200,000 Oregon Gardens Last Year; More Sought

OSC extension officials reported to the recent regional garden conference in Portland that there were approximately 200,000 victory gardens raised in Oregon last year, 145,000 of which were grown by city people, and 55,000 on farms. This would mean that there were gardens on about 90 per cent of all Oregon farms.

Because of this high percentage of farms having gardens already, most of the emphasis this year will be put on more and better city gardens, it was decided at the conference. These are being encouraged throughout the

WAR BONDS in action

A sprig of green on the Mediterranean front; today it's camouflage for an American machine gun nest.

To win quicker our soldiers must have munitions and materiel, more and more. To provide them all of us must buy more and more War Bonds.

U. S. Treasury Department

United States, according to H. W. Hochbaum, national extension representative who is chairman of the national victory garden committee.

Home demonstration agents in 15 Oregon counties emphasized food conservation last summer, the Oregon report showed. In those 15 counties it was estimated that more than 4 1/2 million containers of food were canned and that more than 235,000 pounds of food were preserved in other ways.

When the other fellow is set in his way, he's obstinate; when you are, it's just firmness.

Income Tax Tip

Where to get forms: Forms have been mailed to persons who filed 1942 returns. Hence, anyone needing forms may obtain them from the nearest office of a Collector of Internal Revenue.

Where to get help: Most people, especially those using the short form, can fill out their own returns. Others who need assistance can get it, free of charge, at any Collector's office. Deputy collectors also will be stationed from time to time in large business offices, and many other public places. Because the number of available deputy collectors is limited by war conditions, people should not be urged to seek assistance unless they really need it.

One Tonner Club

The Multnomah students have organized an unique club—it is called the One Tonner club. Each member must deliver to the school one ton of paper tied and ready to be sent to the mill.

It is said there are only a dozen members to the club now but there are many candidates waiting ready to be initiated.

Seabees in the Aleutians improvised a tire-repair shop and mended an average of 175 tires a day—thus saving thousands of pounds of precious rubber that otherwise would have been scrapped.

Railroaders with their THINKING CAPS on

Here we tell you about some good ideas thought up by the people of our railroad to help Southern Pacific carry its greatest traffic load in history. Such ideas contribute directly to Victory, because the railroad is the war industry all other war industries depend on!

Only a few of the ideas received in recent months are presented here. And some of the devices shown can be fully appreciated only by railroaders. But these ideas have a common denominator everybody will understand: All represent better ways to run a railroad!

Back in the 1860's our railroad itself was a new idea. The first Southern Pacific tracks were built largely into virgin, sparsely settled regions where great cities later grew.

And through the years the S.P. "family" has steadily pioneered such new ideas in railroading as low coach fares; moderately priced meal service in dining cars; and store-door pickup and delivery for less than carload freight. We operate more air-conditioned cars than any railroad west of the Mississippi. Even today, in wartime, our hard-pressed streamliners are still the nation's most beautiful trains.

You can be sure that S.P. men and women in the shops, yards, offices, stores and on the trains will continue their constant search for improved methods of railroading.

In this spirit of enterprise we find stimulation and encouragement for the future. Then, as now, good railroad transportation will be needed . . . and we know that railroaders with their thinking caps on will do their part to provide it. S.P. is planning for peacetime progress NOW!

THESE FOUR MEN worked out a horizontal airjack which saves delay to flat cars and manpower in blocking of flat cars into rigid units for loading with long piling. S.P. District Car Service Agent J. E. Whalley of Eugene (third from left) conceived the idea. Car Foreman W. H. McAllister (left) built first working model. W. E. Jackson drew blueprints for another at Eugene, where Master Car Repairer W. B. Medill (right) produced a second working model. Device improves on manually operated track jacks used for same purpose.

Watering of passenger cars has been simplified by specially-shaped extension pipe suggested by General Car Foreman C. H. D. Hansen of S.P.'s Mission Road Coach Yard. Method eliminates ladder and need to climb up on top of car to fill water tank.

Two hours time daily is saved by this device developed by S.P. Machinist Dow Nichols of Bakersfield. His idea involves a centering attachment for driving box boring mill. Machinists see this as a valuable contribution to good workmanship.

To extract journal bearings more easily and minimize danger of accidents, E. P. Morgan, S.P. Electric Welder of the Los Angeles Car Department, worked out this ingenious and specialized tool.

Ideas for improved production of brake shoes which saves 156,000 pounds yearly of critical metal formerly scrapped was suggested by Charles Walls, General Foreman of S.P. Blacksmiths at the Sacramento Shops.

Increased reclamation of war-vital zinc from used batteries, now S.P.'s only source of zinc, is made possible by idea of Wayne Ramsey, Reclamation and Welding Foreman at Sacramento General Stores. By Ramsey's method, adapting the hammermill, 400 pounds of zinc are produced daily against 100 pounds by former method. Hammermill rips open the zinc covering and breaks up carbon. Zinc pieces and crushed carbon are run through tumbler where carbon falls through perforations while zinc remains behind.

Greater accuracy, with saving of time and effort, is made possible by jigs developed by S.P. Machinist Earl Eckenberg at Los Angeles Shops. Jigs center alternator and pump motor heads for boring and fitting bushings.

Issuing train tickets to the public is speeded by this stockroom holder for ticket forms devised by Bob Steinbach, S.P. Ticket Clerk. Tickets hang from spindles, in logical order, permitting quick identification and handling.

To keep passengers posted as dining car seats become available, reducing wartime waiting-in-line, Conductor E. M. Benson suggested announcements over loudspeakers on S.P. Daylights. Our Conductors often contribute ideas.
