Has Interest in Gold Mine

Mrs. C. H. Fry of Portland, was visiting friends in Beaverton Wednesday. She states that her son Chas. H., Jr., has purchased an interest in a California gold mine. Operations are in progress.

BIM CATCHES RABBIT?

Frederick Koshland on account of his timber interests is stopping temporarily out on Allen avenue in order to be near to his property SW of town.

Fred has a smart dog called Bim. The other day when Fred arrived home with some packages from the grocery, Bim went down the road to meet him and began to bark for something to eat.

"No Bim, I forgot to get you a bone."

Bim disappointed but still hungry, sneaked along behind. In cutting through the orchard, up jumps a rabbit. Bim takes after him. Say how that dog did run. He seemed to realize "last chance for eats". Finally he made a big jump and caught the rabbit by the tail! In a short time he was eating fresh rabbit meat.

Mrs. M. C. McKercher spent from Monday to Wednesday in Eugene. Her son George, who had his leg broken in an auto accident two months ago, was operated on Monday and set with a temporary cast. George is quite ill and in much pain.

ISABELLE McCALLEN
Mrs. Isabelle McCallen of Portland, mother of Daniel, Arthur and William McCallen, of Beaverton, died Nov. 8 in Portland. She also was the mother of Mrs. C. H. Edmondson, Mrs. Virgil Hamlin, Portland, and Mrs. F. S. Grummons, Berkeley, Cal. Funeral services were held Tuesday, Nov. 10, at St. Cecilia church, Beaverton. Arrangements in care of W. E. Pegg Beaverton.

The Election and Business

Prosperity and Inflation Prediction of Babson

Babson Park, Mass., Nov. 13—The question on everybody's lips today is: "Does President Roosevelt's Landslide mean continued good business in the next one or two years? The vast majority would answer the question in the affirmative, of course, or the President's victory would not have been so decisive. Business men and investors, who as a group were probably 90 per cent for Governor Landon, even now are not convinced, however. Hence, it is to this group especially that this article is addressed.

EFFECTS OF OTHER ELECTIONS

During recent weeks I have been studying the effects of past elections on business. Contrary to general belief, I have found that each election has had only a minor and temporary influence upon the fundamental trend of the time. There is no reason why this election should be an exception to the basic rule: Politics do not make conditions, but rather conditions make politics. Being a business man and employer myself I do not, however, understand the anxiety of the average business man. For four years he has contended with the uncertainty of constant reforms and experiments.

Yet, I believe that many of these will prove to have been great forward strides in our social progress. If administered properly in the ensuing years, our grandchildren will find it hard to understand why there has been so much opposition toward most of the recent measures. Whatever the future may be, anti New Deal business men are now fearful that the President encouraged by his huge mandate at the polls, will launch another flood of experiments and upset the apple-cart. Of course, I am not in a position to predict what Mr. Roosevelt will do. I do feel, however, that his landslide is more bullish for business over the next few years than a narrow margin of victory or a close defeat by Governor Landon.

INFLATION SEEMS INEVITABLE

The first reason why I foresee a period of prosperity ahead is the President's gain in popular as well as electoral vote, over the 1932 figures. During the campaign, the Republicans constantly hammered on our unbalanced budget, our astronomical public expenditures, our gigantic relief outlays. Yet these issues failed to impress the average voter. It is but human for the President and his new Congress to regard Wednesday's deafening roar of approval as a mandate to continue pouring out public funds. The maintenance of spending at the current rate is temporarily bullish for it stimulates business. But in the long run, it

Walnut Thieves Busy in Western Part County

The high price of walnuts this year seems to be an alluring factor in the eyes of some one around Gaston. According to report on file with the Sheriff, George Withycombe lost 7 sacks of walnuts from his orchard; Leo Hardebeck reports the loss of three sacks, while Dr. C. E. Hawke states three sacks are gone from his store room. Joe McBurney seemed to be the easiest victim for the thieves took 8 sacks from the woodshed and 7 sacks from the orchard.

Organization Planned to Train Fire Fighters

A training program for fire fighters in Washington county will soon be organized under the direction of Lloyd Lockett of the Forest Grove Fire Department who attended the five day meeting of the Oregon Fire Instructors' Training School at Salem, October 26 to October 30.

In recognition of his work at the training school, he was awarded a certificate issued by the State Board for Vocational Education, the State Fire Marshal's office, the State Fire Chiefs' association, and the League of Oregon Cities, at a banquet which marked the close of the school.

E. A. Taylor, chief deputy fire marshal Lieutenant C. A. Warren of the state police, Chief W. F. Vanderveken, Forest Grove, and Battalion Chief Edward Boatwright, of the Portland fire department, gave lectures on special subjects during the week.

The training program is being organized on the zone school basis, which has proven to be successful in New York State and Virginia, and each of the men who attended the school at Salem will organize a series of classes in his county. Classes in most counties will be planned in connection with the county firemen's association.

Many Attend Legion Ball

The annual American Legion ball at the Tigard Union High School proved a huge success both socially and financially, according to a report from those who attended. Plans are now being made for a New Years affair to be a bigger one than last year.

Tualatin Valley Post will meet at Beaverton for its second meeting on November 19th.

Reedville Man Killed In Fog

Earl Pederson was killed almost instantly late Thursday night when struck down by an automobile operated by R. W. Kidd, Southwest Riverside drive, Portland, on the Beaverton-Hillsboro highway about one mile west of Beaverton.

The man was walking down the middle of the highway through a dense fog and was not seen until struck.

Mrs. C. A. Sissons, of Gaston, passenger in the Kidd car, stopped and was rained from the rear by a car driven by C. D. Macer, Dosch road.

Pederson, a bachelor, lived about a mile and a half south of Reedville on a three acre tract. At the time of the accident his identity was unknown but was later identified by a jewelry repair tag in his watch.

Ernest Demler of Banks was injured seriously Sunday when his automobile and a truck operated by R. E. Raymond, 1412 S. W. First ave., Portland, collided head on at North Plains, according to Sheriff Connell.

Mrs. F. H. Adams of near Hillsboro, was treated at the Jones hospital Monday night for bruises and lacerations, the result of an automobile accident on the Tualatin Valley Highway about one mile from Reedville. A truck operated by Adams and the automobile of Rev. Andrew Carrick of Portland, collided head on as the truck was about to turn onto a side road.

The Beaverton Eight Day Preaching Mission

The National Preaching Mission which has just been an outstanding religious event in Portland this past week is to come to Beaverton the week of November 15-22. It is to come in a United Preaching effort by the Congregational, Christian, Nazarene and Methodist churches. These churches are co-operating in providing buildings, special music and personal support for the Mission. It is an effort to reinforce and revitalize the individual's faith in the sufficiency of the Gospel of Christ for meeting all the needs of humanity in our present day. The schedule is announced as follows: Sunday, Nov 15 in the evening at the Congregational church the Rev. E. D. Kellogg, preaching. Monday evening, November 16, at the Nazarene Church, Rev. M. Putnam preaching. Tuesday evening, Nov. 17, at the Methodist Church Rev. Peter Clark preaching. Wednesday evening, Nov. 18, at the Christian Church, Rev. Jesse Bunch preaching. Thursday, November 19, at the Congregational Church, Rev. Earl Horsell preaching. Friday evening, November 20, at the Nazarene Church, Rev. Harper Burns preaching. Sunday evening, November 22, at the Methodist Church, preacher to be announced.

Woman Badly Shaken in Collision Wednesday

Mrs. Leslie H. Fries was badly shaken up and bruised when a car driven by her husband, Leslie H. Fries, Hillsboro route 1, collided with a truck driven by Wilfred Miller, Hillsboro, route 1 collided with a truck driven about 300 feet east of entrance to St. Mary's of the Valley Academy Armistice Day.

According to report on file the truck was on the wrong side of the road, and there was a very heavy fog.

County Grand Jury Reports

Nine Indictments Returned Late Last Saturday

The Washington County Grand Jury finished their deliberations Saturday with an inspection of county owned properties.

Nine indictments including one which was secret were returned.

Lloyd Logan, 21, of Portland, was indicted on a charge of manslaughter growing out of an automobile accident which claimed the life of Arthur Webb, 19, Hillsboro.

Max Guzik, 33, of Banks, route 1, received an indictment charged with malicious setting fire to forest lands near properties of the Sherman Mill company northwest of Hillsboro.

William Barbur and Muri Gray face the circuit judge with a charge of assault and battery growing out of a riot charge in which Napoleon Royer, 50, Tualatin, received head injuries.

Edward Katke, Portland, PWA worker was indicted with driving a vehicle while under the influence of liquor.

Joe Meek, 30, North Plains, was indicted on two counts, one of driving a vehicle while under the influence of liquor and also reckless driving which grew out of an accident involving his truck and two other cars, and in which three people were hurt in front of the Cedar Mill store.

Fred Seaton, 18, transient, arrested by Portland police Sept. 23 on the charge of writing bogus checks, two of which were in Hillsboro and two in Forest Grove averaging $10 each was Saturday sentenced to a two year penitentiary term on each of the four counts to run concurrently.

Martin Bernards, Aloha, named in six indictments by last month's grand jury, appeared in court to answer the charges, but was granted additional time, until November 16 to enter his plea.

George E. Roth wanted by San Diego police on a charge of failure to provide bond was arrested Saturday by chief of Police McGuire of Forest Grove. Roth was working on the Wilson River PWA job. John W. Allen of the Allen Surety company left Sunday morning with the prisoner.

Tuesday, William Barber and Muri Gray arraigned on indictments pleaded guilty, Barber was sentenced to 3 months in jail while Gray was given 4 months, credit for days already in custody were given.

E. G. McKinney arrested in two secret indictments of shooting a horse plead not guilty. The indictment and arrest grew out of Fay Mead, farmer, living near the Mead school in Euston District reporting that two of his horses had been shot and killed.

Social Security Blanks Being Sent by Postoffice

The Post Office Department is co-operating with the Social Security Board and on Nov. 16, 1936, the first forms will be distributed through the Post Office service. These forms will be sent to all individuals, firms, and companies who have one or more persons less than 65 years of age in its employ on Nov. 16, 1936, in any employment. There are a few exceptions to the kind of employment, such as self-employment, agricultural labor, domestic service in a private home, and state or government service.

The employers must fill out and return the form to the postmaster, either personally, by mail, or handed to the letter carrier, on or before Nov. 21, 1936. No postage is required.

Any employee served by the Beaverton Postoffice, who fails to receive a form on Nov. 16 may notify Postmaster Neta Daly, and forms will be supplied immediately.

Forms for employees will be mailed out later.

Further information may be obtained at the Beaverton Post office.

Tualatin Boy Wins Honors

Thirty-four Exhibit at Annual Corn Show

Clayton Nyberg of Tualatin won first honors in the Commercial National Bank Corn Show which was held at the Commercial National Bank, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 6 and 7, reports L. E. Francis, assistant county agent.

Other awards in the contest were as follows: Second, Stanley Hergert; third, Joe Berger; fourth, Joe Santaro; fifth, Wilbur Nyberg; sixth, Herbert Laiky; seventh, Gervaise Jansen; eighth, Warren Sahnaw; ninth, Raymond Dierckx; tenth, Marvin Heynderickx; eleventh, Elmer Wendt; twelfth, Lawrence Jansen. D. D. Hill, Professor of Farm Crops at the Oregon State College was the official judge.

Thirty-four club members exhibited at this seventh annual corn show, states Francis, and the exhibits were very good in spite of the fact that the growing season was not conducive of best quality corn.

The annual banquet at which the corn club members and leaders were guests of the officers of the bank was held at the Hillsboro Grange hall Friday night. J. L. Searcy, cashier, acted as toastmaster. Ed "Dad" Schulerich, president of the bank, extended a word of welcome to the boys and congratulated them on their sincere efforts to reach the top, which he stressed as the keynote to success. D. D. Hill, judge, was the principal speaker and discussed recent developments in the use of hybrid corn.

H. C. Seymour, state club leader, was a guest and speaker at the banquet. The feed dealers of Washington county were also guests of honor at the banquet. Each one was called upon to speak and each one commended the boys on the fine quality seed which they are turning out under their new cooperative marketing plan and pledged their support to their program as long as they maintained their high standard of quality.

Saturday afternoon at the matinee all the exhibitors were guests of O. Phelps, manager of the Venetian Theatre, Hillsboro.

The club members who exhibited and the club which they represented were as follows: Grenville Corn Club—Omer Vandehy, Frederick Plass, Francis Plass, Gerald Herb and Raymond Dierckx; Hazeldale Corn club—John Santoro, Joe Berger, Clarence Renno, Joe Santoro, Ed Setniker, Chas.
