Red Cross War Fund Collection Rolling Along

Red Cross war fund campaign collections are rolling along at a good clip and it is hoped to be over the top on the county's quota of $13,300 before March 31, closing date of the drive, according to County Chairman O. E. Gates. Many communities failed to make a return on the first week's collections.

We have a large job ahead of us, but if all communities and the public will give this great humanitarian cause support, we will make our quota declared Chairman Gates. He asks all community chairmen to make their reports immediately at the end of the week.

In her letter of resignation, Mrs. Morgan said the local volunteer chairmen in the four areas are to be commended for the very fine job they have done in the registration work, which had to be done along with the many other activities they carry on as well as the many other war activities the have taken on extra. These chairmen are: Mrs. L. L. Hervey, Forest Grove; Mrs. Mary Hadley, Hillsboro; Mrs. John T. Osfield, Beaverton; and Mrs. Blanche Jones, Sherwood.

About Our Boys

Dear Citizens:

Thanks for the sewing kits and thank the school kids for those lunch boxes. They were all right. It's been all right so far. The bad news doesn't start until Monday when they start giving us shots.

They have a nice chapel here. I just came from there, and there was a fine turnout, and a good song service.

Sincerely,
OWEN HELM, Jr.
Tacoma, Washington

Dear Friends:

I left home Jan. 18 and arrived here the 23rd. Camp Allen is a Naval Construction training camp. I was recommended as carpenter's mate 3rd class.

We have just about finished up our basic training and will soon be sent to an advanced training camp in Va. or possibly Calif.

I have found the sewing kit you gave me most useful. Already I have used it to sew on buttons, torn pants, etc.

I like the navy fine, but will be glad to get out in actual service.

Sincerely,
LAMONT KLICK
Bat. 67, Co. D-6 Camp Allen, Norfolk, Va.

Married Men Draft Nears

Warned that the nation's supply of single men for the armed forces was "practically exhausted" last month, a senate appropriations subcommittee disclosed Monday that monthly inductions could be reduced from 400,000 to 100,000 if the military strength was held at 8,000,000 men.

This report from Manpower Chairman Paul V. McNutt, was solicited by Senator John H. Bankhead (Democrat-Alabama). Bankhead cited recent testimony from Major General Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director, that at the first of the year there remained only 600,000 unmarried men subject to draft.

"According to his statement, February we are. From this point on we would go into the married man category and get several million of them. Of course that will create something of a social disturbance."

Report Submitted by Camp-Hospital Council

Mrs. E. A. Griffith, chairman of the Red Cross Camp and Hospital Service Council submits the following report to date with several communities to hear from.

Hillsboro community card party Feb. 22 $315.54. Cash donations—Hillsboro organizations $45; Hillsboro high school $25; Reedville, $5; Laurel $9.25; Helvetia and West Union $15; Gaston $17.25; Forest Grove $45 and Sherwood, $50. Total, $527.04.

We have received numerous donations but in order to complete the recreation room, for the coast guard, we still need chairs, desks, etc. The recreation room has been completed.

While our principal object given to our county has been the Coast Guard building in Portland, we are helping out with hospital and camps along the coast wherever we are requested by the field director to help.

We could never have accomplished this alone, but with the help from all over the county, we are able to say Washington county is doing its part for the Camp and Hospital council recreational work.

WPB Suggests 'Birth Control'

Washington, March 12—Representative J. W. Flannagan, Virginia, a Virginia farmer, reported to the house Friday what he called the latest suggestion of the WPB "wonder boys."

An Idaho sheep rancher, he said, applied for permission to buy canvas to build lambing pens, and the WPB gave him this answer:

"It is impossible to allow you such a large amount of canvas for the purpose of making lambing sheds. As an alternative, we suggest that you postpone your lambing season until more favorable weather."

EXTRA!! Synthetic Foods Babson Topic

1943 LEGISLATURE
Salem, Oregon, March 12, (Special)—Old Age Assistance received a big boost this 1943 session legislature—for the next two years $30,000,000 has been provided for the old folks of Oregon. This will be an increase of $10,000,000 or 50% raise over the last two years, when $20,000,000 was expended for an old age pension in this state. According to plan there will be a monthly increase in funds for the next two years, reaching a peak of $38-$40 monthly old age assistance for elderly people 65 years and over by July 1, 1945. Governor Snell recommended that this be done and the 1943 legislature also remembered the old folks of Oregon and provided the funds.

En route on train: March 12—I have been in Florida for a few weeks. I saw men busy cutting down and uprooting 100-year-old pine trees to plow the land to set out orange trees. These twigs they must cultivate, spray, prune and fertilize for seven years before getting a crop. New groves are being set out without any thought of what will become of them when no more fertilizer can be purchased.

Those who now have old trees are patiently picking the fruit and using good gasoline to haul it to new Concentrate Plants which the Government has just built. Here the juice—amounting to a half glass per orange—is squeezed out and then boiled down to about 1-7th its former bulk. This is shipped to our soldiers in Africa at great risk.

We Can Learn from Germans
In the meantime the Germans may be using the same sunshine, water, air and minerals to make, synthetically, a similar concentrate which tastes just as good and has more vitamins without bothering with planting trees! Consider also that Henry Wallace talks about giving a quart of cow's milk to every Hotnot; while Henry Ford says that synthetic milk is healthier than cow's milk. So it goes.

Yet, look through the graduate list of any Agricultural College and you find that not more than 20% are honest dirt farmers; while look through the graduate list of any Engineering College and you'll find that 80% are now following their professions. Something is wrong! When I was a boy working on a farm in Massachusetts, I had never heard of fertilizers that came in bags. The only kind that I knew came from horses, mules and cows. Yet the land adjoining that farmhouse has been planted continually for over 100 years and today is raising big crops. Old-Fashioned Farming Commended
My grandfather, who owned the farm, never saw the inside of an agricultural college. The farm consisted of only a few acres, plus wild pasture and woodlots. On it he raised seven able children and died at 76 without owing a penny but leaving a good estate in Government and other bonds. Moreover, he never received any Government aid nor advice from county agents. I believe we must either go back to nature's method of farming or else use more synthetic foods.

Today, too many of our fruit growers and farmers have switched from live stock to tractors and trucks. Instead of raising their "power" in the form of hay and oats, they buy it as gasoline. Then they buy nitrates, potash and phosphorus instead of getting these in natural manure the same as God intended them to do. I am not appealing either for synthetic food or self-perpetuating and self-contained farms; but I ask if we should not aim for one or the other.

Natural Ruin Possible.
God intended that most of us should live on the land and all should spend some time working the land. The cycle was to raise the food for both man and beast from sunshine, water, air and the minerals of the ground. Then these minerals would return back to the land in a natural way; while all of us would do some work with our hands. (Read I. Thesalonians 4:11.)

Today we are not only buying the minerals in bags, but we are shipping our foods which contain these minerals to cities. Then when the food is eaten, the refuse containing these precious minerals goes down the sewers for the fish to use in making vitamins! This destruction in addition to the corrosion of the soil due to mechanical farming and destroying forests. This policy continued will ultimately ruin our nation.

Beaware of Politicians
We shall win War II; but shall we win the peace afterwards? This winning of the peace will require something more than disarming Germany and Japan or policing the world. It may require a complete revamping of our own form of Government and the elimination of farm blocs, labor blocs, employer blocs and other selfish groups. Engineers should take the Government positions now held by lawyers.

This does not mean that people are going to get their food from "pills". Not only does the stomach need bulk, but eating is a great joy to most people. Hence, no over-all radical or sudden change is to take place. We can, however, expect four developments of our food program.

Four Coming Changes
(1) We will be more careful about our diet in order to increase our efficiency and decrease our doctors' bills. For most of us this will mean eating less—and reducing our consumption of sweets, starches and proteins. (2) Farmers will enrich their soil and seeds by needed minerals as well as by fertilizers. (3) Housewives will use more concentrates and vitalize their foods with the electric waves and chemicals, such as those of the amino group. (4) The Secretary of Agriculture will be a chemist instead of a farmer. People in cities will continue to be fed from great private and cooperative farms. These will become large.
