Here are 26 easy ways to save GAS for Uncle Sam

...And when you save GAS, you also save manpower, transportation and raw materials...all vital to the war effort!

Gas is a war material—as essential in its way as bullets, guns or ships. Hundreds of war activities in this area depend upon Portland gas for many purposes and must have an uninterrupted flow.

That is why the War Production Board's Office of War Utilities urges the nation-wide conservation of gas, along with coal, oil, electricity, water, transportation and communications. Every one of these service industries is carrying a tremendous war load, and waste of any of these services involves the direct or indirect waste of manpower, transportation and raw materials urgently needed in the war effort.

Gas conservation isn't new here. For the past year, 100,000 gas users in this territory have been voluntarily participating in this wartime program.

The Government greatly appreciates your splendid cooperation.

But now another season of peak gas consumption is approaching. That is why Uncle Sam is asking you to be even more careful in your use of gas. Every one must share the responsibility of using only what gas he needs.

Listed below are 26 easy ways that you can save gas. Please study them and get your family into the habit of practicing them every day.

COOKING ECONOMIES you can make every day...

Gas is so fast, controllable and dependable that you can carry out the following suggestions without adding to your kitchen work at all:

- 1—Use a low blue flame... especially after foods start to boil. Water boils at 212 degrees F. and doesn't get any hotter no matter how violent the boiling or how much you turn up the gas.
- 2—Cut down the amount of water in which you cook vegetables. Save vitamins and minerals as well as gas—and make your vegetables look and taste better at the same time.
- 3—Cook more one-dish meals.
- 4—Don't overcook foods.

- 5—Keep burners clean. Wipe off spill-overs.
- 6—Place utensil over burner before turning on gas.
- 7—Turn gas off before removing utensil from burner.
- 8—Don't use the oven of your gas range to heat your kitchen. This is an inefficient heating method and shortens the life of your range.
- 9—Don't turn on the oven for just one dish. Bake and roast a number of foods at one time so as to get "full benefit from the heat used."
- 10—Don't peek in your oven during baking or roasting. Cook by time and temperature. Oven peeking wastes gas, slows up cooking.

SIMPLE HEATING ECONOMIES... that will give you comfort with less heat!

All types of fuels must be conserved in war times. The Government specifically asks your full cooperation in saving gas.

- 1—Reduce heat loss by insulation, storm sash, weather stripping and caulking.
- 2—Set heat thermostat at 65 degrees. Lower this temperature during as many hours of the day as possible. At night or when you are away from home, 50 degrees is adequate.
- 3—Close off unused rooms.
- 4—Turn off heat before opening bedroom windows. Also—close bedroom doors at night and place rugs at bottoms of doors to prevent cold air from leaking into rest of house.

- 5—Close fireplace damper when fireplace is not in use. If damper doesn't fit tightly or if you have no fireplace damper, make a screen of wallboard or plywood to fit in opening.
- 6—Close outside doors promptly.
- 7—Pull shades at night—and in daytime, too, in severe weather.
- 8—Close open stairways with heavy curtains or temporary doors.
- 9—Maintain correct humidity at all times.
- 10—Have your heating system inspected and put in top-notch condition.

WATER HEATING SAVINGS your whole family can help make

Gas heats water faster, better, cheaper... so let these advantages help give you adequate hot water while cutting down on gas consumption.

- 1—Repair leaky hot water faucets.
- 2—Don't leave hot water running while washing or shaving. Fill the bowl with just the quantity you need.
- 3—Don't fill bathtub to overflowing. Use one-third of a tub or less. A shower takes less hot water than a tub bath.
- 4—Set your automatic water heater thermostat at not more than 120° to 140°.
- 5—Turn off your non-automatic tank water heater as soon as enough water is heated. Overheating wastes gas, damages your plumbing.
- 6—Insulate hot water tank if you have a non-automatic tank heater. This will reduce heat loss considerably. Insulating hot water pipes also helps.
