AMERICAN HEROES

BY LEFF

When war broke out, Marine Sgt. Maier J. Rothschild of New York City was studying journalism at night, selling stocks in Wall Street daytimes. On December 31, 1941, 21 days after Pearl Harbor, he enlisted. He's been awarded the Purple Heart for wounds received in hand to hand bayonet combat, and the Navy Cross for fighting off and killing 95 out of 150 of the enemy storming a machine-gun emplacement. He's not giving up until we win. And you? Are you still buying that extra War Bond?

Washington Snapshots

By James Preston

I've just come across a story here which seems to typify the essence of a free, democratic people and of a country determined to so remain.

It concerns Admiral Ernest King, tight-lipped, grim-visaged Chief of Staff of the Navy, and outwardly one of the chilliest personalities among the Nation's war chiefs.

A short while ago the Admiral was visiting his boyhood town, Lorain, O.
 He was being feted by the political, social and business leaders of that part of the state.

At the very height of the festivities he drew his host to one side and asked if he might borrow a car for a short time to attend to a personal errand.

His host, worried lest some harm befall his distinguished guest, sent a couple of huskies in another car to follow the Admiral. They trailed him to a humble section of the city, populated mostly by foreign-born laborers in the steel mills. To their surprise the Admiral stopped in front of the home of an old Polish couple, parked his car and entered the house.

The Admiral had known the old steel worker when he was a boy. The day before he left Washington he noticed the name of the old friend's son on the list of Navy seamen killed in action.

So while the great and the near great waited impatiently in another part of the city, their guest of honor sat with the old Polish couple, gently telling them the details they hungered for so greatly, of how their boy had gallantly gone to his death.

Before leaving, the Admiral took a photograph of the youth from the mantle, wrote across the bottom of it:
 "This boy died a hero, in the service of his country," and signed it simply "Admiral E. King."

Gasoline Can Be Made
 From Farm, Forest,
 And Sea Plants

Announcement of a process for making gasoline and coal from farm, forest and sea plants, enough to supply the world's needs, simpler and cheaper than other synthetic methods, was released Sunday by the American Chemical Society.

The process, telescoped into a few hours, with heat and pressure, what nature took millions of years to do in forming coal and oil. It was perfected by Dr. E. Berl, research professor at the Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh.

Dr. Berl said, for example, that sugar cane, planted on 2.1 per cent of America's available crop lands, could produce as much gasoline as America's 32,000,000 cars used the last year before we went to war.

Moreover you can have your sugar and your gasoline, too. If you first take the sugar from 110 tons of cane, there will still be left 2550 gallons of gasoline and nearly 4000 gallons of oils. In years when there is a surplus of sugar, you can omit the sweet and get about 400 more gallons of gasoline and proportionately more oil from the 110 tons.

The process is not limited to sugar.
 It will make coal or gasoline at will from sorghum, sweet potatoes, corn stalks and many other farm crops, from grass, leaves, Irish moss, seaweed algae, wood and sawdust.

In fact the farm wastes alone of one normal American year would, if they could be collected, make more than enough gasoline to run the 32-000,000 autos for a year.

A future farmer, Dr. Berl said, might even have a simple installation to make his own fuels to run his tractor and heat his home.

WAR BONDS are the safest investment in the wide world.

Staff Sergeant Kenneth Tricker, formerly of Multnomah, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for his outstanding service in England the past year, where he has been serving as waist-gunner on a bomber. Tricker, who is back in the states on leave has 25 flights over German to his credit.

When you teach people to serve, you

Thousands "got back in the harness"

FARM BOYS are apt to be husky fellows—good pilots and sailors and soldiers. Service stars hang in the windows of most farm homes.
 That complicates the problem of producing more food, particularly on dairy farms. Milk isn't reaped in a single harvest. Cows need individual care every morning, every night, every day of the week. So what has happened in the dairy regions all over the land?
 Men and women, little boys and girls, are working harder. Thousands of old-timers, who thought their working days were over, have "got back in the harness".

 In spite of difficulties, the Government's dairy goals must be met.
 More milk! And nutritious products of milk, such as cheese. Nearly 450 million pounds of cheese for our fighting men and fighting allies!
 Over 500 million more pounds for you and other civilians to eat!
 More than twice as much cheese as the nation could produce at the last war's end is needed now.
 America's dairy farmers shoulder a tremendous load. Fortunately for the U. S. A. and for the world, they have the spirit to carry it.

Because of the tremendous demand, both military and civilian, you may not be able to get as much Kraft Cheese as you would like, or get your favorite varieties—Kraft American, "Old English", "Philadelphia" Brand Cream Cheese, Velveeta, and so on. But you may be sure, as always, that any cheese or cheese food which bears the Kraft name represents the very highest standard of quality.
