

WASHINGTON COUNTY CLUB MEMBERS PLAN WORK
To date 110 4-H club members in Washington county comprising eleven clubs are busily engaged in their program of work for the 1940-41 season. Leading in the number of enrollments is the woodworking project in which there are five clubs organized to date reports Palmer Torvond, assistant county agent. The organizing of these clubs early in the year is proving to be a good plan as it gives the club members and leaders a better opportunity to complete their work during the winter months and, in the case of livestock projects, gives a more complete record when the project is carried throughout the year.

There are also three forestry clubs organized, two dairy clubs, a rabbit club and a builders club. Several clubs are planning to get their organization officially started in the near future. Following is a list of clubs and leaders already organized. Woodworking project—North Plains, Mrs. N. B. Allyn leader; Cherry Grove, Ellen Nyberg leader; Cooper Mt., A. T. Cavaness, leader; Hiteon, Wilbur Crocker leader Glenwood, T.

E. Crocker leader. The forestry clubs include those led by Austin Scrafford, Timber; Mrs. Effie Pearson, Arcadia; and Mrs. P. B. Bleakman, Beaverton. The dairy clubs are in the Hill and Dale and West

Union communities and are led by Stanley Hergert and Silas Bechen. Hergert is also the leader of the rabbit club. M. M. Romig is leader of the builders club in the Rawleigh school.

BEAUTIFUL AND SMART

A complete departure from former methods of permanent waving is the new remote control machine. It calls for just two minutes of steaming of the hair . . . and your hair is treated much kinder. This faster, more successful, and undine system of permanent waving leaves the hair with a more natural look. See SYLVIA'S PERMANENT WAVE SHOP for this new device. . . you'll also be assured of a skilled operator. Call BE. 0337. 2117 W. Burnside, Portland.
