'Food for Defense' Program Explained

Farmers in Washington County may have an opportunity to increase their income for next year, they were told at eleven community meetings last week. Held specifically for the purpose of informing local producers of the details of the "Food for Defense" program, the meetings were attended by nearly 300 local farmers, according to Wm. F. Cyrus, county agent.

Secretary of agriculture Wickard's statements concerning the quantities of needed food supplies were pointed out to local producers and these needs converted into estimated percentages of increase that could reasonably be expected in Washington county. Products in which we now have a national or world surplus are not in secretary Wickard's list for increased production. Those products for which increases are desired are those most needed by our lend-lease allies and are more necessary to improve the American dietary standard.

Milk, eggs, poultry, pork and lard, meat, and vegetables are crops grown locally that are specifically mentioned for local increased production. So far as local increases that are reasonable and economically advisable are concerned, the increases in production have probably already taken place to a large extent. Undoubtedly the number of cows that will be milked on Washington county farms on January 1, 1942, will be appreciably larger than the number milked on the farms on January 1, 1941. The desired increased production of approximately 13 million pounds of milk locally is accounted for in the production from a cow increase of 6 per cent, or approximately 1000 dairy cows. This number will not produce the 12 percent more milk but the additional production can be obtained from the number of cows already milked by an average increase per cow of at least one quart of milk per day during their lactation period. Local dairymen indicate they believe such an increase not impossible and also indicate that they believe, for at least the time being, that it would perhaps be to the economic advantage of local dairymen to obtain this increased production where it can be done without new capital outlay for equipment and stock.

While stressing possibilities in these probable increased demands, county agent Cyrus called attention to the fact that this is not the time to go in debt for expansion of the farm business. "Through improved feeding, where there is opportunity for improvement and feed is available, together with careful management, it would appear to be advisable from the financial standpoint to step up production if it is possible," said Cyrus. Farmers, the same as other businessmen or manufacturers, are not expected to produce products at unprofitable prices. Under prices approved legislation, minimum prices for agricultural products may be set at a figure of 85 percent of parity. That is not necessarily a profitable price in all cases but it represents an improvement over anything heretofore existing.

Senator Fisher Urges Four Lanes for Tualatin Valley Road

Senator Earl C. Fisher of Washington county, is urging friends, city and county officials, chambers of commerce and other organizations in Multnomah, Tillamook, Washington and Yamhill counties to join in one and all at this time recommending to state highway commission at Salem the need for widening the Tualatin Valley highway from the county line via West Slope to the Yamhill county line.

Mr. Fisher declares: "There are very few highways in the state that handle as much traffic as does this narrow two-lane highway, which has served the population center of Washington county since 1910."

"During the last 22 years, there has been a big increase of population in this Portland defense area: Multnomah now has 355,000; Washington 39,000; Yamhill 26,000 and Tillamook 12,000 population or over one third total population of the state; most of whom travel this congested thoroughfare to and from Portland as well as fire departments answering calls and many school busses loaded with students; and recently the new Wilson River road has been opened for traffic which makes this stretch of the Tualatin Valley highway between the Multnomah county line in the east to Forest Grove to the west the most dangerous and hazardous to travel in the whole state of Oregon.

"According to press reports last week, the state highway commission will authorize construction of four traffic lanes for 1.44 miles west from Multnomah county line toward West Slope for 1942. This is a start in the right direction, but at this rate of construction it will require nine years to complete four-lane traffic to Hillsboro, 13 years to Forest Grove and 17 years to Yamhill county line just beyond Gaston."

"The setup is not a square deal to the motorists, taxpayers, stage-drivers, firemen and students of our four counties, who travel the Tualatin Valley highway daily. Furthermore, the citizens of Washington county are not going to wait 17 years for this four-lane project to be completed. All our people want is a square deal after waiting patiently 22 years. We are respectfully requesting the state highway commission at this time to allocate highway funds sufficient to construct and widen the Tualatin Valley highway for four-lane traffic from Multnomah county line to Hillsboro during 1942 and complete the job from Hillsboro via Forest Grove to Gaston and the Yamhill county line in 1943."

Babson Discusses Real Cost of Living

Babson Park, Mass., Nov. 21—I know something about "cost-of-living" indices. When I was Assistant to the Secretary of Labor I had a hand in making the government cost-of-living index then in use. The U. S. Bureau of Labor's present index is complete, but impractical. 193 different goods and services are priced. Rents are priced in 33 cities for a varying number of dwellings where wage earners and clerical workers live, depending upon the size of the city,—from 450 in Manchester, N. H., to 2750 in New York City.

The cost-of-living index is made up by combining a separate index for each group of expenditures. The food group is derived from such items as cereals and bakery products; meats, fish, and poultry; eggs and dairy products; fruits and vegetables; fats and oils, sugar and beverages. "Cereals" include white flour, macaroni, corn flakes, and corn meal; whereas "fruit and vegetables" includes apples, bananas, oranges, green beans, cabbage carrots, lettuce, onions, potatoes, spinach, sweet potatoes, as well as the canned and dried varieties.

Other groups cover clothing, rent, fuel, electricity, house furnishings, insurance, and miscellaneous. There is an index for each of the 23 cities covered. Thus, the index is not meant to represent the cost-of-living on farms. I have adjusted this U. S. index to cover the 15% waste which goes into the garbage pail and elsewhere. I, however, have made no allowance for the billions wasted on crime, harmful drugs, etc. The importance of waste cannot be too highly emphasized in computing a cost-of-living index, particularly in these times. The President, in his "Defense Week" says,—"We must halt the waste and all unnecessary use of critical materials."—I submit my index below:

Food	28.6
Clothing	8.4
Rent	18.0
Fuel, Electricity, and Ice	4.4
House Furnishings	4.2
Miscellaneous	20.7
Insurance	.7
Garbage Pail and Other Waste	15.0
TOTAL	100.0

Heavy Rains Damage Telephone Lines Here

The wind storm that struck this area Thursday, following a period of heavy rains, did considerable damage to West Coast Telephone Co. lines, according to L. A. Gritten, District Manager for the company. About fifty poles were blown down, the exchanges affected being Gales Creek, Hillsboro, Sherwood, Beaverton and Tigard.

At Tigard a total failure was experienced for a short time owing to power lines falling on the telephone company's lead. At Gresham, McMinnville and Newberg cables were put out of commission causing a considerable temporary disruption of traffic.

As luck would have it, the company's installation crew were engaged in converting the telephone system at the Stafford exchange to modern dial automatic equipment and their work was greatly hampered by the storm.
