GET THE TAX DODGERS

A special session of the legislature has been called in California to consider various subjects, including a measure to permit state taxation of Federal property.

When the Federal government confined its activities to the function of governing, rather than entering into business competition with private citizens, its property used for governmental purposes was granted tax freedom.

Today, however, with the government going into commercial activity, a serious problem faces the states. Tax-exempt government business prevents the development of highly-taxed private enterprise. It enjoys the privilege of using all public facilities such as roads, schools, police service, fire protection, etc., without bearing any of their cost.

When government goes into business in competition with its own citizens, the products it manufactures and the property it utilizes for producing the same, should bear the same tax burden as does other business.

It is to be hoped that California works out a plan for taxing government business activities the same as it does industries that maintain government.

Other states should take up this subject at the next session of their legislatures.

INFLATION, THE BOGEY MAN

"The threat of inflation is being used as a bogey man to induce a nation to accept social reform, regimentation, limitations of opportunity and incentive. Before the war ends, it will be used to hide social economic mistakes and to conceal from the public the sad state of economic affairs into which the nation has been thrown.

"Inflation comes when there is too much money and too few things to buy. High prices result from inflation—they are not the cause. Inflation is avoided, or remedied by increased production—not by regulation. To date, our government has done much to promote inflation, including propagandizing it, and nothing to prevent it."—F. H. Sexauer, President, Dairymen's League Cooperative Association of New York.

SAVE THE CHICKS

The loss of a baby chick a few hours old wouldn't seem to have any bearing on our war effort, but the War Food Administration is concerned over the loss of baby chicks in shipping, as a result of suffocation, chilling, over heating, or mishandling. It is asking the cooperation of railroads, express and postal employees in more careful treatment of little chicks. Aside from the importance of giving all living things humane treatment, the practical necessity for doing so now is urgent.

If saving a baby chick is important in conserving the nation's resources, it is equally important to save all useful products and materials. Let others besides those handling baby chicks, take this lesson to heart and save time and material wherever possible—it all goes into the grand total of production which is necessary to assure victory.

Cords Bruise Easily

Don't let electric cords get knotted or twisted, and don't shove them in to a drawer any-which-way. Such rough treatment wears out the insulation and leads to exposed wires and possible shock or short circuits and blown fuses, explains Mrs. Julia Klene, director of Home Economics Institute at Westinghouse. Coil permanently attached cords loosely around appliance when not in use—wait until appliance cools, of course. Hang extra cords over a thick wooden peg.

which it raises may have very little to do with the soil. Hence, it will not raise strong families.

Have Soil Analyzed for Minerals

For those readers who want not a commercial farm but a small sustenance farm for raising and feeding a good family of children, there is a third series of questions to consider. The farm should be within walking distance of schools, churches and stores, or else on a bus line; it should have drained, fertile land; and it should have good neighbors. In addition, the land should contain the right minerals for making brains, brawn and character. All we are—except for our spiritual and physical heritage—comes from what we eat, drink and breathe. This means that the soil in which our food and fruit are raised is of great importance in determining our health, intelligence and character.

Why do the best trotting horses come from Kentucky? The answer is the soil and this applies only to certain small sections. Why have the best brains grown in certain valleys of New England, New York State, Pennsylvania and Virginia? The answer is that the soils of these valleys, washed down during the centuries from rocky hills—contain the freed minerals to make the best brains. I have especially in mind potassium, phosphorus, iron, iodine, calcium and magnesium. If you doubt me, ask the publishers of "Who's Who's" to give you their opinion on this subject.

This third factor of the mineral content of the soil, including the treatment of the soil, is now very seldom discussed. The Department of Agriculture has avoided reporting on it because it is a "hot potato loaded with dynamite." However, it is of prime importance to every family planning to live on the products of its own land. Furthermore, the time is coming when vegetables and fruits will be sold under the Pure Food and Drug Act according to their mineral content, whether sold fresh, canned or dehydrated. Some beans may be cheap at $10 per bushel, while other beans, which appear just the same, may be worth only $1.50 per bushel and good only to eat for bulking. Hence, by all means consider this mineral content, needed for brains and character when buying land. If you cannot afford to consult a high class soil expert, go to the nearest graveyard, study the headstones and see how long the people lived.

Why Germany is Hard to Kick
I pass on just one more thought for readers to ponder over. It is this: Some years ago when I was in Switzerland making a study for the New York Times, a Swiss scientist said to me: "Europe will always have trouble with those Prussians. There is something in the soil of Prussia which grows people with that fighting instinct. European peace is unalterably linked up with the minerals of the soil. Permanent peace in Europe will come about only by systematically moving people about. That is the only way physical, economic and spiritual opportunities can be equalized."

Certainly there is a relation between soil and fatigue. For a scientific study of fatigue, send ten cents to the Medical Journal and Record Publishing Co., 667 Madison Ave., New York City for Dr. Max B. Gerson's article published in the Medical Record of June, 1943.

P. S. Churchill believes in the importance of soil. This is why England will try to take Belgium, Holland and other Low Countries into the British Commonwealth, and is willing to leave Austria, Czechoslovakia and the Baltic States to Stalin.

THINK IT OVER

How about doing a little cold turkey thinking after you lay aside this newspaper tonight? You've got a good job. The chances are there is someone else in your family, perhaps two or three, who are waiting, waiting. Your son or your brother—may be away at war.

This war must end sometime. Your whole family, your neighbors, are praying it ends soon and those fighting boys of yours will come home safely.

But will you be ready for whatever happens when peace comes? Will you have something laid away? We're all hoping there'll be jobs aplenty, jobs which mean making something for somebody's happiness and for somebody's sorrow. That's where your War Bonds come into the picture. Sure, Americans own billions of dollars of War Bonds now; and before this 4th War Loan ends they will have put away billions more. But how about you? You're the one that counts. The bigger the pile of War Bonds you have when peace comes, the bigger chance you'll have to slip right into the post-war world you're dreaming about tonight.

So "Let's All Back the Attack!"

Benjamin Franklin True Patriot

Benjamin Franklin wrote: "It is undoubtedly the duty of all persons to serve the country they live in, according to their abilities; yet I sincerely acknowledge, that I have hitherto been very deficient in this particular. . . . I now take up a resolution to do for the future all that lies in my way for the service of my countrymen."

"When the government finds it necessary for the common benefit, advantage, and safety of the nation, for the security of our liberties, property, religion and everything that is dear to us, that certain sums shall be yearly raised by taxes, duties, etc., and paid into the public treasury, to be dispensed by government for those purposes; ought not every honest man freely and willingly to pay his just proportion of this necessary expense? Can he possibly preserve a right to that character, if, by any fraud, stratagem, or contrivance, he avoids the payment in whole or in part?"

Mrs. America Meets the War

As soon as housewives are ready to start their 1944 home canning they'll be able to use sugar stamp number 40 in War Ration Book Four for this purpose. It will be valid through February 28, 1945, (13 months), and will be the only stamp validated for canning sugar. However, housewives who wish to can and preserve more fruit than can be put up with this 5-pound per person allotment may, apply to their local boards at a later date.

Soups on! And if it's split pea soup—it soon will be costing less. The reason is that the OPA has brought dry peas—whole or split—under price control. This means a slight reduction as retailers get in new supplies.
