

Canada Had Earliest Exchange in Empire

First Telephone Used by Chess Players—Service Opened in Hamilton, Ont., in 1878

The first telephone exchange in the British Empire was opened in Hamilton, Ontario, Canada, in February, 1878. The first commercial telephone exchange in the world had been placed in service only a month previous at New Haven, Conn.

It was the late Hugh C. Baker, of Hamilton, who leased the first telephone instruments in Canada and connected his home with the homes of some of his friends. The purpose was not primarily for conversation, but rather in order that this group of friends might play chess together without leaving their own firesides. It was out of this group of private lines that the first Canadian telephone system grew.

The Bell Telephone Company of Canada obtained its charter in 1880 and took over a number of operating systems, which were then using various types of switchboards. When the Western Electric Company brought out its so-called "Standard" switchboard, these were introduced into the larger towns. Later they were replaced, especially in the larger centers, by the magneto series multiple boards. In 1889, the Ottawa exchange was the first in the Dominion of Canada to have the common battery multiple switchboards, with a capacity at that time of 3600 lines. The next year a similar board was introduced in Toronto.

The National Scholastic Press association sponsored by the University of Minnesota department of journalism, conducted the contest, awarding the highest honor rating possible—All-American to the Beaver, which was in competition with yearbooks from 180 other schools all over the nation. The press association is nationally recognized as a yearbook "clinic."

Ancient Burying Ground of Family Will be Removed

One of the oldest private burying grounds, established on a donation land claim during the administration of President Grant, is to be removed to give way to the route of the Wolf Creek highway.

The burying ground is that of the Theodore Pointer and late William Bush families. It is located just west of the old Horseshoe Bend, 4 miles east of Beaverton, in the path of a viaduct which will cross the Beaverton highway.

AROUND WORLD TO BEAVERTON

Weed's National Iris Gardens have been receiving a great number of requests for their beautifully illustrated catalog from interested garden lovers residing in foreign countries. Inquiries have been received from the Philippines, China, Central Africa, Syria, Latvia, France, England, and Ireland. The most recent request came from a titled lady residing in Johannesburg, South Africa.

Mr. Weed states that he wishes he could deliver his catalogs personally to the people requesting them from foreign countries, but finds it less expensive to send them by mail.

Oregon First to Make Entry at Exposition

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 6.—Oregon's first entry for the 1934 International Live Stock Exposition, to be held here November 28 to December 5, was received today from Glenwood Farm, near Portland. They will exhibit a purebred flock of Rambouillet sheep.

According to B. H. Heide, secretary-manager of the International Live show, its 37th annual renewal will exceed all past years in the number of animals that will be shown.

Plans are being made, he says, to house over 13,000 head of horses, cattle, sheep, and swine in the new amphitheatre and pens that were built two years ago at the Chicago Stock Yards as a permanent home for this event. The prize lists will total approximately $100,000.

Considering the professional and business men from the standpoint of their usefulness to the community, it would appear that the lawyer is among the most influential and progressive citizens, for by reason of his thorough training and intimate and personal contact with business and private affairs of the citizens, the lawyers bear a close relationship to the general welfare of a community. Among the lawyers of Portland may be mentioned the name of Wm. S. Shenker, whose ability enables him to sit in the front rank with the leading barristers of the city. He is the type of lawyer whose practice has been developed along the line of strict adherence to the finest ideals.

The legal fraternity forms an imposing array of the community's leading professional figures, whose attainments for the most part rarely, if ever, come to the notice of the public. This is due to the fact that the lawyer, traditionally for his conservatism of manner in practice, conducts his affairs in the effectual, rather than spectacular manner. Such is the type of Wm. S. Shenker, who is a good and worthy citizen as well as a good lawyer and outstanding man of affairs.

Dr. Errington T. Forster

CHIROPRACTOR
1829 N. E. Alberta, Odd Fellows Bldg. Portland

Chiropractic has made a remarkable record in removing the cause of chronic diseases which have been the conspicuous failures of many methods of treatment. The most brilliant successes of chiropractic, however, are in adjusting the cause of acute diseases, for in these the recuperative powers have not been weakened by long illness and the results are generally prompt and certain.

Dr. E. T. Forster is a professional man of wide experience and if your health is not in the best condition you should visit the office and let him show you exactly where the cause of your suffering is, and explain to you just how chiropractic adjustments will remove the cause.

Bodily ailments come as a result either of a violation of nature's laws or on account of an interference with nature's ways to keep the body in perfect health. The human body is so constructed that it is unnatural and impossible for disease to creep in without a cause. The nerve system which leads to and conveys life to every remote part of the body, is designed to give perfect health to all the organs and keep them in repair. If there is the slightest interference with the nerve communication, there is bound to be disease in the particular organ supplied by the nerve so obstructed. Simple adjustments remove the obstruction and thereby remove the cause, thus permitting nature to heal.

One phase of Dr. E. T. Forster's service that you will appreciate is the effort to give you the best possible results with adjustments that result in restoring health. A trial will convince you. Every case is carefully analyzed and given close personal attention.

Miers & Bockenfeld

Cold and Common Storage

Miers and Bockenfeld Company is equipped in a manner that is distinctly modern, practical and scientific for cold and common storage. Their plant is large enough to supply the Tualatin Valley and can be depended upon at all times.

Do you know how many cubic feet of storage space this company has? How many cars of fruit they can handle in their pre-cooling plant? Investigate and learn about their plant what it means to have a company of this nature at your convenience.

Have you ever stopped to realize what it means in dollars and cents to have a business of this kind located here. Can you imagine how long fruit and produce would last if you did not have the facilities of which Miers and Bockenfeld offer.

All the above statements and many more too numerous to mention are reasons why you should patronize this company.

Through cooperation of this institution many dollars have been directed into productive channels which might otherwise have been dissipated by waste. Thus it can be seen that their plant adds to a greater prosperity in this section. So patronize them whenever you are looking for cold and common storage.

D. A. Greenberg

ATTORNEY
Yeon Bldg. Portland

The lawyer is one of the most valuable adjuncts to the community. Unquestionably as is the truth of this statement he is usually the last to receive credit for it, in the minds of the community at large. The constructive service rendered by the lawyer is unsurpassed by that of any other business or professional man. His is the duty of upholding the laws for the safeguarding of modern civilization, and it is to him that credit is due, and should be given, for a great many advantages. One of the leading lawyers of Portland is David H. Greenberg.

attributes that make up the typical, modern lawyer, of high ethical standards. The truth of this is evidenced by the large number of clients he is able to serve satisfactorily and capably, leading them safely through the tantalizing mazes of the law, in all its intricate phases. This is the type of lawyer who does a good deal more than merely conduct a practice which he finds lucrative. He performs a public duty, albeit the nature of his practice is more or less private. And in addition David H. Greenberg is one of the most public spirited citizens in Portland, so what more could he be asked of any man.

Dr. Edgar L. Roth

OPTOMETRIST
Second Floor Olds-Wortman-King
BR. 7711 Portland

He has had long experience and wide knowledge as a specialist in eye troubles. Immediate attention to these organs may save you much inconvenience and expense. His large patronage speaks for the quality of his service.

Some of us inherit eyes subject to certain defects. Others of us have taken bad care of our eyes when we were children. Any inherent weakness or any mistreatment of the eyes may cause us to need glasses. Because of the delicateness of the eyes no one should be allowed to examine and correct our vision except an expert. One error may mean a handicap for life in the way of extremely defective sight.

It should be a source of great satisfaction to the people of this community that they have conveniently located in Portland a man whose fine technical skill and long experience makes him an expert in examining for and fitting glasses. This up-to-date office is well patronized and justly so. He has spent years in making a special study of the eye and is thoroughly competent in every detail.

His reputation as an optical specialist is not limited to Portland. Persons from everywhere in this section of the state take occasion to come in and have their eyes examined with regularity. Back of the work of Doctor Roth, Optometrist, is not only his reputation and experience but his personal guarantee. His glasses must give satisfaction.

If your eyes are causing you any trouble whatsoever, the wisest move is to see him immediately. Your troubles may be only slight and capable of being corrected at once with the proper glasses. Immediate attention to such matters may save you much expense and inconvenience in later years.
