Destruction by Taxation

Sober-thinking citizens in every walk of life are simply astounded by the proposed tax on undistributed corporation profits proposed in the new Federal revenue measure.

Whether it is a bill to raise revenue or to destroy holding companies by the taxation method, no one seems to know.

Commenting on it editorially, The New York Times, in a non-partisan, analytical article, says the bill is "nothing less than a new and quicker 'death penalty' for holding companies, not only in the public utility, but in every field."

"If we are to have such a harmful 'reform', we should at least not permit it to be made under the pretense of being something else"—namely a tax raising measure.

In the meantime business leaders and investors stand agast at the working (or lack of working) of the congressional mind.

BUY ADVERTISED GOODS

In a radio address recently a prominent man, of San Francisco, advised his hearers to purchase advertised goods, and from those who advertised them rather than buy the same article at the same price from some one who does not advertise.

"The merchant who advertises is helping to give employment to hundreds of thousands who in return help keep business going," said the speaker.

There is sound logic in his statement. It has a deeper meaning than the casual observer will perceive. In a local way it means the failure or success of a town.—Ex.

G. Russell Morgan
FOR District Attorney

I regret that my opponent has seen fit to inject into the campaign a personal attack of my record. Such attack appeared in last week's issue of the various county newspapers. Some of the statements are misleading to such extent that I do not seem to have any alternative, except to publicly correct them.

DEPUTY: I have never employed a deputy at any time to assist me in conducting the office. Prior to my term, the county paid not less than $225.00 per month for a deputy and a secretary to assist the District Attorney. My secretary is paid $100.00 per month, a direct saving of $125.00 per month. I have personally handled every case of the District Attorney's office, of which there has been almost 1000 thus far during my term.

FINES: It is well known that the decrease in income from fines has been occasioned entirely because of the repeal of the prohibition law.

TAX SUIT: The statements made by my opponent with reference to the tax suit are especially vicious and misleading. The suit has not been declared void. Only highly technical legal points pertaining to the sale of property thereunder are questioned. The same identical points are questioned in the suit in which Mr. Patterson participated when Deputy District Attorney. The county will lose nothing. On the contrary, the County has already realized more than $70,000.00 from old, delinquent taxes as a direct result of such suit.

CONVICTIONS: My opponent continues to make a percentage comparison between my record of convictions and the record of convictions of my predecessor, Mr. Tongue, who was District Attorney for over 20 years. Such a comparison is not only incorrectly stated, but is wholly unfair. If any fair comparison is to be made, it should be upon Mr. Patterson's record as against my record. Here is such record: Of the many cases tried in Circuit Court during my term, Mr. Patterson has opposed me in four of them. Three four trials have resulted in three convictions and one acquittal.

I continue to stand upon my record. I have faced every responsibility of the office to the very best of my ability. Throughout my term, I have maintained my office at the Court House where it properly belongs for the convenience of the public. During my term more than 95% of all arrests have resulted in pleas of guilty or conviction in the Courts. I have succeeded in reducing the average annual cost of maintaining the office from $2,791.00 during the preceding term to an average of $1,432.00 during my term—a saving of almost 50%.

If re-elected, I will continue to conduct all civil and criminal business of the county honestly, efficiently and economically. (Paid Adv.)
