Christmas Package Restriction Eased

Christmas packages may be mailed to American soldiers overseas without a request from the soldier, from September 15 to October 15, the war department announced today through the Portland office of war information.

The packages must be no more than five pounds in weight, 15 inches in length, and 36 inches in length and girth combined. They should be marked "Christmas gift parcel."

Only one such package will be accepted for mailing by or on behalf of the same person or concern to or for the same addresses in any one week.

Certified Seed

Farmers who are planning to grow certified seed crops this year should fill out applications now, announces Palmer S. Torvend, county agent. Field inspection work this year must be done with a limited staff and it is important that all growers who wish to enter crops for certification make their application early.

Crops which may be entered for certification at this time are seed potatoes, grain, red clover, ladino clover, alta fescue, and English ryegrass. Any farmer who pays the fees and agrees to abide by the rules and plants certified seed or seed that meets the inspection requirements is eligible.

Further details regarding certification may be obtained by contacting the county agents office in Hillsboro.

The Dairy Animal Conservation program will, for the present, be confined to the purchase of dairy type heifers that should be rationed for future production. These heifers may be open or bred and offer potentially high production possibilities. Calves and mature cows will not be purchased.

Mr. Madsen of the FSA office from Hillsboro, states that conditions in Washington County indicates that up to the present time there has been a demand for heifers of pasture age to be retained locally. Therefore, the purchase of these heifers for shipment will not be put into effect unless a local feed shortage develops that will necessitate selling good heifer calves for slaughter.

Madsen states that the purchase of heifer calves in this county averaged about thirty calves per month during the time that the program was in effect and that the cooperation of the farmers and the transportation company was very helpful in facilitating this work. It may be continued again when fall freshening season starts according to Carroll Dwyer, Dairy Animal Conservation Chief of FSA, Portland.

It is just two years now since Great Britain swapped horses, took Churchill for Chamberlain and settled down to win a war. A change in leadership saved Britain, it will save America in 1944.

In 1939 President Roosevelt told a newspaper man who inquired about a Third Term to wear a dunce cap. Now he might tell the boys that anyone who doesn't think he is running for a Fourth Term can stand on his head.

People in cities are unable to get food and farmers are paid to raise more food. No, Cicero, you can't make us believe even the New Deal does that.

Babson Says. . .

upon maturity, return 33 1-3% more than they cost. I get provoked at some New Deal measures, but I certainly believe these short War Bonds to be both a safe investment and a good speculation. I say the latter because there may be some great panic bargains before the time these ten-year bonds mature. People with very little money should buy stocks only during panics.

What to Buy?

Usually it is better for the small investor to confine his purchases to stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange. Generally speaking, nearly all stocks will rise to some extent in a bull market. For the purpose of this article, therefore, let us assume that the trend of the market is definitely up and consider certain basic rules that govern successful investing.

(1) DEPRESSED STOCKS. These come first in order. They should represent well-established companies selling for less than the amount of their working capital per share. In such situations, the investor is buying net current assets at a discount and paying nothing for the equipment, earning power, or for the experience and ability of the management. Mack Truck and certain auto accessories companies illustrate this test.

(2) DIVIDED STOCKS. No well-balanced portfolio is complete without a backlog of dividend-paying stocks. To be really safe, earnings should—over a normal term of years—amount to nearly twice the established dividend rate in the company selected. Yield and stability are the factors most sought for in this group. But at the same time one can be assured that such stocks will not lag behind in any bull market. Gulf Oil, Monsanto and certain chemicals illustrate this test.

(3) LOW LABOR COST STOCKS.

A large number of labor union employees, if headed by unwise labor leaders, make many otherwise attractive companies poor investments. One reason why I have not liked the railroads, as a group, is because of the enormous amount of organized labor it takes to run the railroads. As a direct opposite of these stocks, fire insurance stocks appeal to me. They are not much involved with labor unions, and, in proportion to the volume of their business, employ very little help.

(4) DIVERSIFIED STOCKS. Investors should, moreover, pay attention to LONG GROWTH companies. GOOD MANAGEMENT cannot be emphasized too much. ONE HUNDRED PER CENT EQUITY is also always wise to consider. In other words, select companies without bonds or cumulative preferred stocks ahead of the common. Do not be misled by technical and lengthy "write ups" of individual companies. Diversification is a good guide to good stocks. Lehman Corporation appears to qualify under this classification.

When to Buy?

There is a factor of timing involved in the buying of stocks which is most important. In my estimate of timing I am entirely disregarding the averages and the chart readers. Today, the so-called PEACE STOCKS are examples of timing in buying. These may represent almost any company that has not profited as a direct result of the War.

I cannot here name individual issues; but, as a group, grocery chains are worth considering. Others may include building supplies companies, certain utilities and various farm equipment and produce companies. Many PEACE STOCKS have chalked up impressive gains, but in the main they have a lot further to go. What ever may temporarily happen to the market during the next few months, I believe this is a safe time for many investors to buy a diversified number of listed stocks which pass at least one of the above four tests.
