Chemistry Helps On Perspiration Stains In Summer

Summer garments that hang unworn in the closet because of underarm perspiration stains can sometimes be reclaimed. These stains will loosen come out with ordinary washing or dry cleaning, but a little elementary chemistry first will sometimes help restore color, says Miss Lucy Lane, extension clothing specialist at Oregon State college.

Body perspiration is usually acid, so counteract fresh stains with a alkali, she explains. Lather the spot with water and hold it for a few minutes over the fumes from a bottle of ammonia water. Or—for cotton, linen, and other materials that do not water spot—dilute the ammonia water to half strength, apply a few drops directly to the stain and rinse thoroughly. Ammonia water affects some dyes, so have white vinegar handy to stop the action of the alkali if the fabric begins to change color.

Perspiration stains that have been allowed to "set" for a few days may become alkaline. So if an old stain fails to respond to the ammonia water treatment, reverse the process and use vinegar—a mild acid, Miss Lane adds. Sponging with vinegar sometimes restores color, though an old stain is more difficult to remove than a fresh one.

Yellow perspiration stains on white material will sometimes vanish when bleached in the sun after washing with soap and water. For stubborn stains, sponge with hydrogen peroxide. Or quickly dip the stained spots into a solution of two teaspoons sodium hydrosulfite to one pint water, and rinse immediately, but test the cloth for color fastness to this bleach before using.

Perspiration odors sometimes can be removed from garments that are not yet ready for the laundry or dry cleaner. Sponge the spot with warm water to which a few drops of vinegar have been added. Sprinkle with powdered pepsin, working the pepsin into the cloth. Then let stand one to two hours, keeping the spot moist. Brush off the powder and rinse well.

New Auto Parts Available Now

Approximately 2550 tons of new auto leaves and assemblies, urgently needed in the automotive industry, are now available from the national inventory of War Assets Administration, the Portland office announced today. The stock is at the Letterkenny Ordnance depot, Chambersburg, Penn., but all inquiries should be sent direct to the National Automotive Parts office, 300 Barlum Tower, Detroit 26, Mich.

Oregon Local Club Leader and Boy Member Are National Winners in 4-H Movie Talent Contest

Mrs. Helen Kimble

Don Guerber

OREGON has the distinction of producing national winners in two separate divisions of a 4-H movie talent contest conducted among local club leaders and members throughout the United States. They are Mrs. Helen Kimble, housewife, of Turner, and Don Guerber, 17-year-old 4-H boy, of Hillsboro.

Mrs. Kimble is one of the ten highest rating local 4-H Club leader entrants in the movie story writing division. Don wins similar honors in the 4-H boys' division for talent to play a leading role in the movie, which will have national distribution. In recognition of the honors, Mrs. Kimble and Don will receive a $50.00 and a $25.00 U. S. Savings Bond, respectively.

The movie, titled "Where the Road Turns Right," is designed to stimulate interest among rural youth, to help reach the goal of 3 million members by 1950. Produced in cooperation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the State Extension Service and National 4-H Club News, it will be sponsored by the Sears-Roebuck Foundation.

Mrs. Kimble, who lives on her 5-acre farm in Marion county, is the mother of two girls, one of whom is a 4-H Club member. Her movie story, based on her own experience, was inspired by the achievements of the "Lucky 13" 4-H Cooking II Club, of which she is the adult leader. Mrs. Kimble is secretary pro-tem of the Women's Club in the Pringle community (near Salem), and a member of the Pringle School Hot Lunch Committee.

Don has been a 4-H Club member for nine years, and lives with his parents on their 230-acre farm in Washington county. He took part in 33 plays, vaudeville programs and concerts in grade and high schools, made many speeches before inter-club, county and state meetings of 4-H and civic clubs, and as president, represented the Hillsboro High School students at numerous public gatherings. Don was also song leader and a member of Helvetia 4-H Club orchestra. He attended Pacific University at Forest Grove, Ore., as a special music student in 1945-46.

Cripple Healed

Four men brought a helpless cripple and laid him at the feet of Jesus. Seeing their faith, the Lord Jesus then and there healed the man. Healed him, for the man rose up and walked—KNOW YOUR BIBLE. By His many miracles, even to raising the dead, Christ proved Himself to be Creator, Author and Giver of Life.

OLD RAGS A NEW MAN — You see Old Rags staggering, cursing and vermin infected. On a day he heard the voice of God calling him to face about and put his trust in Christ. Victor over sin and the grave. So it was that Old Rags put his remnant of a life into Christ's keeping and you see him today, alert, dressed and making good, his family gathered about, his business in hand and on the up and up.—As told by Dr. Lewis Sperry Chafer.

Christ is the same yesterday, today and forever. He ever delights to honor the faith of all who put their trust in Him—Trust and obey, for there's no other way, to be happy in Jesus but to trust and obey. Trust Him as having died for your sins. Trust Him to break up your sinful ways and trust Him to lift you up to glory on Resurrection Morn.
