LIBRARY NOTES

Hours: 2 to 6 each week day
Saturday 2 to 8 p. m.

Osa Johnson, author of "I Married Adventure" a book that has been well liked, has given the public another segment of her life in "Four Years in Paradise." This is perhaps the most adventurous section of her autobiography. The four years were spent at the edge of a lake near Abyssinia. This was a paradise for the Johnsons, but for probably no one else. They photographed elephants and other wild life. Osa Johnson's easy, humorous style make this book exceedingly good reading.

"Blue Bucket Nuggets" a story of early settlers in the Willamette Valley will be acceptable by all as a new book on the shelf.

Remember the Victory Book Drive. We are getting quite a box full, be sure and add your book.

Each year a selected group of younger officers of the U. S. Navy are ordered to post graduate work at leading engineering schools throughout the country.
