AMERICANISM

Americanism is love of country, loyalty to its institutions and ideals, eagerness to defend it against all enemies, undivided allegiance to the flag, and a desire to secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and posterity.

bushed then. It was not only his business but his feet as well. I kept thinking about the ten dollars that didn't belong to me and I decided that there was no use giving it back to the drunken foreman, for he'd just spend it for more liquor, so I took it home and put it away, waiting and hoping that sometime I would find some reliable member of the Southern Pacific to give it to. For, of course, it belonged to the S. P. The foreman was just turning in extra time for us and then borrowing part of it back so that he was making not only his own salary, but a hundred dollars or so a month extra. He couldn't have done it if we had worked every day, but that we didn't do. I guess he saw that that part of it. Two years passed and John no longer worked for the railroad company. He quit soon after the loan incident, for it was not his liking to be mixed up in any such business. How long the foreman was able to carry out his unscrupulous plan with the other workers, John doesn't know. But one day he learned the name and address of a Southern Pacific official in Portland. Now, he thought, was a good time to unburden himself of that pesky ten spot that was still a load on his conscience. So he wrote a short letter to the official, explaining that he was enclosing ten dollars that belonged to the S. P., stuck letter and ten dollar bill in an envelope and mailed it. He never bothered to tell how he came by the money—He was not one to get another in trouble.

But that was the final chapter in the crooked loan. John never heard a word from the official. He doesn't know what the man did with the ten spot. "He might have stuck it in his own pocket, for all I know, but at least my conscience was clear. I had done my best to get the money back where it belonged. One day I learned that the foreman had been discharged. I asked why they had let him go. Oh, somebody said, he drank too much and wasn't dependable anymore. Whether they ever found out about his get-rich-quick scheme, I don't know."

Section foremen seemed to be a special nemesis for the early Hillsdale section. They had another one, a family man this time, and though he wasn't a drinking man, what vice he lacked along this line he made up by his belligerent attitude towards those that crossed him. Diphtheria broke out and the foreman's daughter, a school girl, contracted the malady and died. Immediately he went on a rampage, blaming the members of the school board for his daughter's death. They should have closed the

A New Home In Three Weeks

During the past few months a distinct shortage in family dwellings has developed in our communities. This shortage will increase as shipbuilders, mechanics and other workmen move into this territory to operate the new industries brought on by the National Emergency.

Now, more than ever, one should purchase his own home so that he may save the increased rental already being felt. Also there is the pleasure in owning one's own home which is as important as the saving derived.

The period of higher rentals will last at least five years and when the emergency ends a distinct increase in population will undoubtedly remain. For these reasons building an investment is particularly attractive now.

All of the above facts bring to mind the thought that shortage of mechanics in the building line may result in rise in building costs together with slow down of building completion to the point where expected profits or savings will be nullified.

Page-Coghlan Construction Company, 3445 NE Broadway in Portland, by a unique building plan including prefabrication of detail portions of the home, offers to complete a five-room modern home on your property in approximately three weeks. To see a five room house rise on a vacant lot in a matter of three weeks sounds amazing, but Page-Coghlan Construction company shows that it can be done.

school, he said. "There was none of the disease in the school or among the school families." Raz said. "We found out that the foreman had been going about, calling at the homes where someone was suffering from the disease and took it home himself. "But you couldn't tell him anything. He met me one day and told me to look out for myself. That he would kill me if he ever caught me alone. I think he told the other board members the same thing. It was a very ticklish situation. He was such a wild ferocious sort of fellow that you never knew but what he might carry out his threat. But happily the situation was solved when the company suddenly transferred him to another location."

The Raz brothers, John, Henry and Melchior (Mike) are all in their seventies today, the old timers of the Hillsdale sector. There are many descendants living about the countryside; one section is referred to as Raz Hill. With thrift characteristic of the Swiss, the three brothers pooled their early capital and in '89 bought a herd of 22 cows. Shortly afterwards they acquired another herd of 23 and that group of 45 cows was the first Fulton Park Dairy herd. The boys organized the retail routes, enlarging as they went. But that's another story.

Rosenblatt Remodel Job Is Completed

A grand opening party Thursday evening marked completion of the enlarging and remodeling plan of Samuel Rosenblatt company, S. W. Washington street near Broadway. The ground space has been approximately doubled and both first and second floors, have undergone extensive remodeling. Modern treatment of travertine with granite has been used for the front of the store with granite and gold leaf outlining and heraldic symbol which along with the shop's name shortened to "Rosenblatt's" decorates the facade.

Light colors in masculine shades have been used in the walls. The single touch of more delicate color is in the ladies' powder room on the second floor.

A new sports wear shop has been added due to the increasing popularity of casual fashions among men.

The store is completely air-conditioned.

Accomplished at a cost of $75,000, the remodeling is the first since Rosenblatt's moved to their present Washington street shop. The first store was opened in September, 1889, at the corner of 1st and Taylor. The firm then was handled by Hart, Schaffner & Marx clothing. In their present location 13 years.

Despite the remodeling going on during recent months, they have enjoyed the biggest business increase they have ever experienced.

Dogs and Boys

Dogs is dogs and boys is boys. At the end the dog returns to the dust but the boy lives on into the next world. True enough, says Dad and by that he is willing to see the youngsters travel along with the Bible folks.

Again—Dogs and boys. Skippy will never see the Judgment Day being only a dog. But for Sonny—it is appointed unto man once to die but after this the Judgment. And again—Everyone of us shall give an account of himself to God.—BIBLE. True enough, says Dad, Sonny must be taught to walk right in the sight of God his Maker. And happy the little Pal when the grown-ups go on with him.

Once more, being only a dog, Skippy will never profit by the open Bible. But for Sonny—Born again by the Word of God. Shall any man hold back a child from knowing the Bible, the living word?—"It were better that a millstone were hanged about his neck and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea," said Jesus Christ.

Lastly—What of the dog that skulks about in the winter rain, cold and mangy? And your boy, what fate for him? America has a murder every fifty-five minutes; 225 burglaries, thefts—every twenty-four hours; 150,000 uncaught murderers at large and by that 300,000 citizens now living will be slain. The majority of the arrests are of youths under twenty-one. Above figures by J. Edgar Hoover of FBI. State pens and county jails overflowing; night life; parked cars; human breakdown all about. Profanity; vile talk; booze; coarse grows the nation that throws the Bible out of the window and laughs at God's laws.

Dad, Sonny and All—One When your heart leaps out to lay hold on Christ as the Savior who died for your sins: Two—That instant God makes you his own. You are freed from the Judgement to come. Your name goes into the Book of Life. Three—God puts his Spirit into your heart to make you Christlike within, without.

Agreed? Then tell God—Thank you for salvation. Yes, thank God and tell folks. Stand on the Bible that you are safe. Feelings or no feelings, you are now in the family of the redeemed. Forget your feelings and stand on what the Bible says—This is God's command—That we should believe on the name of his Son, Jesus Christ and love one another as He—Christ—gave us command. Which for you, eternal anguish or eternal glory?

also to get more for his labors.

All this makes good news for the 30,475,000 farm population. Incidentally, the number of persons living on farms is about the same as it was about ten years ago. The census reports, however, show a decrease of 3% in the number of farms under cultivation. More than the above-mentioned farm population are actually supported by some form of farming, when the dependents of a farmers are taken into consideration. With something more than one quarter of our population dependent upon agriculture for their livelihood, we must have prosperous farm conditions before the rest of us can look forward to real prosperity. I believe the day is close at hand when the farmer will receive his just deserts, although I think there is a better method than by getting him to borrow on his crops. Of this, I will write some later week.

What About Prices?

What at $1.00 a bushel is cheap. Number 2 Red Winter wheat got up to $2.29 in 1917 and $2.32 in 1920. Recent advances have been due to the passage of the Parity Loan bill. Quotations are still below the prices which may be expected from 85% of parity loans. Irregular swings will, of course, develop from time to time, but the year-end should witness higher levels.

When the war ends, we will be called upon for heavy supplies of eatables from all parts of the world. Hence, foreign developments should be watched closely. Heavy movements of grains are already under way to our seaports. This is necessary to make room for coming new crops. It is also bringing our exportable surpluses a step closer to markets abroad.
