Statehouse Gossip

By ERNEST L. GRAY

While the burning of the state capitol and its effects still constitute the subjects of most conversations another fire was being watched with a great deal of interest, a fire malcontent of the present administration have set under the governor, and one which will burst out in flame about the middle of July, but it will not burn with as pretty a color as that which destroyed the capitol.

Just how far the recall threat against Governor Martin will go could not be foreseen, but petitions will require more than 50,000 bona fide signatures, a goodly number when no paid circulators can be employed—the new law to that effect becoming operative a month from now. A recall can not be started against the governor until he has been in office six months, or after July 14.

The unrest and the agitation echoes of which have been heard at the capitol, have been noted by the Governor, but he evidently likes a good fight and has not let down in his determined policy of going ahead in state government according to his own views. Right or wrong, the Governor will not retract—it is not in his makeup.

Business of the state, although delayed in some instances by the disastrous fire of two weeks ago, was now operating in full swing and those departments which have been burned out were getting equipment and had supplies to operate. Conditions were improved, of course, but it is the hope temporary situations would not continue for more than two years.

Razing of the old structure was in progress, the work being done by SEFA workers behind a board fence which has been constructed around the ruins as a safety precaution. It was estimated it would require about four months to tear down the building, by which time plans will have been considered for a new structure.

Relics of the old structure will consist mostly of ash trays and other materials made from the copper which covered the famous old dome. Many of those working for the state have been able to salvage some of into trays. Souvenir hunters have

Firemen's School Dated June 12-14 at Corvallis

Salem, Oregon, May 10—(Special)—Following a meeting of the program committee of the Oregon Fire Chiefs association, President Percy E. Tallman announced the annual Fireman's School will be held in Corvallis June 12, 13 and 14.

It is planned for the School to be opened with addresses by Governor Charles H. Martin, State Fire Marshal Hugh H. Earle and a representative of the League of Oregon Cities.

The School is to be a departure from the methods of previous schools being designed to be of particular benefit to the smaller chiefs and the firemen. All in attendance will have an opportunity to take part in the actual, practical evolutions which will be directed by some of the best authorities in the state. These drills and practices will be performed by all who wish to gain knowledge from actual practice, and will be followed by open, directed discussions on all phases of the work.

Drills 8 Acres to Oats

David Merlo of Santa Rosa, finished drilling eight acres of spring oats on his ranch north of town last Monday.

NEW STORE IN BEAVERTON

Next Monday, May 13th, Mr. Pearl and Mr. Erwin will open up a trading post at Beaverton. They will be located in the Rossi building, the former location of the Boyd 5, 10 and 15c store.

Mr. Erwin was owner of the Square Deal Trading Post at Vernonia, which he sold several weeks ago. Mr. Pearl was formerly a resident of St. Helens, Oregon.

MARGARET MADDOCK

Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret Maddock Edwards, aged 82 years, who died at her home in Portland Saturday, May 4, after a long illness, were held Monday morning at the Church of the Madeline. Interment was in Mount Calvary cemetery.

Beaverton Wins Debate Laurels

Beaverton won the state high school debating championship tonight when it defeated Chilquin, 3 to 0, on the question "Resolved: That the federal government should adopt a policy of equalized educational opportunities throughout the nation by means of annual grants to several states for public elementary and secondary education."

The Beaverton team, composed of Mildred Twoby and Delbert Burke, coached by E. G. Webb, won its right to compete in the finals by winning the western division of the State High School Debating league.

A large silver cup given by E. E. Decou of the University of Oregon, was presented to Beaverton after the judges had made their decisions. It is a rotating trophy, requiring three consecutive winning for permanent possession.

State Paints Traffic Lanes

The State Highway department is to be thanked for painting traffic lanes and school signs on the Tualatin Valley Highway near St. Cecilia school. This is a timely piece of work to safeguard the lives of school children in Beaverton.

Seven men composing the painting crew were on the job Monday.

Interested in Geography

Last winter Wendall Campbell bought a milk goat. The other day Campbell found his goat eating a geography which he had placed on top of a box.

Hoot Mon!

Back in Scotland a recent custom is to perform the marriage ceremony in the poultry yard—to save the rice for the chickens.

In Beaverton the old pioneer custom—a charvari—is in order—but it seems lately the boys are missing a few bets. What's the matter now—cow bells!

CORRESPONDENCE

Salem, Ore., May 8th, 1935

My dear Editor:
For such consideration as you may care to give the same, should it strike a vibrant chord with you, the following is submitted:

"Legislative-Whisky Hangover"
The Associated Press reports separating Hangovers from Whisky by a new machine recently developed and reported to the American Chemical Society by Dr. Walter J. Prodiel-nik of Chicago.

The Oregon Journal recently reported the spending of $1645 of the public's money for revising an "Oregon Legislative Hangover, the House Journal and Calendar.

It seems to have been made necessary for Speaker John Cooter and wife and Fred Drager, chief clerks to spend thirty-five days and draw $670, supervising the "Hangover."

In view of the propaganda being issued to promote another Special Session of the Legislature, would it not be possible for the taxpayers to obtain some relief by having "The General" bring into action the latest of the marvels of the machine age, the "Hangover Separating Device?"

What will the Legislative Hangover be? Why a Legislative Hangover?
Why another session of the recent legislature?

Signed,
A DELINQUENT TAXPAYER

Recreational Group Hold Final Meeting Last 1934 Hog Benefit Checks Being Paid, 200 Sign New Contracts

The Washington County recreational group held its last meeting for this season at the Hillsboro Grange Hall, Tuesday evening, May 7, according to L. E. Francis, assistant county agent. Miss Gertrude L. Skow, home demonstration agent at large, conducted the program.

Plans have been made to reconstitute this recreational program in the county next fall. A committee of five will be selected from this group and representing the various communities. The committee will be announced later.

Organizations desiring to have representatives attend these meetings should appoint a recreational committee made up of four members. This committee will attend regularly all of the instruction meetings. A number of groups are taking advantage of this type of recreational program and are finding it very satisfactory.

Schools to Split Another $44,000

Checks totalling $44,129.50 are to be mailed to Washington County's 115 school districts early next week from the office of the county superintendent as part of the periodic apportionment of elementary and county school funds.

The allotment from the elementary fund will be on the basis of $137.56 per teacher and total $27,733.75. From the county school fund will go $16,395.75 on an apportionment of 100 per district and 60c per census child capita.

The apportionment will bring the 1934-35 total for Washington county schools to $165,608.20. Segregated the allotments are $11,234.85 from the state, $97,609.93 from county and $56,763.42 from the elementary school fund.

The program will be held at the school during the forenoon. In the afternoon the class members will go to Oaks Park, Portland for an afternoon outing and conclude the days festivities with a show in the evening.

Chain Letter Craze Hits Tualatin Valley with Bang

The chain letter craze hit the Tualatin Valley this week with a bang. Dime, quarter and principally dollar letters are the topic. In a days time the letters are moving so fast that the original names are off the list entirely. It is a great get-rich plan and everyone seems to be accepting it with open arms, many have collected their profits already.

Printing Plant Robbed

The Pioneer Publishing plant at Beaverton was entered some time between Friday night and Tuesday morning of this week. Articles valued at approximately $100, including 8 border slides, space bands from the typesetting machine, metal and articles used in publishing the newspapers, were stolen from the building.
