TIGARD

Merle Pennington of Tualatin, member of Winona Grange, has been elected president of the Washington county young grangers.

The Tigard grade and high schools opened formally Tuesday, Jan. 2nd, after an eventful Christmas vacation. Nearly all of the local students of Oregon State college and University of Oregon were here to spend the holidays at their homes, among them being Donald Beckham, Rex Jewel Bilyeu, Stanley Jensen, Dewey Talant, Ben Gerlach and Walter Wood.

Mildred Wall has returned to her work after spending the Christmas holiday at home.

There was a delightful New Year service at the Tigard Methodist church Sunday evening, the sermon by Rev. J. R. Jeffery.

Business at Lone Oak Barbecue over the holidays was very good. The new proprietors, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Strasser, have made many improvements and now put up some wonderful meals at easy prices.

It was back in 1909 that H. B. Tigard started in the general store business here, in a two story building he erected mostly by himself. He has done a very thrifty business of these years, just about thirty of them, with a few downs along with the ups, and still is housed in the same building which is still pretty good.

Mr. Tigard handles about everything a good general store should carry. A man can get a mighty nice pair gloves for winter driving, buy an ax or ax handle, pitch fork, kerosene lamp, wash tub, barn broom, beautiful neckties and handkerchiefs, whatever kitchenware the wife needs or anything needed in foods the wife might order. You men and women, just try this pioneer store for high quality goods AT LOW PRICES.

F. J. Twiss, plumber, has been doing a thrifty business ever since starting in here in 1933. During 1939, he did remarkably well and this new year likely will be even better. Prior to coming here he and family lived along Capitol Highway Multnomah and he worked in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Woodard and daughter Eleanor comprise the staff at Ed's Inn. Mr. Woodard started in here in 1935, operating the lunch room and confectionery, but the family have lived in Tigard, in the largest house on Walnut avenue, 12 years. Mr. Woodard formerly was with a large lumber company as a production manager. In 1936 he became authorized liquor agent for the state and has managed the local liquor store with efficiency and strict orderliness. Miss Eleanor has taken quite an active part in the lunch department since early last year and it's in order to say that she sure makes up nice lunches.

George L. Germeyer, of Tigard Electric, has done exceedingly well here since opening the store. He is a contractor and does complete house wiring jobs. Prior to coming here, he wired some of the important and well known business blocks of Portland.

Mrs. F. L. Strasser, in charge of the confectionery, known several years as Sackett's confectionery, is doing well with those wonderful 25c meals of home cooked foods. She is planning on business expansion.

Ike Katel, automobile maintenance man of the Ariss Service, has been finding it necessary to work close to two full shifts per day to keep up with the increase in mechanical work, as well as auto painting work. If your car won't act right, let Ike look 'er over. Whatever little thing that's wrong will soon be corrected.

Harrison F. Kanneck and son Duane of near Davenport, Iowa, while in western Oregon to spend the holidays with friends near Rickreaf, stopped in Tigard enroute to Portland from the home of their friends Friday of last week. They had been here four years ago and were then favorably impressed with growth and development of the Tigard area and noted the many improvements, new homes and new business houses since their former trip west. They intimate this vicinity will be the location of their new home in the not far distant future.

H. H. Blaine and F. L. Mortensen of Minnesota, who spent Christmas with relatives near Newberg, called on old acquaintances here Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weller spent Christmas at Bend with Mrs. Weller's parents and relatives of Mr. Weller. The Lions club of Tigard will hold a joint meeting with the Beaverton Kiwanis club next Monday evening and Sheriff J. W. Connell of Washington County, has charge of the program.

Postmaster J. C. Bilyeu says that the December business in 1939 exceeded the December business of 1938 over $100 in postage, registries, etc. He anticipates a gradual gain in 1940 over 1939 but looks for a noteworthy increase in 1941. He feels certain that there will be such a growth in general business this year and so many more people move into the district that 1941 will set a record to be proud of.

Mrs. Addie Thebodeaux of Stayton spent the holidays with her sons Arthur and George Thebodeaux near Metzger. She formerly lived at Seaside.

Fred Sittel & Son, florists of Metzger have made many improvements at the home place over the last 12 months, including new equipment. They produce extra fine floral goods and have a floral store in the big public market in Portland.

ALOHA NEWS

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hays over Christmas were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wright and daughter Delores of Beaverton, Mrs. Alice Johnson of Portland, Mrs. Hazel Gee and son Fred and daughter Chloa.
