Marilyn Crane, of Woodland Acres, celebrated her third birthday anniversary at her home on Thursday, May 31.

Miss Genevieve Carter motored to Seattle Saturday with friends from that city who had been visiting her. She will remain several days.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Lawrence attended South Gate chapter O. E. S. Wednesday evening.

Mr. McAlear of Hillsboro, was a Sunday caller at the Reeves home.

A picket fence has been erected around the Heidelberg Inn.

Harry T. Hayes, of Tacoma, Wash.,

is visiting his mother this week at the home of Geo. Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Dessinger, Miss Cathryn and Gus Dessinger, Grace and Genevieve Johnson drove to Schlar park, near Oregon City, Sunday to attend the annual picnic of the German Singing society of Portland.

HITEON NEWS

F. Willoughby was taken back to the hospital last week with his infected ankle.

The Oddfellows and Rebekahs from here went to the I. O. O. F. old people's home Sunday. Tigard lodge put on the Tom Thumb wedding there.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Robinson and son Lester of Portland, were dinner guests Memorial day at the Struthers home. Miss Elizabeth Struthers who is employed at the Orange Lantern tea room in Portland, was also home for the day.

About forty guests honored Miss Dorothy Struthers at her home Thursday with a bridal shower. A program of music and games was enjoyed followed by a lovely lunch. Many beautiful and useful gifts were presented to her. The shower was sponsored by the Hiteon Progressive club.

Miss Dorothy Struthers and Lester Robinson were honored at a party Saturday evening given by employees of Speery Flour Co., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Blaufus at Westmoreland. They were presented with an end table and magazine rack.

Lester Davies has been our mail carrier the past week while Mr. McKell took a vacation.

Wm. F. Campbell spent several days last week in Washington.

Should Adversities Come

You then appreciate as never before the solicitude and helpfulness of friends. Normally one does not even think of receiving kindly attention from a financial institution. But Artisans Life Association is not that sort of business-only organization. Its fraternal, humanitarian service makes it always a friend in need.

That's a cogent reason our Legal Reserve Life Insurance policies—standard in all respects—are warmly esteemed.
