The Country's First "War Loan" Advertisement

ADVERTISEMENT

Lancaster, May 6th. 1755.

NOTICE is hereby given to all who have contracted for single horses from York County to the Army at Wills Creek, that David M. Conaugby and Michael Schwoope of said county, Gentlemen, will attend on my behalf at York Town on Friday next, and at Philip Forneys on Saturday, to value or appraise all such wagons, teams and horses, as shall appear at those places on the said days for that purpose; and such as do not appear must be valued at Wills Creek. The wagons that are valued at York and Forneys are to set out immediately after valuation from thence to Wills Creek. The Conduct and Direction of Persons I shall appoint for the purpose. The owner or owners of each wagon or set of horses should bring with them to the Place of Valuation and deliver to the appraisers, a paper containing a description of their several horses in writing, with their several marks natural and artificial; which paper is to be annexed to the contract. Each wagon should be furnished with a cover, that the goods laden therein may be kept from damage by the rain, and the health of the drivers preserved, who are to lodge in the wagons. And each cover should be marked with the contractor's name in large characters. Each wagon, and every horse driver, should also be furnished with a hook or sickle, fit to cut long grass that grows in the country beyond the mountains. As all the wagons are obliged to carry a load of oats, or Indian corn, persons who have such grain to dispose of are desired to be cautious how they hinder the King's Service, by demanding an extravagant price on this occasion. B. FRANKLIN.

BEN FRANKLIN, at Lancaster, Pennsylvania, on May 6, 1755, caused to be written what is termed the country's first war loan advertisement. Franklin warned his readers against inflationary prices lest they "hinder the King's Service," a on the original are the words used by Franklin. This was a loan of materials and not of dollars.

Useful Moustache

Found: a good reason for a hand-drawn moustache. S/Sgt. Joe Moffitt, Carbondale, Pa., who owns the utilitarian brush, is waist gunner in a Flying Fortress. Ball turret gunner of the same plane is his twin, S/Sgt. Eddie Moffitt, whose upper lip is bare. The moustache saves their buddies in the 15th AAF in Italy a whale of confusion.

$64 Question

Air Service Command in Italy—Sgt. Dan Carmichael of Detroit spoke no Italian. The Italian jewelry store proprietor spoke no English. So Carmichael had a tough time explaining that he wanted "Italy 1945" engraved on his heavy gold school ring to send as a souvenir to his wife in Pasadena.

Then Carmichael wanted to know how long the job would take. The proprietor didn't understand until the sergeant wrote out his question on a slip of paper. He told Carmichael it would be no trouble at all, to return the next day.

The following day the sergeant came back. The ring was ready. The old merchant handed it proudly across the counter. Carmichael took one brief look:

In beautiful block letters right across the face of the ring were the words "HOW LONG."

A-26 Invader, New U. S.

Plane Is Heavily Armed

PARIS.—The A-26 Invader, newest American attack bomber in operation on the Western front, carries 10 50-caliber machine guns, Allied headquarters announced. It was the first disclosure of any details of the plane's armament.

Six of the guns fire forward and are controlled by the pilot. The other member of the crew fires four flexible guns in top and bottom turrets.

In strafing operations, the top turret can be locked in position and controlled by the pilot while the gunner operates the lower turret.

German-Speaking Yank

Is Captured With Nazis

WITH THE UNITED STATES THIRD ARMY EAST OF BASTOGNE.—So security conscious are the doughboys in this area that they captured a German speaking American sergeant who had been on a mission in a forward area.

The sergeant had a German accent, and despite his protests the doughboys stripped off his American uniform and marched him to the rear with a collection of Germans.

It took him two hours to prove his identity and gain his release.

'Get a Sax,' Judge Tells

Man Iried by Trumpet

LIMA, OHIO. — A defendant, pleading guilty to assault and battery, told Judge J. B. Steiner the fight started when he attempted to persuade his apartment neighbor to cease "musical" habits.

"All he could play on his trumpet was the scales and all his wife could play on the piano was 'Three Blind Mice,' and they did incessantly."

Judge Steiner suspended the fine and sentence and advised the defendant: "Get yourself a saxophone in self-defense."
