

Mole Kills Gopher In a Barrel

Couple of the worst pests in everybody's garden is the gopher and the mole and the quicker they are eradicated—the better your crops will be.

Walter Zurcher who lives over by Elmtonia, happened to catch a live mole and gopher about the same time of day, curious to know which one would win in a finish fight—he put them in a small barrel—then shook up the barrel in good shape, how the fur did fly—and which one won—it was the mole!

Now if some Pled Piper will get the gophers to declare war on the moles—give them plenty of "Lend Lease" to fight to a finish—that will be half of the job well done—then stir up civic war among the winners—like some agitators are trying to do today in different parts of the world—furnish the civic with plenty "Lend Lease" by that time the Golden Age for gardeners will have arrived!

Wisch Commended

Fred E. Wisch, route 2, Beaverton, and other members of the 115th Naval Construction Battalion have won commendation for their work at Luzon, where they were called upon to complete emergency repairs and landing strips while exposed to large caliber shelling and Jap air attacks, the Navy has announced.

The Seabee outfit previously had seen action at Milne Bay, New Guinea, late in 1943. There, for four months, they worked around the clock, seven days a week, handling as many as 63 projects at the same time, and never falling short of a deadline on any of them.

Records of the outfit show that at Milne, its members laid the equivalent of two square miles of concrete slabs, eight inches thick, and logged and milled more than 1,000,000 feet of native lumber of all sizes in a single mill.

Carroll on USS Hamlin

George Eliot Carroll, boatswain's mate, second class, USNII, route 2, Beaverton, and other crewmen of the seaplane tender USS Hamlin played an important role in the far-reaching, extensive damage dealt Japan by the famed Fleet Air Wing One during the closing 100 days of the Pacific war.

Moving into combat waters during the campaign for Okinawa and later in operations around the Japanese homeland, the Hamlin backed up planes of the air wing that sank more than 155,000 tons of enemy shipping, damaged another 13,000 tons and shot down 40 enemy planes during the 100-day period.

At the same time, the Hamlin also was taking part in the fighting as gunners and other crew members went to General Quarters to help repel air attacks as many as 88 times in a single month.

Cop: "Have you a warning signal on the front of your car?" Girl Driver: "Yes, sir, I have a little sign that says Dodge Brothers."

A black button on a white cloth is seen as easily under the light of a single candle as a black illuminated by a brilliant electric light.

To Believe-Is to Live

Death is a friend to no man. To the believer, however, it serves as the gateway to that "more abundant life."
"Whosoever believeth in Him (Jesus) should not perish, but have eternal life." St. Jn. 3:15.
Do you want to live? An absurd question—We all do! "Believe," then, "on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved."
