

Wentworth & Irwin, Inc., Has Large Used Truck Lot

Under the Management of William Steudler

Wentworth & Irwin, Inc., operates a large used truck department, where they have on display bargains in used and thoroughly reconditioned trucks, used semi-trailers, school buses and logging trailers. Here the wise buyer can find thousands of trouble free and satisfactory miles at considerably less than the original cost of a new truck.

Every used truck they sell has their guarantee and their reputation behind it. If the truck needs it, it is reconditioned and put in good running shape and sold only if it is in good all-round condition. Their guarantee has a real meaning and is the final O. K. in the used truck business. Wentworth & Irwin, Inc. realize their duty to keep faith with the public and they have followed a rigid policy of giving the most for the money—a policy of square dealing.

In this review of the progress of today we cannot fail to compliment Wentworth & Irwin, Inc. upon the part they are playing in the transportation life of the times. This used truck department is located in Portland at 123 NE Oregon street. Their phone number is EA 5157. Mr. Steudler is always ready to go to service and willing to show the quality of their trucks. Call on him today for any problem you may have in the truck field.

On Which Side of the Highway Should I Walk?

Pedestrians using rural highways where no footpaths are provided are required to walk along the left hand side of the highway, facing traffic. Many pedestrians have been killed in this state simply because they neglected to obey this simple rule.

May I walk on Paved Portion of the Highway?

There is no law which forbids your walking on the paved portion of the highway but you will be far safer if you walk on the gravelled shoulder or foot-path wherever these are available. If you do walk on the paving, be sure to use the left hand side of the highway and keep a sharp lookout for approaching traffic.

DANGEROUS

It is dangerous to sell a SUBSTITUTE for 66¢ just to make three or four cents more. Customers are your best assets. Lose them and you lose your business. 66¢ is worth three or four times as much as a SUBSTITUTE.

6. REMOVE THE UNDISTRIBUTED PROFITS TAX: Of all the legislation recently written, the Undistributed Profit Tax is probably the worst. It is ill-advised, short-sighted, and contrary to our ideals of thrift. It threatens the stability of all industry. Although it would be a temporary deflationary step, this tax should be wiped off the statutes.

7. SET ASIDE SOCIAL SECURITY FUNDS: "Contributions" to Social Security are being tossed into the federal kitty along with all other revenues. In return, the Old Age Reserve Fund is being given an L. O. U. by the Treasury. The levy, therefore, is just an excise tax on all employers and an income tax on every employee. In my opinion, the present handling of these funds is just short of public embezzlement. If workers are to receive their old-age pensions in sound dollars, these funds must be definitely ear-

New guest stickers which nonresident motorists will carry on their windshields while traveling in Oregon in 1938 have been printed and will be available for use January 1st, Secretary of State Earl Snell announced today.

The stickers, attractively reproduced in two colors, will accompany a triplicate form which not only is more economical than the former system of registration but also will speed up work both in issuing sta-marked and invested in productive enterprises, which means in other securities than government bonds; 8. CLAMP DOWN ON SPECIAL LOCAL TAXES: The sharp growth in state and city trade barriers is a dangerous tendency. It means not only discriminatory double assessments, but also the hindering of the normal flow of national commerce. Today there is a growing feeling among states that they place imposts on goods "imported" from another state. In effect, state tariffs are being erected. Chain stores, "uses" and special sales taxes, ports of entry, special truck licenses, are encouraging the growth of evil, backward sectionalism. This must be stopped.

9. LOWER REAL ESTATE TAXES: The backbone of national prosperity is the building industry. Yet, real estate bears the burden of 70 per cent of our local taxes. Municipal tax rates are rising all over the nation. Assessed valuations are almost universally too high. In spite of vast sums poured into local coffers by Washington in the last five years, few communities have made economies or taken up slack. Real estate levies and high construction costs are choking building. Municipal expenses must be cut so that both valuations and tax rates can be slashed.

10. CUT PUBLIC SPENDING: Most important of all we need a courageous about-face in public fiscal policies. Current false notions that the "government" has unlimited reservoir of cash at its disposal must be banished. Remember that "A dollar saved is a dollar earned." Economy NOW is vital to our future. Public income must be boosted and public outgo must be scuttled, until all budgets are balanced. Unless public spending is reduced, I do not see how we can avoid ultimate inflation!

Readers will note that I have recommended only three tax increases. The problem of government agencies today, however, is how to get more income,—not less. I believe that the above changes will stimulate business in the next few years, however, that the national income will be greater and the resultant tax returns larger. Nevertheless, these proposals are simply necessary patchwork on a ragged and badly-planned system. Our real need is to throw our present methods into the ash-can and build anew.

Among the bad features of our present tax set-up is the high cost of collection. Some corporations pay taxes to as many as 7,000 separate public agencies each year! Enormous accounting staffs are necessary to handle tax reports; tax advising has become a major business. All this should be cut out. After giving the subject much thought, I have come to the conclusion that a general federal sales tax is the inevitable solution. In my opinion, this plus a limited real estate tax and an altered income tax, is the soundest plan. We should have only three separate revenue taxes—all others should be abolished!

GARDEN HOME

Mrs. F. M. Becvar suffered considerably with a severe cold over last week and but has improved.

The Garden Home Athletic club held their regular business meeting Tuesday January 4th at the school gym and through the membership drive secured 31 new members. This club is self paying and has no sponsors. H. A. Tetrick of the Garden Home barber shop is treasurer of the club.

The Garden Home P. T. A. meets at the school house this Friday, the 14th. Mrs. Dorothy Burns is president of the local PTA.

Leon McManis who is a teacher in electricity and elementary grades under WPA at Camp Reehers near Timber, Oregon, was at home over the week end. He lives a short distance from the church.

Dr. Pheba J. Collman has been having an addition built to the west side of her house in Garden Home, the work being done by local builders. Dr. Collman has an office in Portland.

A Lewellyn of Portland, with U. S. Bureau of Public Roads has been having a modern six room story and a half house built in east Garden Home, with C. C. Friedeman of route 8, box 1093, located at SW 25th and Taylor's Ferry road in charge, being a contractor who has built in Portland over a 12 year period. Lew Marcott did the plastering job. The entire structure is of beautiful design, having a very good exterior appearance even though there is yet considerable work to do. The rooms of this house are spacious and convenient. They have installed a good heating system, they have a good full basement, with provision for plenty of daylight. A double garage has been provided on the place and it is expected the house will be ready for occupancy about February 15th.

Otto Koster of East Garden Home who went to Hanover, Germany, two months ago upon word of the serious illness of his mother, Mrs. C. Keester, arriving there only a short time before she passed away is expected home in about two weeks. Keester came here from Germany about 15 years ago and this has been his first trip to the old country since. His family anxiously await his return. His parents were planning on celebrating their golden wedding anniversary this year.

Garden Home has another musician in their midst in the person of Ben F. Kouba, who with Mrs. Kouba moved to the Fisher place along Garden Home road east of the post-office a month ago from Portland. He has a position in the distribution department of the Portland Gas & Coke Co. and leased this little place with the option of purchase. He is a graduate of the COE College of Cedar Rapids, Iowa and plays clarinet and saxophone very well. He used to travel with the Kryl Concert band in the east and midwest.

Mrs. E. Mitchell whose home is along Garden Home road, east of the postoffice who raises canaries, has some very fine birds at her home now and has over a period of 12 years done remarkably well with them but for health reasons will not raise as many this year as usual. What is remarkable is that she has three black cats that are trained to leave birds alone and has demonstrated that not one of her cats will harm a bird, claiming it's all in the training, proper feeding included.

E. Mitchell suffered a badly hurt leg Monday of last week when a piece of steel flew from the sledge hammer he was using, tearing a gash in the leg, injuring the bone. He has been constantly under the care of a physician since. He has for many years been employed as a street car man in Portland.

The Ladies Aid of the Garden Home Community church met at the home of Mrs. Ralph Huffaker north of the school house Thursday January 6th and about 40 were present. Mrs. H. Hellester is president. Mrs. Harry Rands, secretary, and Mrs. May is treasurer of the society. Their next meeting will be held February 3rd.

The policy of including the cost of standard equipment in advertised prices of Ford V-8 passenger cars and trucks has just been adopted by the Ford Motor Company according to the local Ford dealer.

All prices now quoted in newspaper advertising, it was announced, are for cars equipped ready for the road. Formerly items now included as standard equipment were classified as accessories and an extra charge made for them.

By quoting prices including all accessories that the average motorist wants and needs for safe driving, it is felt that insofar as Ford V-8 cars and trucks are concerned the public will be able to know in advance the total delivered price.

Dogs Ahead of Us

Dogs probably wagged friendly tails or barked at the first American settlers who landed on both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, because, although cattle, horses and other domestic animals were introduced to this continent from Europe, the dog was here ahead of us, comfortably established in many a tepee, asserts a writer in the Washington Star. Dogs owned by the Indians were about the size of a small collie, were usually white and had long coats. They have virtually disappeared, and the Mexican hairless and chihuahua are the only so-called native dogs in existence, although they, too, may have been imported. All other dogs known as American have been produced from experiments with breeds not native to this continent.
