Babson Says Religious Activities Must Be Maintained

Beaverton Park, Florida, Feb. 6.—What effect will business conditions have this year on churches and other religious activities? The financial operation of our churches constitutes a huge business enterprise of themselves. Entirely aside from their spiritual importance, churches and their allied foundations rank high in the value of their financial and property assets. The outlook for these humanitarian agencies is, therefore, more important to our business and social structure than is the outlook for the railroads, utilities, or any other industry.

Financial Competition
 For the first time in many years the churches are up against real competition in their solicitation of funds. Churches have always remained outside of other local community drives for charitable purposes and, I believe, rightfully so. Community Chest drives have especially been operated in an efficient and successful manner although I question whether this success will continue indefinitely. Church finance committees might well take a lesson from their book. Millions of dollars are raised each year by Community Chests which in turn care for a variety of participating charitable organizations. Their appeals are widespread. To an extent, they have cut into the funds available for churches.

In addition, there are this year many war agencies of a charitable nature that are issuing calls for help. Perhaps the most important are the Red Cross and the United Service Organization. Such agencies will be generously supported. The purchase of Defense Bonds and particularly the proposed plan of "allotting" a percentage of one's earned income for these wartime securities will further sidetrack church offerings. The desire of givers to help the church is as great as ever, but the demands on income are so much greater. Rising living costs is another competing factor. Hence, many wrongly feel they must cut down their contributions to churches.

Location of Churches Important

Churches which serve in defense areas comprising a population of skilled workers ought to do better financially this year. Such people are earning higher wages than ever before. These wages will continue and perhaps even increase while the war lasts. This year for the first time many of these workers may be hit by income taxes. This may affect their contributions. I am inclined to believe, however, that with their larger earnings many of these people will feel more generously inclined toward churches.

The so-called "white-collar" class in the medium income brackets have in the past been an important source of church contributions. Those in this group—especially those living in non-defense areas—have little to look forward to in the way of wages or salary increases. Many not engaged in armament industries may lose their jobs as the effects of rationing are felt. They are also particularly affected by the new income taxes. Hence, churches located in non-defense areas will find it more difficult to raise funds this year than in previous years.

The Spiritual Appeal

Churches are needed even more this year than last year. From a spiritual point of view, they should gather great strength. People are beginning to feel that religion, or some form of spiritual worship, is the only common denominator left to them. This is becoming a very tangible part of their lives. In this age when there are so many disquieting events to upset people emotionally, they are again turning to their churches. When going to church myself, when talking with laymen, and from the character of the mail I receive, I sense a groping for real religion that has not been evident for a long time. But—irrespective of this—we know that lasting business prosperity can exist only when based upon the Ten Commandments. Let us churchmen get out of an inferiority complex and boldly tell the world so.

I forecast without hesitation that some day there will be a return to religion among all sects. This may or may not be a return to the "old-time type"—but it must appeal more to the hearts and emotions of people as well as to their intellects. Certainly churches of all creeds offer more opportunity today for service than ever before. I feel very strongly that more and more people will become interested in their respective churches or in some form of religious activity if actively approached. Thus perhaps through their very numbers, their contributions, while individually small, could in the aggregate bulk large. This is the hope of offsetting the present inclination of many church members to currently reduce their offerings.

Leaders Should Act Now

My "Three Is of Success" apply to the churches today as they have always applied in business. These are Inspiration, Industry, and Integrity. Of the third, "Integrity", there is no question regarding the professional leaders of our churches and synagogues. I do, however, wish that a large number of these pastors, priests, and rabbis would put more inspiration and shoe leather into their work. Because too many fail to be real LEADERS is one reason for the decline in church attendance and contributions.

Any pastor, priest, or rabbi can make or break his church. Today offers them a great opportunity. They should so inspire their own people, including their finance committees, to the point where these committee members will have the courage to go out and raise needed funds for their churches. People usually are eager to help financially if they are properly approached and particularly if they are convinced that their money will be well spent. Let us make them realize that they will save themselves only as they save the churches.

GEMS OF THOUGHT SERVICE DILIGENCE

Federal Income Tax Number 4

Many farmers will be liable for filing income tax returns and payment of tax for the first time this year. The term "farmers" includes livestock raisers, fruit and truck growers, and operators of plantations and ranches.

Farmers may maintain their records and file their returns of income on either the cash receipts and disbursements basis or on the accrual basis of accounting. A consistent method must, however, be employed. If a cash basis is used, Form 1040-F, "Schedule of Farm Income and Expenses", is required to be filled out and filed in conjunction with Form 1040.

Deductions from gross income may be made by farmers as necessary expenses, all amounts expended (other than those constituting capital expenditures) in carrying on the business of farming. Deductions for expenses include such items as cost of feeding and raising livestock (except the value of farm produce grown upon the farm and the labor of the taxpayer); cost of seed, minor repairs to farm buildings (other than the dwelling of the farmer); small tools used up in the course of a year or two; fuel and oil used for farm work; repairs and maintenance of farm machinery; hired laborers and hired machines, and cost of commercial fertilizers the benefit of which is of short duration.

The cost of farm machinery, equipment and farm buildings; amounts expended in the development of farms, orchards and ranches, as well as the amounts expended in the restoration of soil fertility preparatory to actual production of crops and the cost of liming soil to increase productivity over a period of years, are capital expenditures.

Losses incurred in the operation of farms as business enterprises are deductible from gross income. If livestock has been purchased for any purpose, and afterwards dies from disease, exposure or injury, or is killed by order of authorities of a

State or the United States, the actual price of such livestock, less any depreciation allowable as a deduction in respect of such livestock, may be deducted as a loss if the loss is not compensated for by insurance or otherwise.

If gross income is ascertained by the use of inventories, no deduction can be taken separately for livestock or products lost during the year.

Defense Bond Quiz

Q What is the best safeguard for my child's future?

A Buying Defense Savings Bonds which will help the Government to preserve your child's American heritage of freedom.

Q Will there be an intensive drive to sell Defense Savings Bonds and Stamps?

A The Treasury Department sees in the response to the program so far indication that Americans will support National Defense on a voluntary basis, without high-pressure methods.

NOTE.—To buy Defense Bonds and Stamps, go to the nearest post office, bank, or savings and loan association or write to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C. Also Stamps are now on sale at retail stores.

The U. S. Navy will consume approximately 12,480,000 pounds of ham and 4,680,000 pounds of bacon in the fiscal year ending June 30.

The first Secretary of the Navy was Benjamin Stoddert, a resident of Georgetown, Md., who took office May 21, 1798.

The Navy soon will begin construction on 1950 low-cost house units for married enlisted and civilian personnel.

GIVE GOD HIS HOUR

Journey back to Rome and look in on the Apostle Paul. He is lining out a letter to the church at Colosse. In the closing section he sends personal greetings—

"Epaphras, who is one of you, a servant of Christ, saluteth you, always laboring fervently for you in prayers, that ye may stand perfect and complete in all the will of God." Often Paul had heard Epaphras pleading before the throne. Laboring on his knees, he was, that the young church in Colosse might grow into full faith and into the stature of Jesus Christ.

What part has prayer?

God could raise a crop of oats without our having a part. But for reasons of his own he has decreed that the laborer is to plow, harrow and put in the seed. And in the spiritual field, God could have worked it through without us. But instead, he has chosen that we should sow the Gospel seed in the hearts all about and water it with our prayers.

We recall the Christian worker with the pocket memo book; the pages of names were his prayer list. "I have other books like this and most of my converts have been from these prayer-for names." So he told it.

Quite right, veteran of the vineyard.—"The fervent supplication of a righteous man availeth much."

And what have the converts gained? This, for one thing—"Blessed is the man to whom God will not impute sin." Romans 4:8. Not one sin is ever to be IMPUTED; COUNTED OVER AGAINST THE TWICE-BORN. All his sins are charged over against Christ who settled by His death.

What moved God to do it? —"God commandeth his love toward us, in that while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us."

What more will God do? —"He that spared not his own Son, but delivered Him up for us all, how shall he not with Him, also freely give us all things?"

The great salvation is ready. The neighbor down the street and the tribes at the end of the earth wait on your seed-sowing and your labor in prayer. And God is ready.—"Call unto me, and I will answer thee, and show thee great and mighty things that thou knowest not." Jeremiah 33:3. Have you a prayer list? Are you ready? Give God his hour.

PGE QUIZ CONTESTANTS:

Below you will find the answer to one of your February Quiz Questions.

Enough PGE Line to Reach from Portland to Moscow and Back!

No, this isn't a war map. It's a map showing there's a lot more to this electric business than grinding out power at a dam or steam plant! For example—PGE has had to spend more than $12,300,000 for transmission and distribution lines to carry electricity to all parts of the 2,500-square-mile area we serve (this is an area bigger than the State of Connecticut). If you took all our distribution wire, and strung it together, it would reach from Portland to Moscow and back again! The 15,000 miles of distribution wire weighs more than 14,000,000 pounds, and is strung on 128,802 poles. PGE is nationally recognized as a pioneer in making electricity available to towns, industries and farms over a large territory. Today, electricity is available to more than 85 per cent of all farms in the vast territory that PGE serves between Vancouver and Salem. PGE's rates throughout the area are in the lowest bracket in the United States.
