

Henry Krause Takes Over Beaverton Bakery Sunday

The Beaverton Bakery, formerly known as Schrader's Bakery, has been purchased by Henry Krause, who took possession last Sunday. Mr. Krause has made his home just east of Beaverton for the past 10 years and is well known in this vicinity. He is a first class baker and puts out a full line of bakery goods including cakes, pies, rolls, bread, etc. A delivery system is being inaugurated by the new management.

Mr. and Mrs. Schrader have moved to Monmouth.

Consistent advertising is the manufacturer's and retailer's pledge of quality. It is visible proof that he has faith enough in his products to back it with his name—and with his money.

LOYALTY

Tag a dollar bill with this inscription "Don't spend me outside of Beaverton" and at the end of thirty days the story will read something like this.

Changed hands 100 times, traveled all over the community, was in and out of banks, invaded practically every field of industry and labor, paid taxes and many bills, . . . relieved unemployment, stimulated business . . . still going strong.

The exact figures make little or no difference but the above is what happens . . . this dollar and others like it work night and day to build.

Not every dollar can be kept in the community but those spent at home tarry longer to increase consumer demands, keep industries busy and put idle men to work.

Insist on Oregon products and buy them in Beaverton and Beaverton will solve its own unemployment problem.
