Class meetings were called Wednesday morning to impress upon the students the importance of having an annual in the school.
If turnout means anything, the first high school amateur program has been a success.

Bob Engleke was promoted to lieutenant-chief with Frank Emmons as co-worker. Ed Janssen, George Moshofski, and George Klein are present captains. Chief Engleke asked to have the pins of the men handed in in exchange for new and better pins.

Many employes in your organization will be absent from work some time during the year due to sickness or injury.
Such absences cause losses in efficiency and production that you can't escape.

But you can reduce this loss to a minimum a shave many other employes subscribing to National Hospital Association's "Full Coverage Plan"—a plan which provides sickness and accident preventative measures and medical and surgical treatment—costing the employe but a few cents a day while he works.

This plan has been in use for several years by various concerns, industrial and construction businesses find the "Full Coverage Plan" especially beneficial for orders or completion of contracts "Wait on no man."

It is especially interesting to note that the construction work on Bonneville Dam was not delayed because of illness during the severe weather of the past few weeks. Delay has been caused entirely by weather conditions not lack of normal health of workers—and it is of interest to note that all employes on this great project are protected by the full coverage plan.

National Hospital Association, 400 Mohawk Building, Portland, Oregon. Founders of the Full Coverage Plan, is at your disposal should you be interested in further investigating this plan.
