

Beaverton Masonic-Eastern Star Joint Installation Held Wednesday

The annual potluck dinner and joint installation of the officers of Beaver lodge No. 100 A. F. & A. M. and Beaver chapter No. 106 O. E. S. were held in the new Masonic Temple in Beaverton Wednesday night, December 27th.

H. A. Neilsen was the installing master for the Masons assisted by W. H. Grauer, marshal, and Melvin Beeler, pianist.

Following the singing of America the following officers were installed: Edgar Lusby, worshipful master; Raymond Lacy, senior warden; Ed. Ward Taggart, junior warden; A. M. Kennedy, treasurer; Roy Berst, secretary; Harry Eliander, senior deacon; Chas. Scott, junior deacon; Samuel B. Lawrence, chaplain; Chas. Dawes, senior steward; Benjamin Shelles junior steward; Albert Shipper, marshal; Francis McGeorge, Tyler.

At an intermission during the installation, Maxine Lusby gave two readings: "Red Head" and "My Dad". Roberta Whitley sang "By the Bend of the River" and "Homings" accompanied by Maxine Cady.

Following the Masonic installation talks were given by various new officers and Arthur Bowen, district deputy grand master. Maxine Lusby presented her father with a gavel from his two nieces and herself.

Installing officers for the Eastern Star were Dora E. Stipe, worthy grand matron; Ben H. Nichols, worthy grand patron; Marion Talbert, grand marshal; Robert Scott, color bearer; Emma Gerish, chaplain; and Mary Fulton, grand organist, assisted by Evelyn Hetu, marshal, and Myrtle Felsner, organist.

Officers installed were: Madge Eliander, worthy matron; Harry Eliander, worthy patron; Minnie Schoene, associate matron; Emil Hedburg, associate patron; Stella Ellis, conductress; Mabel Goyt, associate conductress; Myrtle P. Nelson, secretary; Ethel Hanson, treasurer; Alice Scott, chaplain; Evelyn Hetu, marshal; Edna Wieher, organist; Irene Barnes, Ada; Geraldine Connors, Ruth; Pearl Brownrigg, Esther; Louise McGeorge, Martha; Pearl Myers, Electa; Gertrude Hedburg, warden; and Virgil Myers, sentinel. May Blasser was appointed Lady of Lights.

A colorful degree was conferred upon the star points by the degree guides and courtesy girls.

Harold Eliander Jr., played two numbers on his clarinet "Star of the East," and "Sparklet" accompanied by Prof. Swenson. Professor Swenson also played "Bells of St. Mary's" as a compliment to the worthy grand patron.

Little Phyllis McGeorge and Carol Ann Peterson acted as flower girls, assisted by Paul Lusby as page, under the direction of Mable Alexander and Beatrice Peterson.

This installation ceremony was attended by a large group of members and their families and friends, many of whom were from out of town.

MAPLEWOOD NEWS

The Maplewood P. T. A. gave their Christmas party Friday evening. There was a large group out and a splendid time was had by all.

Mr. Baldwin's room received the book for the largest attendance. A keen interest is shown by all the school children. Each room is anxious to add new books to their library. The Christmas operetta was given Thursday, December 21, in the school auditorium. All the children in the school participated.
