

Prompt Enrollment in Civilian Defense Urged

An urgent appeal that all patriotic citizens register at once for volunteer home-guard service has been sent out by C. T. Richardson, chairman of the county defense council.

He states, assignments to the various branches of civil defense can not be made until enrollment has been completed and until all persons willing to volunteer for civil defense have made application.

Training of specialist branches will commence as soon as these assignments are made for the various branches, according to Richardson. With the United States drawing nearer to actual engagement in hostilities, the more dangerous the situation becomes, relative to civilian population.

Fighting slogan of the United States defense effort will be "Keep them Flying" it has been announced.

The idea behind the slogan, which is a product of the war department, is to make this the Yankee equivalent of Thumbs Up, slogan used by the British.

The Oregon milk board announced Wednesday that it has denied the request of milk producers for an increase in the price of milk.

While giving sympathetic attention to the increasing problem of the milk producers, especially those relating to increased cost of labor, the board's statement said that it does not feel justified immediately in adding to the burden of the increasing high cost of living.

The board commented on the fact there seems to be some difference of opinion among the various groups of producers, which indicated that the situation is not as critical as some of the testimony indicated.

Walls Offer Opportunity in Treatment

Building experts estimate that two thirds of a house is wall space. Treatment of so great an area may make or mar the entire interior decorative scheme. The three elements to be considered in the selection of wall paper are texture, color and tone. All three have a direct bearing on the type of room to be produced and help determine whether it is to be formal or informal, light or dark, simple or pretentious.

Remarkably improved wallpapers and other developments are now available at Smith's Wallpaper House 427 S. W. 2nd street, Portland, bet. Stark and Washington.

Contributions to modern livability should not be overlooked in deciding the wall finish.
