THE Poet's Corner

—BY—
OWAIN—The Bard

FATE

Two shall be born,
The whole wide world
Apart,
And speak in different
Tongues
And have no thought
Each of the other's
Being, and no heed.
And those o'er unknown
Seas, to unknown lands
Shall cross,
Escaping wreck,
Defying death;
And all unconsciously
Shape every act
And bend
Each wandering step
To this one end—
That, one day, out of
Darkness, they shall meet
And read life's meaning
In each other's eyes.
And two shall walk
Some narrow way of life
So nearly side by side
That, should one turn
Ever so little space
To left or right,
They needs must stand
Acknowledged,
Face to face.
And yet, with wistful
Eyes that never meet,
And groping hands
That never clasp,
And lips calling in vain
To ears that never hear;
They seek each other
All their weary days
And die, unsatisfied—
And this is fate.

The puzzled Census Taker

"Got any boys?"

The marshal said

To a lady

From over the Rhine;

And the lady

Shook her flaxen head,

And civilly answered,

"Nein!"

"Got any girls?"

The marshal said

To the lady

From over the Rhine;

And again the lady

Shook her head,

And civilly answered,

"Nein!"

"The devil you have!"

The marshal said

To the lady

From over the Rhine;

And again she shook

Her flaxen head

And civilly answered,

"Nein!"

"Now what do you mean

By shaking your head

And always answering

"Nein?"

"Ich kann nicht Englisch!"

Civilly said the lady

From over the Rhine.

The Arrow and the Song

I shot an arrow

Into the air,

It fell to earth,

I know not where;

For, so swiftly it flew

The sight could not

Follow it in its flight,

I breathed a song

Into the air,

It fell to earth,

I know not where;

For who has sight

So keen and strong

That it can follow
