end of his thrashing machine, put the discharge shoot in the loft, and did as much work with two men as five would normally do.

People wonder how the American farmer has managed to get along during the war, in the face of labor shortage. He has done it through determination and ingenuity. If it had not been for these assets plus the effective help of his marketing organizations, the farmer would have been out of business long ago.

Our acts make or mar us—we are children of our deeds.

Mechanized manure removal is the latest wrinkle now being developed for dairy farms. Agricultural engineers are experimenting with a slow moving, endless belt conveyor placed in the dropping trough. It is designed to deliver its load direct to the manure spreader outside the barn. This is not all that has come to light of late in the line of farm invention. A New York farmer, tired of pitching in hay by hand, cut off the blower

During the Revolution, Thomas Jefferson missed being captured by Tarleton's raiders by five minutes. Premonitions of a servant made possible the escape.

"Business is now paying most of the cost of social security. But the credit is going to the welfare worker, the social uplifter and the politician."

—Eric Johnston.

Any prosperity we've had recently will be out of your pocket.

Present neglect often makes future regret.

Remember!

WE'RE ELECTING BOTH A PRESIDENT and a VICE-PRESIDENT NOV. 7

No one can deny that the New Deal administration has grown tired and old. We see and hear fresh evidences of that fact almost daily. Four terms—a total of 16 years in the White House—is too much for any man! Do you want to deliver the U. S. into the hands of Hillman, Browder, Hague, Kelly and the Pendergast machine?

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"The war stories I like best, Judge, are the ones by the special writers overseas who live right with our troops. They give us a better idea of how our men react to things going on over there and back here at home."

"I agree with you, Sam. I never miss one of those stories in the papers or magazines. And there's one thing those writers seem to agree on no matter where they are stationed with our men... and that is that the men who have left their homes and families to go away and fight this war don't want to come back and find that prohibition has been put over on them while they were away... either nationally or locally. They have heard about the attempts being made and they resent it bitterly."

"I agree with them, Judge, even though I don't happen to drink myself. Furthermore, I don't think it's fair for us at home to be making any major changes while 10,000,000 of our fighting men are away and have no chance to express their opinions."
