Sends Bug to College

Hello Folks:

You see, I have got a Victory Garden and I captured a strange bug that was invading my "potato patch". I sent him to our state Agriculture and Mechanical college, Stillwater, Okla., to have him ask them perfecters just what kind of a bug he is anyway! But I didn't send any of the Horn worms I captured for I killed 'em and took no "prisoners of war!"

The weather is so dry, I have to irrigate my tomatoes with "city water" and you know that makes 'em shore enuff "city tomatoes!" The green vines look so refreshin' these dry hot days, daw gone if I blame them worms and bugs fer admirin' the scenery and gettin' in it! They must be related to Mussy, Hitler, and the Japs, fer they aint respecters of any property rights! Anyway, I can't say like an old lady in Kansas, "I didn't raise a thing this year but thank the Lord none of my naysors raised anything either!"

COME ALONG WITH ME

By Fred P. H. Clyde
This publication assumes no responsibility for views expressed in this column. Sentiments are credited to the columnist, Clyde, and do not necessarily coincide with our editorial policy.

At the moment daughter Susan Lee, the soon to be four-year old is industriously washing dishes. She has also informed me that she not only washed her elbows this morning but also her teeth. Being rather suspicious by nature, I am inclined to believe that a Birthday Party in the offing this week might have some bearing on all this display of diligent ambition.

Mammy is lining up Grandma Clyde's croquet set for this gala affair. The little woman remarks in her salty manner that if the kids don't play the orthodox game they can finish up the affair as usual in a grand finale of battling each other with the mallets. Lovely thought. Child care and guidance experts please note.

A number of my friends and readers who have seen the thousands of pansies at Clydemont inquire rather cautiously how to raise them. They tread carefully for fear that we might not like giving away trade secrets. Baloney. Nothing to it except horse sense and work. Anybody can raise pansies who will "baby" them along and give them a decent break in suitable locations.

The Pansy-Viola Tricolor (no extra charge for the two bit name) loves moist humus laden soil. As to fertilizer—it is really a hog among flowers. Its reaction to cow fertilizer or commercial sorts is startling and rapid. Don't be too lavish but a Pansy will assimilate amounts of fertilizer that would lay normal plants over in a faint.

So Say We all of Us

I have avoided public speaking, feeling that one voice to a family was enough.

—MRS. CALVIN COOLIDGE

How often the expression is heard today: "Be careful. You can't replace it." That warning has been applied to everything from pins to tractors. Never was the American public so waste conscious.
