AIR POWER

Air power is both sea and land power. The air arm has become the controlling factor in modern warfare. It has revolutionized modern warfare. Other branches of our armed forces are helpless without adequate air protection. Airplanes not only extend the visibility and range of the armed forces but also its striking power. Airplanes carry two kinds of fire power—bombs of various kinds and guns for attack and defense. Airplanes have the speed, maneuverability and great flying range that did not exist in World War No. 1.

Since air power has been proven to be the key to success in World War No. II. There is no reason why we should not gain our place as a great air power. We have everything that takes to give us our place in the air. We have all the essential elements to produce in volume and to operate the planes when produced. We should before many moons convince Mikado that Tokyo as well as Pearl Harbor may be bombed.

will end very suddenly without anyone thinking an end is in sight; (3) that 20,000,000 of these people will immediately be thrown out of work.

Thereupon we were told of various plans for new rules and regulations for all employees and workers as to just what we must do, how much we must spend, where we shall work or sell after the war! Apparently there will be more instead of less regulating when peace comes. The present plan is to add to the restrictions in order "to fight the peace" as one of the Washington Higher Ups expressed it.

Don't Monkey with Nature

Many of the government restrictions seem crazy to statisticians. We know that when you begin to Regulate Nature you are putting your head into a hornet's nest. The war today is largely due to tariffs, bonuses, and other forms of national greed which have upset natural trade and industry. Some day we must "go through the corn sheller" and pay for our mistakes. Our difficulties will be solved only as we return to letting nature work out these problems through natural rewards and punishments, not through artificial commissions and bureaus.

If artificial rationing, priorities, price fixing, censorship, wage and hour regulations, and the thousand other experiments are necessary, well and good. Let us be honest people, however, and acknowledge that they will not succeed in the end. They are a form of dope or anesthetic which will work for a short time only. Washington economists are today doing what doctors did in George Washington's days. History says those doctors bled our first President when he really needed a blood infusion. The parents of our boys need a government they feel is friendly to them.

America Needs Religion

My real appeal is that we all (and this includes Washington) start immediately to get people back to the fundamentals of life. We should tell people that jimcrack restrictions and regulations cannot long work. Last week I urged that we the people trust the President. Now I beg the President to trust the people. If our people can be trusted to do right we will win the war; but if they cannot be trusted we will surely lose the peace. Greed must be crushed; but this can come about only through a spiritual awakening starting in Washington. Every broadcast for the sale of Victory Bonds should include an appeal for integrity and selflessness. Only Righteousness Exalteth a Nation today as it did 2500 years ago. (Proverbs 14:34.) There are no short cuts to victory. Otherwise Hitler would have already won. Laws can be discovered; but they cannot be manufactured. World War II came upon us because we thought more of ourselves and forgot God. We will avoid more troubles, after it is over, only as we think less of ourselves and remember God.

TEACH THE TOTS

At a recent Teacher's Institute in Tillamook, the primary workers talked patriotism and how to pass it on to the kiddies.

What is patriotism?

When the Japanese fired on the flag at Pearl Harbor they struck a dagger at all the flag stands for. That is—Our right to worship God in the freedom of conscience, the right to live our lives to his glory; the right of free speech. Not puppets, we, but men in our own right, answerable to God and none other. Out of this has come a way of life that has made America the envy of the world. Can the kiddies sense all this? Yes, and far easier than the elders. God and the things of God are more real in the earlier years. "Suffer the little children to come unto Me and forbid them not; for of such is the kingdom of God," said our Lord. And He declared—"Except ye be converted—turned—and become as little children ye shall not enter the kingdom of heaven." The year of the big drought, the small tot lugged an umbrella to the church where prayer was to be made for rain—"Why the umbrella?" And the tot answered—"To keep off the rain on the way home." The late Dr. W. B. Hinson who told the story, added with a twinkle in his eye—"The Lord sent the rain because of the child's faith."

The Nazi youth worship Hitler; the Japanese child the emperor. What does the American kiddie worship? A newsmen returning to these shores, pointed out that our people have no belief. They need a faith. Without vision, the people perish. A vision of God and things of God.

Parents have firsts over the public school teacher. In the home nest, through the open Bible and a seeking to know God's will, there is built into the heart of youth the stuff that stands the storm. War or no war, if the American home breathes of Christ, the nation will stand. As the home falls, the nation will rot from within. The real battle is by the fireside. May you and your kiddies listen to the Christ whose blood blots out the stain of sin and who sends the Holy Spirit to break up ungodliness. By this you best back the preacher and our teacher.

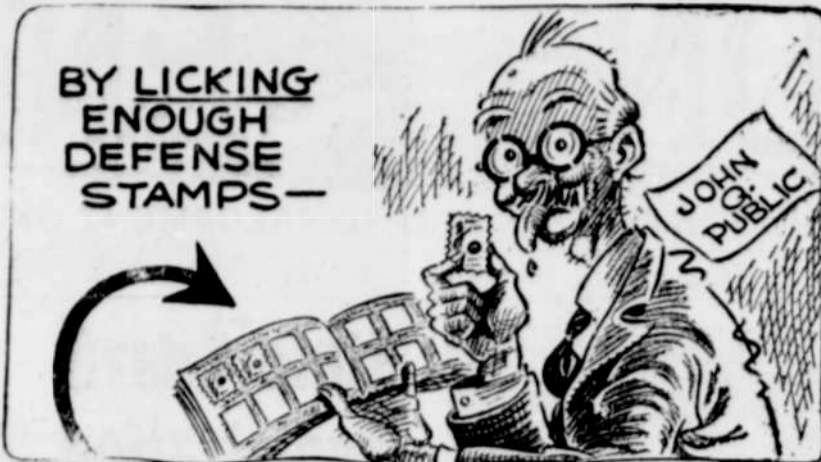

And every hour a miracle hour through the Peace-Joy-Cheer-Wisdom-Strength-Patience-Courage, VICTORY of a life yielded to the indwelling Christ. He is able. Are you yielded? Parents have firsts over the public school teacher. In the home nest, through the open Bible and a seeking to know God's will, there is built into the heart of youth the stuff that stands the storm. War or no war, if the American home breathes of Christ, the nation will stand. As the home falls, the nation will rot from within. The real battle is by the fireside. May you and your kiddies listen to the Christ whose blood blots out the stain of sin and who sends the Holy Spirit to break up ungodliness. By this you best back the preacher and our teacher.

College Prepares For More Co-Eds In Men's Courses

With private industry and government agencies seeking trained women to replace men called to service Oregon State College is preparing for an influx of women students next fall into courses normally confined to men. There being no assurance when the war will end or as to the conditions following the war, girls have a greater opportunity than ever before to take training which will help them be of maximum value to their country with almost certain assurance that their service will be needed.

Since the birth of the nation, American forests have yielded, in war and peace, some 2,200,000,000,000 board feet of lumber.

Oregon State Fair to Be Held as Usual!

Despite decisions of other states to eliminate their state fairs this year because of the war, the Oregon state fair is expected to be held as scheduled Labor Day, according to Leo Spitzbart, manager. Secretary of Agriculture Wickard has instructed M. Spitzbart to carry out plans for the annual event. Governor Sprague states, however, that the fair will be restricted to conform with army regulations.

785 of them — fighting the war on TWO fronts!

Frank works down at our plant. Carl is a service man. Mary is a stenographer. George installs the pipes in the streets. All four are skilled members of the efficient and resourceful organization that keeps gas supplied 24 hours a day, month in and month out, to 90,000 users living from Vancouver to Corvallis and from Troutdale to Forest Grove.

Keeping this vital service going is part of the war on the home front. It means well-cooked meals for thousands of soldiers and defense workers—clean, controllable heat for metal treating and other important industrial processes—quick hot water or steam for all of the many needs of home and factory.

It also means a steady and increasing flow of chemical by-products to play an important role in the battle of production.

But Frank, Carl, Mary, George and their 781 associates in the Gas Company are doing more than this. Every single one of them is buying Defense Bonds to help fight the war on the firing lines as well as here at home.

We're proud of this 100% record, just as every citizen can be proud of the splendid response of all the people of this area to the Defense Bond appeal.

So when you see our meter reader at the back door—or a service man on his way to adjust an appliance—or a book-keeper busy with his records—or a main worker swinging his pick—we want you to know that he, too, is fighting the war on TWO fronts!
