A PROMPT REPLY NEEDED

Testimony before the Senate Committee considering proposed amendments to the Wagner Labor Relations Act has raised several points on which light should be thrown in the public interest.

Here are the points as presented in the testimony: "The Board claims it is not infringing the right of free speech. If this is true, the Board should not object to a clear provision in the Act preserving the right against possibility of abuse by future boards."

"The Board says it has no prejudice against independent unions, unaffiliated with the CIO or the A F of L. If this is true, it should not object to the amendment by Senator Ellender, which, under the circumstances, is merely declaratory."

"If the Board does not in any way discriminate against men because they have exercised their right to remain unaffiliated with unions, there should be no objection to stating the right to join or not to join, as does the Norris-LaGuardia Act."

"If the Board is complying with fair rules of procedure, fairly applied, in conducting investigations and hearings, and holding elections, it should not object to having those rules laid down for the guidance of all concerned, including future boards."

"If the Board accepts fully the decisions of the Supreme Court in the Fansteel and Columbian cases, it should, in the interest of labor, prefer to see the rule of those decisions written into the Act, so that future boards may not give them an unwarranted interpretation."

What will the Board answer to these valid questions?

There's at Least One Practical Time to Think Of the Other Fellow

No, I'm not thinking of Christmas! But there is one time when, by thinking of the other fellow, you can be playing Santa Claus to yourself.

That applies particularly to automobile insurance. No one ever causes an accident. Oh, no! It's always the other fellow's fault. But, what's the difference? In either case you lose, if you haven't complete coverage.

It's his fault, and he is not completely covered, you generally have a sweet time collecting damage money. And if it was your fault, you are BOTH as bad off.

That reminds us of a firm over at East Burnside and Eleventh avenue, that you probably have heard about. It's the RISLEY FINANCE CO. For many years this well known Finance Company have catered to the needs of car owners—many of their satisfied clients being friends of yours, right here in the Valley—for Auto Financing, Auto Loans or Auto Insurance. They've built up a big business through real service.

So, if this little talk with you has convinced you that you need more Auto Insurance protection—if you need financing on a car—or need a loan on your car—your editor feels that this space has not been wasted; and that if you put your problems in the hands of the RISLEY FINANCE CO. you will thank us for recommending this firm.

Hard Corns on Fowls

Hard corns may be seen upon the feet of many old fowls without appearing to cause the bird any inconvenience. When abscesses form through infection, however, the condition may be more serious.

The commonly advised curative measure, says the Rural New-Yorker, is to open the abscess freely, flush out the cavity with some simple disinfectant, and place the affected bird upon soft, clean litter. Joint abscesses may be caused by tubercular infection of the joint, when no treatment is indicated except to get rid of the possible carrier of the infection to healthy fowls.

When Your Ears Burn

The popular superstition that when your ears burn somebody is talking about you was first mentioned by the ancient Roman writer, Pliny, who remarked on it as being universally believed by the people. The superstition today says that if the right ear tingles someone is speaking well of you, but if the left ear evil, says London Tit-Bits magazine. In everyday life it is quite usual for a person when rebuked to blush. So if you are being criticized in your absence you will know it by the burning of your ears.

ALAS, POOR YORICK!

Now that six years of vast expansion of the credit of the Federal Government and the piling up of a record national debt have failed to bring business recovery, the president of the United States has nothing more to offer except more borrowing and increased public spending.

And now when the net result of six years of dallying with the problem of unemployment is that approximately 11,000,000 persons are still without jobs, the President of the United States has nothing to suggest except to carry on the W.P.A. "much as at present."

But once there was a man in public life who realized the danger of unlimited credit and reckless spending. On March 4, 1933, he said, with fine contempt for apostles of further credit expansion:

"Faced by failure of credit, they have proposed only the lending of more money. Stripped of the lure of profit by which to induce our people to follow their false leadership, they have resorted to exhortations, pleading tearfully for restored confidence. . . . They have no vision, and where there is no vision the people perish!"

And back in 1933, this same public figure thoroughly understood that the only real way to help the jobless was to make it possible for the jobless to help themselves. Again, on March 4, 1933, he said:

"Happiness lies not in the mere possession of money; it lies in the joy of achievement, in the thrill of creative effort. . . . These dark days will be worth all they cost us if they teach us that our true destiny is not to be ministered unto but to minister to ourselves and to our fellow men."

If you haven't already guessed, the man who spoke such words of wisdom was Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

Alas, poor Yorick! We knew him well.

Hillsboro Man Re-elected Independent's Head

Members of the Oregon Independent Telephone association Monday afternoon concluded their annual convention at the Portland hotel with the re-election of Charles E. Wells, Hillsboro, as president, and decision to hold their 1940 convention jointly with the Washington Independent association at Hood River.

Other officers, all re-elected, include Leslie A. Gritten, Forest Grove secretary-treasurer, and directors, Lowell Brown, Silverton; F. M. Ferguson, Aurora; C. H. Miller, Dufur; George Muhle, Hood River, and W. A. Schaefer, Portland. Two new members named to the board of directors were T. J. Wells, Redmond, and J. W. Kirby, Klamath Falls.

Louis Pitcher, Chicago executive, vice-president of the United States Independent Telephone association, warned the convention that application of the federal wage-hour act to the small telephone exchanges would put the little companies out of business.

The program included talks by E. C. Russell, accountant, and J. T. Naylor engineer, both of the public utilities office, Salem; W. H. Nunn, traffic engineer, and Joseph Wimmer, technical man both of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company; John D. Simon, Portland advertising man, and a welcome by Mayor Joseph K. Carson.

Ormond E. Bean state public utilities commissioner, was speaker at a banquet concluding the session.

The association represents approximately 90 independent companies operating 152 central offices in Oregon with a total of 41,900 telephones.

OREGON 4-H'ERS VISIT WASHINGTON AND RADIO CITY

OREGON 4-H Club work continues to go places under the leadership of the state extension service. Representatives of the Willakenzie Wide-Awake Club of Eugene are shown here receiving a send-off from State Leader H. C. Seymour and friends on their departure via Southern Pacific's Oregonian for a cross country educational trip including Washington, D. C., and the National 4-H Club Camp, and Radio City, New York, where the party will be guests of Radio Corporation of America. The three weeks jaunt is provided by the company as the award in the 1938 national social progress program in which the club of 21 boys and girls won national honors. Top and center are club members Helen Michael and Marjorie Jensen and at the right is local leader Mrs. Edna Michael. They went by way of New Orleans and return through Chicago, visiting the two world's fairs enroute.

Lone Oak Nursery Fruit, Nut, and Shade Trees

This well-known and highly efficient Nursery which is located at 633 NE Union Ave., in Portland, is offering the public the choice of Nature's Best in Trees, Shrubs, Vines and Plants. They give expert service at all times.

We are desirous of bringing to the attention of our readers the advantages and opportunities that are offered by local business men and industries. In our attempt it would be unjust to overlook the Lone Oak Nursery because of the important part it is playing in the development of this community.

To conduct a successful nursery requires experience capital and sufficient acreage to propagate the various nursery products. They have given the business very careful study and keep themselves constantly posted as to what is best for the territory they serve and what will grow best in our climate and soils.

They offer all kinds of trees, shrubs plants and vines and those of our readers who are in need of this service should have no reluctance in calling on them for they are prepared to render complete service.

The fact that they are so close is another reason why local people should avail themselves of the opportunity to purchase from them. Whatever you order or buy from them must be right and you get exactly what you order and you have the advantage of whatever personal advice and information they can give you.

We want to compliment them and urge our readers to bear this nursery in mind, for we feel sure the service will be satisfactory in every detail. For further information they can be reached by telephoning EA. 3024.

Christian Science Churches

"Sacrament" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 9. The Golden Text is "Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me" (Ps. 51:10).

Among the citations which will comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And as they were eating, Jesus took bread, and blessed it, and brake it, and gave it to the disciples, and said, Take, eat: this is my body. And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of it." (Matt. 26:26, 27).

The Lesson-Sermon will also include the following correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The true sense is spiritually lost, if the sacrament is confined to the use of bread and wine. . . . His followers, sorrowful and silent, anticipating the hour of their Master's betrayal, partook of the heavenly manna, which of old had fed in the wilderness the persecuted followers of Truth. Their bread indeed came down from heaven. It was the great truth of spiritual being, healing the sick and casting out error. Their Master had explained it all before, and now this bread was feeding and sustaining them." (pp. 32,33).

Refuse Dumpers to Face Trouble for Acts in Future

It is up to every citizen in every worthwhile community to co-operate in keeping highways and country roads clean and territory along them free of tin cans garbage and other unsightly, unhealthy refuse and those guilty of depositing the stuff along these roads and highways are to face plenty punishment . . . as much as the law will allow, for any such acts in the future as there is to be a state-wide campaign against dumping anything along highways and side roads.

If you as a citizen find any man or woman dumping refuse along a highway, it is suggested you get the car license number, learn make of car and all you can, and the location refuse was being dumped. If there is more than one person committing the offense take note of it. If you can learn the name of the offender do so. Turn this information over to the sheriff of your county and there is no doubt such good work on your part will be appreciated by not only the officers but by the public.

Stallions Should Be Given The Best Feed Rations

The choicest, soundest feeds should be reserved for a valuable sire. Main reliance will be placed on oats, bran, and light-mixed clover and timothy or timothy hay. A few ears of corn are of benefit to a stallion that is inclined to keep thin. Clean pasture grass during the season and carrots when grass is not available are valuable aids in promoting health.

The heavily used stallion requires as much feed as a hard-worked horse. A healthy, vigorous, muscular condition is greatly to be preferred to a soft, flabby, overdone condition. A stallion that loses weight rapidly during the breeding season is not likely to be a sure breeder. It is preferable, if possible, to start the season with the stallion in a lean condition and increase his weight a little during the season. The extreme fitting to which some stallions are subjected in being prepared for the show-ring has sometimes been a detriment to their future value as sires.

Farm Population

Farms continue to be the chief sources of increased population in the United States. More than 719,000 babies were born on farms during 1937, and 341,000 of the farm population died. This leaves a net increase of 378,000 persons. In addition to this number, 238,000 more people moved from farms to town than those that moved in the other direction. The net increase in farm population in 1937 was, therefore, 20,000 persons.

Household Hints

By BETTY WELLS

ONCE upon a time in London, we visited the home of Mrs. Belloc Lounder, the English novelist, whom Alexander Woolcott once described as Queen Victoria with a French accent. And it was her French ancestry that Mrs. Lounder credited with her affection for a big bedroom, where a lady could write and rest, have tea or just sit and ruminate.

We sense a trend toward bigger bedrooms in the American scene . . . after all the "master bedroom" indicated in all plans for the newer houses is quite a spacious room. And pleasantly this room is assuming a feeling of rural leisure in its furnishings. Braided rugs and flowered walls, the addition of desk, chaise longue and fireplace give a gracious ease to such a room—make the space serve as secondary sitting room, morning room or study.

Another French influence on current bedroom styles is the prevalence of upholstered beds. Not the formal types that probably come to mind when the subject comes up—the upholstered beds we mean are unpretentious and provincial in mood, and often they're covered in chintz cretonne, saten or twill. Watch also for them in pastel leathers and leatherettes. Two bedrooms in Lily Pons' country cottage have upholstered beds—her own bed is covered with quilted blue chintz. Another room has twin beds upholstered in gray-and-yellow flowered chintz. Consider this idea when you are refurbishing because the new upholstered beds aren't out-of-sight in cost.
