Mothers Day for All Mothers

Next Sunday is Mother's Day and millions of American children will express affection for their mothers in some tangible way.

This is a splendid idea and all of us should appreciate the opportunity it offers. Affection and love for one's own mother is the natural order of living and in some individuals has grown into a veneration for motherhood in general and is marked by increasing concern for the physical well-being of all mothers.

Mother's Day will not have achieved its purpose in our lives until we, as a people, reach this last stage. Unhappily the number of deaths that accompany motherhood in the United States every year indicates a tragic failure on your part to do all that should be done. Encouraging, however, is the sentiment that has demanded that steps be taken to assure proper safeguards for all mothers and to save the lives of many women needlessly sacrificed each year.

The individual reader of this article may think that his, or her, influence is small, but nevertheless we urge every one to take some interest in the problem. Certainly civilization has not reached a very high level when such a condition continues to exist without effective protest from children who have grown into maturity and understand the factors involved.

People who fail to mind their own business are rarely equipped to take care of other people's problems.

When you hear a citizen berating a newspaper you will find, upon investigation, that there is a reason.

Men who smile at women's clubs probably don't know the amount of serious work that the women's clubs do.

BEN DORRIS!

The development of an effective Republican party in the state of Oregon and the development of an effective representation of Oregon Republicans in the national organization are the two policies to which Ben Dorris, Lane county farmer, is pledged as a candidate for Republican national committeeman. For many years a leader in veteran organizations, Mr. Dorris is known nationally as well as at home as an aggressive and progressive speaker with a talent for organization. The Republican party in Oregon must be vitalized, says Dorris, if it is to perform its proper functions. He contends that the nation is waiting for "enlightened and progressive leadership facing all the issues of the day but facing them on principles consistent with American traditions and the American constitution."

Well Known West Union Farmer Seeks Clerk Job

William H. Dierdorff, well-known farmer of the West Union community, is the only World War veteran seeking the Republican nomination for county clerk. He served over two years in the navy and was serving aboard the U. S. S. San Diego at the time she was sunk by a mine. At the close of the war he entered Oregon State college and in 1923 took over the operation of the home place, which he has farmed ever since. Mr. Dierdorff has been active in veteran, farm and civic affairs and is qualified by training and experience for the office he seeks.

PAUL L. PATTERSON For District Attorney

The incumbent stands on his record. Lets look at that record.

DEPUTY. While there is no deputy in name the District Attorneys "clerk" is a lawyer, does legal work in the office and receives $25.00 per month more than ever paid for a stenographer before.

COSTS. Removal of the great expense of enforcing the prohibition law should have resulted in a major saving in the office.

FINES. Income in fines collected has decreased nearly 70%.

TAX SUIT. The delinquent tax suit cost the County nearly $4,000.00 according to the latest county audit and has been declared void by the court.

CONVICTIONS. Only 31 per cent of defendants actually tried in the Circuit Court have been convicted.

If elected, I will run the office without domination or dictation from anyone, will give courteous and impartial attention to all criminal complaints, maintain my own office at my own expense, and endeavor to give increased efficiency without additional cost.

Lonesome Club Furnishes Enjoyable Entertainment

The Lonesome club at Fourth and Taylor streets in Portland, has been catering to a steadily increasing clientele from month to month.

There are several reasons for this such as the fact that they have both new and old-fashioned dancing, a really congenial crowd, a wonderful orchestra under the direction of Claude Brereton and a good floor.

Of course everyone has an especially good time on special occasions such as last Friday evening when they had their May Day party but any Monday, Thursday, Friday or Saturday you may be assured of an evening full of entertainment if you go to The Lonesome club.

Whether you are young, old or middle-aged, you can be certain that a large group of happy people within your age range will be there. The entire third floor of the Civic Temple is required to handle the large crowds, but the orchestra is large and is easily heard at any point in the hall.

The crowd is of high order and the dance is well conducted, the management making a special effort to see that everyone is having a fine time and that no one is lacking for a suitable partner. On the other hand, care is taken to keep undesirable and ill-mannered persons out so that they will not cause anyone to be unhappy during the evening's entertainment.

Robert H. Kelly Candidate for Republican Nomination for County Clerk

In view of the fact that most items which have appeared recently in the Portland press relative to the Townsend movement are garbled and cut in order to work an injustice to its members running for political office, I quote the following from John H. Weir from national regional office, from his address at Forest Grove High School May 3rd:

"See that the men and women in your community get out to vote and that they vote for men that are Townsend men."

WATER means PROFITS

It takes water at the right time to keep crops growing through the dry summer months. Irrigation is paying generous profits to dairymen and farmers on more than 5000 acres in the Willamette Valley. Where pumping is necessary for irrigation, users find that the economy and convenience of electric power makes it the best method. Get all the facts about irrigation. It may mean important profits to you. Just write Oregon State College, or Peppo Farm Service Department; or consult your County Agent.

I have no promise to make that I cannot fulfill, but will make my best efforts to give tax payers the service and a square deal.
