FARMERS OBJECT TO WAGNER ACT

Thousands of farmers by petition and letter are urging the repeal or amendment of the Wagner Labor Relations Act "to give agriculture a fair deal" says the American Agriculturist. This seems strange indeed, coming from a large part of the American population supposed to be exempt from the act. It presents the paradox of exempt farmers being involved as well as labor and industry.

The American Agriculturist goes on to say that "Not only are labor and industry involved in this unfair Wagner Labor Act, but farmers are just as much concerned as anyone else. Agriculture is supposed to be exempt under the law but in practice this exemption means nothing. Thousands of farmers and their organizations all over America are up in arms over this unfair Act, demanding that it be repealed or amended to give agriculture a fair deal."

"American Agriculturist is in receipt of thousands of signed petitions and letters, showing that northeast farmers are almost unanimous in their opposition to the Act as it is being administered by the Labor Relations Board."

Wheelock. This lawyer is well known here, and is universally liked and respected.

His practice is of general nature and both his business methods, and the man himself is well worth these few lines of praise in this review edition.

The history of our country from the beginning shows that many of the keenest minds of every generation have been attracted to the legal profession. This is perhaps, a natural condition since in that field exists the greatest opportunity for the exercise of intelligence and talents to service of mankind. Whatever may be the chief factor contributing to this condition it is an established fact that in mentioning the names of a given number of people who are entitled to classification as the most useful citizens of this community, the members of the legal fraternity loom large.

Among the members of the local bar who by their achievements are entitled to more than ordinary recognition is A. E. Wheelock, one of the prominent attorneys of Portland.

Oregon Motor Stages Offer Satisfactory Transportation

Probably no feature of the advancement of commercial and social conditions in the United States so clearly demonstrate actual progress as the improvements made in transportation facilities. From the days of the old stage coach to the modern motor bus is a long jump but America has made it in a few years and today every progressive community provides excellent motor bus service.

The Oregon Motor Stages operates one of the most popular of the bus lines in the country and has left nothing undone in their effort to provide a service that is both modern and satisfactory. They maintain a regular schedule between the points on their line and their busses leave and arrive at the various points at stated and regular intervals. You can always depend upon their busses being on time and they are operated so frequently that you can ride at your own convenience. The busses themselves are modern motor transportation vehicles especially designed to meet the requirements of this company and its passengers. They are large and roomy, well ventilated at all times. They are equipped, to render your ride a smooth and comfortable one and the drivers are both careful and courteous.

There is no more satisfactory means of transportation than that of the modern coach type this company conducts where the policy of courtesy and service is maintained.

Their motor coaches are not only modern but are also clean and sanitary and their employees are at all times pleasant and accommodating to the traveling public.

Everyone in the vicinity should occasionally take a trip over some part of the line and see the wonderful development and how the territory they traverse is being built up. Real estate has become more valuable all along the line by reason of their service.

In this business review we wish to compliment the Oregon Motor Stages and suggest to our readers that a good way to promote the further progress and expansion of the community is to patronize this bus line whenever traveling—whether for pleasure or business. Telephone BR. 2304 for information.
