Indian Skull, 500 Years Old, Found in New York

Rochester, N. Y. — A skull found on Baldy hill, Scottsville, at first believed to be a clue to a sixty-year-old murder mystery, has been found to be that of an Iroquois Indian woman who lived some 500 years ago.
The skull was unearthed a week ago by Eugene Hendrickson, twenty-three years old, while digging for sand on Baldy Hill in the rear of the Hendrickson farmhouse.
William A. Ritchie, assistant archeologist of the Rochester Museum of Arts and Sciences, has definitely identified the skull as that of an Iroquois woman of twenty to twenty-five years of age, dating between 1300 and 1435.
At first it was believed the skull might prove to be that of a man reported murdered sixty years ago for his gold.

S. P. Adds "Cascade" To Southern Run

Effecting substantial reduction in running times between Portland and other Oregon cities and San Francisco, a new all-Pullman "Cascade" train will be placed in service June 13 by the Southern Pacific Company, it was announced today.

One hour and 10 minutes will be cut from the Portland to San Francisco schedule according to J. A. Ormandy general passenger agent for the company. The train will leave Portland at 5:40 p. m. and reach San Francisco at 1:32 p. m. the next day. This schedule was arranged so that business men will lose only half a day on trips between Portland and San Francisco, Ormandy said. North-bound the Cascade will leave San Francisco at 5 p. m. and arrive Portland at 12:40 p. m. the following day.

Linn Farmers Attack Thistles

Albany—Canada thistles and wild morning glory are doomed to a tough summer if Linn county farmers carry out present plans of weed control, reports F. C. Mullen, county agent. More than 146 farmers have signed their intention of controlling 1454 acres of these weeds by summer fallow methods, he says. Most of this land has been entered under the agricultural conservation program, for which compensation of $5 an acre will be paid.
