Whipped With Wet Ropes

Ken Taylor, writing from Dallas, Texas, sends this story told by a Russian who visited them there.

It seems this visitor from abroad had given a copy to a villager who read it and was converted. The man, in turn read it to his family and as a result, many of them became believers. Finally, out of the readings of that one copy of the Book 250 of the villagers turned to the Lord.

Bible Hurts Business

The bartender of the place and the local magistrate felt such a loss in revenue that they sought to get hold of that lone copy of the Book. By this they would put an end to the Christian movement that was losing them trade. The villagers in the meantime set themselves to commit the Bible to memory and thirteen of them had all the New Testament but one book by heart as well as Genesis and Exodus. Many others had equivalent amounts in various parts of the Word.

All the above came to light when the traveller who had given out that first copy returned to the place to check up. Learning of his presence, the magistrate caused his arrest and sentenced him to be beaten with wet ropes. He was beaten until almost dead and though he recovered, his back is a mass of rough welts, lying unevenly as the pulped flesh healed together.

Feed Your Faith

Faith comes from the Message heard, and the Message from the lips of Christ through the pages of the Bible. Much Bible, much faith, Little Bible, little faith. That is the rule.

Out of the reading of the Book, these Roumanians came to believe that God had a Son who died for their sins. God gave them eternal life as he does to all who receive forgiveness of sins on the ground that Christ paid the debt by his death.

You have nothing to do, no active part, in being born into the family of God. Your heart takes hold on Christ and that heart faith God honors. By his Almightiness, he now sets up his eternal life within you—"The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh and whither it goeth; so is every one that is born of the Spirit." Bible. By this may Christ become your Savior and out of it your Joy; Cheer; Hope; Strength; Wisdom; Courage, every hour of the living day. (This space paid for by Oregon businessmen.)

A Library for Each Home

L. D. MAHONE

A fine library contains the products of that which is the world's greatest treasure—the minds of men. A library is a store house of what men and women have thought and felt and discovered throughout the ages and which they are thinking, feeling and discovering now. It is the link that binds the past with the present and the future, the work of the minds of scholars, present, past and future, perfect and imperfect.

Great books do not spring from something accidental, of the great men who wrote them. They are the minds, of their very lives. The expression of their hearts and their purpose of a library is very brief—it is to transmit to generation after generation what was good and true and beautiful of the past, linking in with the program of the present. In this glorious country of ours, we have known a great deal of progress. We take a legitimate pride in the civilization and the democracy which are ours, and which we, like our forefathers, have sworn to preserve. Our pledge is motivated by the example of the myriad of books through which we can learn of the great Americans of the past.

Books expand our experience geographically, historically, socially, emotionally, intellectually and spiritually. They enable us to escape from the cramping limitations of our selves into the larger world. We catch a glimpse of the ideals which we have set before ourselves, actually worked out in the lives of others. Some of the books of Oregon's early history bring these facts to us. Secure copy of these books, no better Christmas gift could be given.

West Slope Highway Widening Scheduled

County Judge H. D. Kerkman has received official notification from the state highway commission that contracts will be let for improving 144 miles of the West Slope drive. According to information from the office of R. H. Baldock, state highway engineer, the treacherous stretch from Sylvan west will be widened from 20 feet to four lanes. County officials had hoped for improvement at least as far as Beaverton.

Six Registered Jerseys Foundation for New Herd

Gaston, Oregon, Nov. 21—Many local people will welcome registered Jerseys, 6 of which passed thru Beaverton Tuesday enroute to the Colorado State College, Ft. Collins, Colorado, from the herd of John Kopplin, Gaston, Ore. The group will form the foundation of the new Jersey herd of the Animal Husbandry Department there. Illustrated above is Standard Dandy Sultan, senior herdsire at the Kopplin farm and part of his 40 registered daughters.

The five females, two young cows and three bred heifers, combine a high degree of correct type and high production. They are daughters of "Standard" above and the young bull accompanying them is a grandson, he being sired by the Kopplin junior herd sire, Simply Sybil's Pilot. The first seven daughters of "Standard" to complete register of merit records produced 573, 571, 545, 487, 483, 438 and 422 pounds of fat respectively, all milking as junior 2-year olds. All daughters are being continuously tested on official herd test.

Wynne C. Mac Maniman of Halfway, Oregon, was in charge of the shipment enroute.

BARBWIRE BILL

Claremore, Okla.

Hello Folks: Well, yesterday was a big day here. Annual celebration of the day that Will Rogers discovered Amerikey (his birthday). Wish you all had seen the big parade. Bankers, cowboys, politicians, city folks, country folks, in fact the whole "shootin" match, even the creeks and rivers all flooded the country a celebratin'. Big Barbeque wuz fine. When they introduced me to the big crowd I didn't have a silk shirt like the other cowboys.
