Spinning Wheel Builds Biggest Bridge

ANN TOBIN

She Wins Fame in Three Days

Fame came fast to Ann Tobin. Max Arnow, Warner Bros. casting director, saw a picture of this talented "Mobil Magazine" radio actress and sent for her. Three days later she had a seven-year motion picture contract. Since last July, this attractive 21-year-old Co-ed has interpreted characters in "Mobil" dramatizations, produced on Columbia system each Thursday at 9 P. M., by 70 leading radio entertainers.

First Rhythm-Wheeling Derby

It's all the rage... rhythm wheeling on Ingo Bikes, with no pedals, gears nor chains. Aboard these bikes, many young women have planned the first derby race of 113 miles... from Los Angeles to Palm Springs, Calif. Gee, but it's sport! The unusual race is attracting widespread attention.

RHYTHM WHEELERS

Sealion Scoops Fair Ones in Race

Not to be outdone by girl rhythm wheelers—and just to show he also is a good cross-country traveler—a big handsome Sealion (dubbed "Sergeant Finnegan") clambered recently from Pudding River, Ore., and "scooped the world" by starting overland to the Willamette, three and a half miles away. But, sad and fate. Completing only half his run, he was captured. Much to his disgust, Finnegan was returned by the game commission to his Astoria haunts.

And the Moral...

"Whether you travel the rhythm way or the seaflyer way," says G. P. Olsen, Jr., General Petroleum technical instructor, "you use energy a plenty. By computing this energy in units, and comparing them with the power units of Mobilgas motor fuel, most of us would decide to stick to automobiles. They carry us many hundred miles further, without fatigue."

his health, has accepted a job on a farm near Cornelius. He formerly resided in Nebraska. Mrs. Grace Baxter and Mrs. Hyla Martin, cousins, were dinner guests December 31 of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Taylor. Mr. Baxter is from California and Mrs. Martin of Portland.

The Albertina Keer Nursery Helps Many

Located in Portland at 424 NE 22nd, East 9797

The Albertina Keer Nursery, under the leadership of Mrs. Edward C. Pape, president of the board, W. G. McClaren, General Superintendent of the Pacific Protection association and Miss Vina V. Finley, Superintendent of the Nursery has been active in welfare circles of Portland and the Pacific Coast for many years. The Albertina Keer Nursery has won a reputation as an institution which has helped many unfortunate young women.

When visiting the home one is immediately enveloped with a comfortable home-like atmosphere which predominates throughout the house. Each girl does her part of the work, in short the home buzzes with activity.

This institution has contributed much to the social welfare life of this section. Everything is entirely free and there is no charge whatever in connection with their work.

The Albertina Keer Nursery is an organization that works for "all alike" Mrs. Pape and her associates are to be commended on the fine work they are doing at the home and thru their assistance to the needy. Whatever support is given by residents of this section is indeed well merited. In our estimation there is no greater glory than to serve your fellow-men and for this reason we urge our readers to keep in mind this organization when wishing to do a good turn.

Designed for use with Oldsmobile's new 1938 center-mounted heaters, a new dual safety defroster capable of delivering approximately 43 cubic feet of warm air per minute has been introduced by Oldsmobile as an aid to winter drivers.

Oldsmobile engineers assert that the new defroster is proving almost twice as efficient as the type previously employed. This is due, they say, to the greater volume of warm air provided for defrosting and the more even distribution of its flow across the windshield.

Indicating the power of the new Oldsmobile defroster is the fact that its twin currents of warm air not only keep the windshield panes clear of ice and frost, but carry around the walls of the car to clear the side windows as well.

plied by two more hedges in addition to those already mentioned. First, if the smoldering fires of inflation blaze again, the industry should be among the best of havens for capital. Second, I see no probability of a general European war in 1938. However, with world conditions as unsettled as they are a "war proof" industry naturally is popular. Certainly, the chemical makers would be running full-blast during a war period. Hence while the business seems to be in a position to benefit from good news, it is also well-protected against disasters. This is a fourth reason why the industry and its securities are so popular with me.

Of course for these four reasons chemical stocks usually sell high in relation to their earnings. Investors are willing to pay a much bigger price for chemical shares. Moving picture stocks sell at about eight times annual earnings per share, oil at twelve times profits; while chemicals are customarily priced at twenty to thirty times earnings. With the outlook for better business later in 1938, the chemical industry will
