County Over the Top in 3rd Loan

Amount is in Excess Of Assigned Quota

Sales of $2,875,826.79 were rolled up by Washington county in the third War Loan it was announced this week by W. C. Christensen and H. L. MacKenzie, co-chairmen of the county war finance committee. This amount is $352,328.70 in excess of the assigned quota.

Washington county was the first Oregon county with a quota in excess of $1,000,000 to go over the top. Percentage of quota sold was 113 per cent.

Appreciation of the work of area chairmen, committee members, newspapers and the general co-operation of Washington county people in the purchase of bonds needed to finance the war was expressed this week by Christensen and MacKenzie, who said such support must be continued to insure victory.

Christensen said Tuesday that more money was raised during this drive than was on deposit in all county banks at the time of bank holiday.

AWS Placed on Alert Status

The Aircraft Warning Service will be placed on an alert status beginning at 6 p. m. October 16, 1943. The observation posts and Filter Centers will no longer be manned 24 hours a day, but will be subject to call instead. The Aircraft Warning Service definitely is not being abandoned, only certain component parts of it are being placed on this alert status. This decision is not based on any belief that the end of the war is near but that we are carrying the offensive directly to the enemy.

Ration Tokens Coming Soon

Certainly that blue and red ration tokens will be in use early next year as change for ration stamps is indicated by an OPA release Saturday announcing opening of bids at Washington, D. C., Monday on contracts to manufacture 900 million tokens. The call for bids asks that deliveries of blue tokens be made by January 1, 1944, and of the red tokens by February 15. They will be slightly larger than a nickel and smaller than a quarter and will have no expiration dates. Each token will have a value of one point.

Beaverton Flier Upped in Grade

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Berg, Beaverton, of the promotion of their son Joseph E. Berg Jr., to the rank of major in the U. S. Army air force.

Major Berg, 26, has been in the air force nearly three years, including six months of foreign service. Prior to his enlistment he was with the Washington Water Power company at Pullman and Colfax, Wash. His wife is the former Isabel Knott of Portland. They have one daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Schoube have moved from Witch Hazel to their new home which they purchased from the Claytons. Mr. and Mrs. Clayton have moved to their new home near Tigard.

A Substitute for Hell

Somewhere in New Guinea these wounded soldiers await evacuation. Flat on their backs, in the steaming heat of the jungle, where mosquitoes plague the air and ants and mosquitoes torment weary bodies, they dream of home, . . . of clean white sheets and the touch of cool, comforting hands. You can help provide modern hospitals and the medicines they need for their recuperation by putting every dollar you can into War Bonds during the Third War Loan.

Bits of News About Our Boys

The following letter was received from Dr. Mason in Sicily:

"Today was well spent. Ten officers and two sgt. got a truck for sight seeing this afternoon and really did the town. First, we went to a small town on a hill several miles from here. This town was once the home of the Norman Kings of France, during and after the Crusade—about 1000 to 1200. We went through the church they built in the 12th century, and with the help of a guide really enjoyed it. The outside of the building wasn't much, except that the tower was Arabic and the remainder of the building Roman Catholic architecture. This is because the Arab's occupied the area before the Romans and when the latter went to build their church, they just started with the Moslem Tower. The inside was a high vaulted structure entirely done in marble. The floor was marble. Up 10 to on walls were patterns more like Arabic, but said to have been of Byzantine influence. These were made with brightly colored stones and gold leaf. Above these were the murals. There were about 24 marble pillars in the church, 23 of which were alike, and these were said to have come from a Greek Temple—built in 600 B.C. On another part of the same island (Agrigento) One pillar was of Sicilian marble and wasn't so pretty. Arabs were hired to do the ceiling in beautiful bright colors, with lots of gold leaf. The designs were very intricate and characteristically Arabic. Altogether it made a beautiful but queer church. There were some stained glass windows and the few windows present were very small.

After seeing this cathedral we visited a sanctuary high on a mountain above the city. Then we visited some catacombs.

These, of all, are of the least importance, yet make the best to write about. In this part of Sicily during the 17th, 18th and 19th centuries people got a fad for having their relatives mummified after death and placed where the living could visit them. In this catacomb we visited are 8000 bodies on display. The first or oldest having been placed here in 1693 and the last in 1883. One section is given to priests, one to men and one to women and children. Unmarried women wear a crown. Some of the bodies stood, some sat, and some lay. They consisted literally of bones, with a tight fitting layer of dry skin stretched over them. The skin peels off easily, apparently, because many of the bones were without skins. The bodies were dressed. The chambers were dark, dirty and odorless. The trip was like going through a good hunter's game rooms where animal heads stared down on one.

Dear Ma'am: Thanks a lot for the gifts that you gave me for a going away present, they sure came in handy on the way up here.

We are beginning to get straight about the navy way by now so I can find time enough to write you a line or two.

We left Portland Tuesday night and arrived at Farragut Wednesday about noon. From then on till now we have been pretty busy taking phys. and other things.

ARTHUR ALLAN TOOZE A. S. Co. 800-43 Camp Bannion U. S. N.T.S. Farragut, Idaho.

Dear Sir: Just a line to let you know I'm doing fine. I arrived here Tuesday night at 9:30, when everybody was in bed so they put me in the hospital for the night.

I like this service pretty well so far, it is getting late, so I will say good by. Yours truly ROBERT D. PALUMBO A. S. U. S. C. G. training st., Port Townsend, Wash.

William Edgar Hessel, R2 Beaverton, and Lorena Winnifred Stager, Portland.

To Confer With Local Citizens Monday

Members of the State Hiway commission will meet Monday at Hillsboro county court house and will discuss with local citizens a program of post war construction.

Among the projects submitted to the commission will be: Complete Wolf creek highway through county, widen Tualatin valley highway to 4 lane highway from West Slope to Forest Grove; W. Portland-Hubbard short cut to Salem; Farmington road Beaverton, to Campbell bridge; Hillsboro-Silverton, Campbell bridge to county line; Hillsboro-Silverton, Hillsboro to Campbell bridge. Also Hillsboro-Orengo-Cornelius Pass; Forest Grove to Balm Grove; Hillsboro-North Plains, hook up with Wolf Creek highway.

Sale Auction Every Sat. at Alexander Barn

Frank Ulrich, auctioneer of Portland, has leased the Alexander barn on the Hiway and will auction goods of all kinds every Saturday. His charge is only 10% on all articles.

Mr. Ulrich is going to make extensive changes at this point, he will add a large shed to the present structure to house the articles brought in for him to sell. He may be consulted there at any time.

Bring in anything you don't need household furniture, farm implements, etc, but bring them in before Saturday mornings.

Dear Friends: Thank you very much for the candy and toilet kit.

Oregon War Chest Campaign Opens Friday

Organization is complete for Washington county participation in the Oregon War Chest campaign to open October 18, according to O. B. Gates, county chairman and member of the state committee. Quota for the county is $30,000.

The drive gets under way in the West Slope area Friday, 10 days earlier than the main county drive, because the Multnomah chest drive is scheduled for that date, the time being set up for this area in the hope that the contributions of people in that section would be made to count on the Washington county quota rather than on Multnomah, chairman Gates said. H. F. Moore is West Slope area chairman.

Area No. 2—F. L. Brown, chairman, Reedville, Witch Hazel.

Area No. 3—Mrs. L. Schaltenbrand, chairman, Tigard, Tualatin, Six Corners, Sherwood, Durham.

Area No. 4—Mrs. Geo. Eisenbauer, Beaverton, Bonny Slope, Cedar Mill, Garden Home, Hiteon, Metzger, Mill, Raleigh, St. Marys.

Area 5—H. F. Moore chairman, West Slope.

Area No. 6—C. J. Stickney, Aloha, Huber, Bethany, Cooper Mt.

Under the War Chest plan, people will have to apportion their contributions to all relief and service organizations in this campaign, except the Red Cross drive—which is held each spring.

Camp Fire Girls are in full swing again. This year more girls have signed up and it is expected that more will be coming in all the time.

At present we have charters for 2 groups from the 10 to 14 years and a bluebird group will be started in the near future.

Guardian's for these girls have been a problem, at present, we are in need of some assistant guardians. Any lady over 16 years who would like to take up this work please get in touch with Mrs. Wilhelms, 3rd and Tucker St., Beaverton.

The last meeting was an outdoor meeting in which the girls went on a penny hike.

P. T. A. Reception Pleasant Affair

The Beaverton P. T. A. held a reception for the grade and high school teachers Wednesday evening, September 29, at the grade school auditorium. The reception opened with the singing of the Star Spangled Banner followed by the High School trio who sang An Appie for Teacher and also put on a short skit. Mrs. Norton Peck, president, made a short welcoming address and then announced that each table would do a skit. The 2nd and 4th grade tables presented the Woes of the Ration Board, which tied for first place with the High School table which acted out The Backward Child. The prize was a box of apples.

The 8th grade table was complete with Wedding March, Bride and Gift. Mrs. Florence Brownlee, 8th grade teacher, was presented with a silver compote, a gift from the 8th grade students.

A short business session was held. The following resolutions were read accepted: That all regular business meetings of the coming year shall be held in the evening. 2. That two Camp Fire girls will be hired to care for children each meeting night. 3. That simple refreshments will be served at the regular meeting during the coming year.

The first grade won the $1 prize for the largest attendance at the reception. Mrs. Marshall's first grade won the membership contest with 12 members for her room. Delegates to County Council are: Mrs. V. E. Boge, Mrs. Kilgore, Mrs. Huddleston, Mrs. A. Beguin and Mrs. L. Smith. County Council will be held at Sherwood on October 12. We would like to have as many go as possible.

The meeting was adjourned and apple pie and coffee was served. The hostess for the evening was Mrs. Ida Coslett, chairman of the Room Mothers for the grade school. Those assisting her were: Mrs. Kerr, and Mrs. Bennett, 1st grade; Mrs. Kilgore, second grade; Mrs. Geo. Smith 5th grade; Mrs. Coslett, 6th grade; Mrs. Shofner and Mrs. Wilhelm 8th grade.

At the High school table Mrs. L. Smith presided and assisting her were Mrs. Tom Johnson, freshman class mother and Mrs. Jack Curtis, sophomore.

Soybean Soles On War Shoes

Rationing has produced another war innovation—shoes made with soles made of soybeans.

Members of the Chicago Shoe Traveler's association predicted that such shoes would be popular this winter. The soles will be of a transparent plastic which has a soybean base. The association said retail men are buying up the garden variety of foot gear "by the bushel."

Business Outlook

Babson Says Every Citizen Should Wake Up

New York City, Sept. 24—Inflation is as "catching" as smallpox and much more serious. If allowed to spread, it will cause far more deaths than epidemics of suicide, heart failures and nervous breakdowns. No wonder life insurance companies are fighting it tooth and nail. If the same intelligent approach is made to the problem of avoiding inflation as was made in the case of reducing and eliminating smallpox, we shall be all right. But if we neglect the present signs of the growing epidemic of inflation I am afraid we shall soon be beyond hope.

No Help to Investors

Some people are saying, "Let inflation come." They hope it will help sell some longheld stocks which are now showing a loss. Possibly, but what will the money received be worth? It may be far better to hold stocks than to sell them at double the present price and get money worth only 40% or less of its present value. The same principle applies to buying stocks now with the hope of selling them later at a profit. Even when buying the right stocks as an inflation hedge, they should be considered only as a "safe deposit box" in which to keep your money during inflation. What money you do not put into short-term war bonds, invest in good, productive real estate or good stocks. Do this as a permanent investment and not as a speculation.

Readers who have a little money invested in railroads, public utilities and other companies whose rates are regulated should especially watch inflation. Inflation can severely cripple these corporations. Although rate increases are possible they are—Continued on Page 2

Ration Boards Prefer Mail Applications

There's no need for the busy public to waste their time, carfare or gasoline in making personal visits to their local war price and rationing boards to transact normal rationing business, it was announced Saturday. The routine of rationing has become so standardized that board members find they can process mail applications more rapidly than those submitted over the counter.

PTA Hold Reception For Teachers at School

At the first fall meeting of the Aloha-Beaverton P. T. A. a reception was held for the teachers. Plans were also made for serving a hot dish to the school children this winter.

Another project was a rest room at the school for both teachers and pupils. Nearly $70 was pledged in a short time.

There are nearly 100 members active in the work but more are wanted, and parents and friends interested in the school are urged to attend their meetings.
