Statehouse Gossip

By ERNEST L. GRAY

The most important news of the week was the changes brought by Governor Martin, particularly the rather unexpected removal of Leslie M. Scott as chairman of the State Highway Commission. But the story behind this executive act reveals some very interesting situations, showing that Martin was reluctant in removing Scott, but could not avoid it.

A week before Governor Martin took a four day trip with the members of the highway commission, and returned absolutely sold on Scott. He knew Scott had spent most of his time in service to the public, had spent millions of dollars the past three years without a breath of scandal, and was perhaps the best highway commissioner Oregon has ever known.

Upon his return the Governor let it be known he was satisfied with Scott and would retain him on the commission. He was to appoint but one, that to replace Carl Washburne of Eugene, who has been anxious to quit. It was reported reliably that this new appointment would be F. L. Touvelle of Medford, who has been spoken of as the father of the Pacific Highway.

However, the first of last week things began to happen. But let's review first the history of the person responsible for the change in the plans of the governor—Henry Failing Cabell. Cabell is declared a free citizen and at the present time is administrator of the large Failing estate. He is wealthy and considered a very capable business man, one who will make a good commissioner.

It was Cabell who first suggested to Martin to run for Congress at the election five years ago. Sitting in the Arlington club one day, the story states, Cabell said to General Martin "Why don't you run for Congress on the democratic ticket—you would be elected." "But," said the general, "I am a Republican." "Then change and run," returned Cabell.

That is what happened, and Cabell and the Failing estate were heavy contributors financially to Martin's campaigns for Congress and for Governor, although Cabell is a registered Republican. But there is even more back of the appointment.

Cabell, a grandson of Henry Failing, an Oregon pioneer, was an aide-camp to General Martin during the World War. Cabell's father, an army colonel, was a close personal friend of Martin's and the picture really dated from there. The new highway commissioner is 40 years of age.

Therefore when Cabell was anxious to secure a good appointment—not a remunerative one—from the Governor, he was forced to listen. Cabell wanted to be on the highway commission and nothing else. What could Martin do other than what he did? He regretted the removal of Scott, however.

Recovery Head Strikes At NRA "Camp Followers"

Washington—The American people have a suspicion that some of the New Deal theorists want the Government to take over all business and industry and this suspicion is hurting recovery. It was asserted by S. Clay Williams, retiring chairman of the National Recovery Board, in a statement to the Senate Finance Committee.

Williams describes these Brain Trusters as "camp followers" in NRA, and he urged Congress to legislate specifically on the field to be covered by NRA so as to eliminate the theory promoting "camp followers." These quack doctors of economic ills "hold pet theories on what should be done for and to business," Mr. Williams said, and are "largely to blame for uncertainty in the business world and failure of business to revive."

Mrs. C. L. Ferguson of Los Angeles, Cal., is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. E. R. Sheets. She has just returned from a visit with another sister at Brooklyn, N. Y., also spending some time with another sister and brother in Spokane, Wash.

Miss Carter Bride at Pretty Church Wedding Last Saturday

Miss Genevieve Carter, daughter of Mrs. Louise Carter, of Raleigh, became the bride of Mr. Clarence Palm of Seattle, Wash., at a very pretty wedding held Saturday at the Beaverton Congregational church. Rev. Charles Clarke read the ceremony in the presence of relatives and intimate friends.

The bride was dressed in her mother's wedding dress of lace and lace, and carried a white Bibie, and a shower bouquet of pink and white flowers. Miss Geraldine Carter, bride's maid, wore a light blue dress and carried a muff of pink and white flowers. Little Loraine Carter, flower girl, was dressed in light blue organdie, carrying a basket of pink blossoms.

Samuel Lawrence, Jr., acted as best man.

Preceding the ceremony Samuel Lawrence, Jr., sang "At Dawning," and Miss Jean Wilkins "The Sweetest Story Ever Told." The wedding march was played by Miss Margaret Earl.

A reception followed in the church parlors. Assisting about the rooms were Misses Cathryn Denney and Dorothy Carter. The church and reception rooms were beautifully decorated with ferns and spring flowers.

The couple departed immediately for Seattle, Wash., where they will make their home.

Julius Christensen Elected President I. O. O. F.

Washington county I. O. O. F. convention was held at Tigard Friday evening March 29, with three county lodges represented and several from Portland. Approximately fifty attended the evening session.

Wm. Morand, grand secretary, was present and told of the activities of the coming Grand lodge session to be held in Salem in May.

Beaverton lodge gave the obligation in the initiatory degree, with members from Tigard and Hillsboro giving the secret work. Hillsboro demonstrated the flag ceremony, both opening and closing. Charity lodge and the convention went on record as favoring a set charter draping ceremony and instructed the grand secretary to bring the matter up before grand lodge.

Julius Christensen of Scholls, was elected president of the convention, with the meeting place automatically set for Scholls sometime in September.

Other officers elected were: Sanford T. Rogers, Beaverton, vice-pres.; Curtis Tigard, Tigard, secretary; Chester C. Bannister, Hillsboro, treasurer.

Final C. E. Convention Rally Sunday Afternoon

County C. E. convention will be held at Forest Grove Christian church this Sunday afternoon with a potluck dinner at 1 o'clock in the church basement. The pot luck dinner is one of the unusual features of the rally.

This is the last rally of the state year before state convention to be held at The Dalles in the middle of April. Enthusiasm will be aroused to get members to attend the state convention this year and make it the largest convention so far held.

A number of state C. E. officers are expected to attend the rally Sunday and give valuable information to union members. Different societies will help in the devotional and special musical numbers.

Beaverton Leads In Gas-Oil Sales

Portland conference salesmen of General Petroleum products; Mobilgas and Mobiloil for Western Oregon, and other localities, it was learned that the sales of these two products in the Beaverton district during recent months exceeded the sales of either Salem or Eugene districts for the same period.

The traveling public are beginning to recognize the superior qualities of Mobilgas and Mobiloil—the consistent advertising campaign—a big factor—and the courteous efficient service rendered by the General Petroleum employees here, under the enthusiastic leadership of Cecil Barnes, is making Beaverton one of the leading gas centers of the Willamette valley.

1000-1500 Cords Wood

A. E. Hansen has been very busy the past winter hauling wood from the old Jack Sloan property of pioneer times, southwest of town.

Mr. Hansen contemplates cutting 1000 to 1500 cords fir wood this year. He has some wood cutters who have worked for him over five years.

In The Wild West

Charles Burke of Scholls, who has been receiving treatment at the St. Martin's hot springs up above Bonneville dam, was down Monday. He says the mud baths sure are hot, 118 degrees, that Indling conduct the resort. There is much snow up that way. While some of the boys were fishing on Wind river last week they saw four deer. A few years ago Andrew Brascoco of Cedar Mills, and Burke were at these springs—one night a bear broke into their cabin and stole the bacon.

Torch Honor Society Plan to Entertain

Beaverton High school students held their regular student body meeting Friday afternoon. Chas. F. Walker from the Northwestern School of Commerce was the main speaker of the day, impressing upon the minds of the students the fact that a person was as old as he acted, no matter how many years he had lived. Added features of the meeting were harmonica numbers by Ed McIlroy and an oration on Democracy by LaMern Dean.

The Girl Reserves met fifth period Tuesday in the gymnasium mainly for the purpose of discussing plans for National Girl Reserve week April 7-14, Sunday, April 7th, the girls will participate in the services of the Congregational church in Beaverton. Five girls who just recently entered the school were introduced and welcomed as follows: Lois Spurlin, Helen Collins, Florence Wicks, Doris Collins, and Thelma Rogers. After the business meeting, Miss Verne Axelson, stylist from Meier & Frank Co., spoke to the girls on Proper Dress.

The Torch Honor society of the local high will present an interesting program Tuesday, April 16th at 2:30 p. m. in the gymnasium. Among the numbers will be a trombone solo by Gloria Rollins, a duet in Swiss by Elizabeth and Magdalena Boeckli, a skit, "No. No. a Thousand Times No." by the belle of the Torch company, Robert Jackson, and Raymond Rugland, Marian Boyson will give a Russian tap dance. These numbers will be followed by the mystery play, "The Cat's Whiskers" with the following characters: James Miller and Martha Lehman as Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Jones, Aetha Huette and Carl Cornish as Mr. and Mrs. Daly, and Miriam Doty and Jay Gibson as Mr. and Mrs. Burns. Donna Broad and Markey Sayre will play the parts of Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Delbert Burke, the officer, is ripe for the big time. The remaining character in the play is the Cat played by the cat.

Beaverton High's negative debate team, Aline Boswell and Donald Walker, will meet Clatskanie here at Beaverton in the high school to debate for the Inter-District championship, Friday evening, April 5th.

The tennis tournament which is being played among the students in the high school to determine the champions was played as follows this week: Girls—Virginia Crandall vs Mildred Twohy, Betty Alberts vs Betty Allshin. Boys—Neil Jackson vs Henry Kamberger, Gene Brown vs James Miller, and Bob Engleke vs Donald Short.

A number of students from the first and second year typing classes are preparing themselves for the annual Washington County typing contest to be held April 12th at Eckste-Walker Business college in Portland. Those chosen from the beginners class are: Evelyn Alexander, Aline Boswell, Aetha Huette, Helen Kurowski, Mary Katherine Hall and Carl Cornish. Those from the advanced class are: Marian Hagg, Virginia Crandall, Chloa Gee, June Pollard, Genevieve Johnson, Mabelanna Gembeila, and Katherine Denney.

The first year Public Speaking class spent a very interesting week with various projects. The week was started by inaugural and farewell addresses given by the new and retiring officers. Several days were given over to speeches on general subjects from each member of the class. A debate on the Townsend Old Age Pension plan was scheduled for Wednesday between the Sophomores and Freshmen, but was forfeited to the Freshmen because of the failure of the Sophs to appear. Thursday was spent very joyously with Raymond Rugland and Francis Hoiboke upholding the affirmative side and Markey Sayre and Kenneth Waldele the negative side of the question "Resolved: that it is better to be a little frog in a big puddle than a big frog in a little puddle."

Deer Racing Newest Sport in California

Racing deer are the newest sport in California, according to an article in the April issue of the Modern Mechanic and inventions.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Timm, of Kelsey, Cal., nephew of Mrs. J. W. Sprague of Beaverton, were the originators of the sport. About a year ago they caught five young deer in Oregon and after strenuous effort, trained them for hurdle and obstacles of steeplechase course the southern state's newest sport.
