Boy and Plow Horse

The boy pulled the old horse to a stop and gave ear. Then like the rising sun, a new light came into his face, a surprised look, an eagerness, a joy and an exclamation—
—Then all my sins are off my page and it is clear! A new boy, he was alert, awake. He knew that he was out from under the death sentence that hangs over every soul that ever committed a sin.

And would the boy like to bow his head and say a word of thanks? At this he dropped the lines over the plow handle, took off his hat, bowed his head and gave thanks in his own words from a heart at peace because of sins blotted out and new life given.

And how do believers, old or new, come to know that God has made them his own? ONE—Believe and keep on believing. Believe that the blood of Christ has blotted out your sins. TWO—Press ahead, live by the Bible and look utterly and always to Christ for hourly strength to see you through. So you overcome in the trials of the day and the old sins. And sooner or later there comes the holy hour when the Spirit of God bears witness with your spirit that God has made you his own. You his and he your heavenly Father forever and forever.

GROUND FORCES WINTER EQUIPMENT TEST IN ARCTIC—

Winter's cold and snow, as illustrated here, will be a daily companion to 4,000 Army Ground Forces troops taking part in winter equipment tests to be held in Alaska and Camp McCoy, Wisconsin, between October 1 and April 30, 1947. Three separate task forces will determine the extent to which existing equipment will function and what new equipment is required for the ground team to fight under all winter conditions. Task forces "Williwaw" and "Frigid" are being assembled for early departure for Adak, Alaska, and Fairbanks, Alaska, while task force "Frost" already is at Camp McCoy.

Left, equipped with heavy clothing to offset extremes of cold the pictured soldier is representative of 4,000 Ground Forces troops to test equipment in Alaska and at Camp McCoy, Wisconsin. Right, in a practical test showing a patient being brought to a first aid station on an improvised litter toboggan.

Another Walking Horse

J. S. Grimstead has just received another Tennessee Walking Horse by express from Lewisburg, Tennessee. She is a three year old bay mare "Lady of Holly Springs, No. 444336 and will be stabled at Grimstead's Welcome Ranch.

Marshall Wells

Have New Owners

The Marshalls-Wells Store in Tigard, formerly owned by Llewellyn Mitchell and James Willock, reopened Tuesday, October 1, under new management.

The new owners are W. J. Doherty of Detroit, Michigan, his brother H. E. Doherty of Portland, and the latter's son Don E. Doherty, also of Portland. They will continue the same type of service as Willock and Mitchell and carry the same line of produce.

W. J. Doherty has previously been in the hardware business, so comes to Tigard with considerable experience.

The Doherty families plan to move into the Tigard community as soon as they find housing facilities. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Doherty have already purchased a home in Metzger.

Freezer Sold

The Freezer, alias "Ye Old Tigers Den," adjoining the Tigard High school grounds, has been sold by "Billie" Ariss to Lee Ariss who in turn has leased it to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beatty for a five year period. The Beattys plan to re-open within three weeks, after renovating and redecorating. The tiger's head on the floor of the freezer's entrance is identical to the one on the Tigard High gym floor. The pictures of former graduates adorning the wall, are not to be removed.

VA Medical Chief

Dr. Paul R. Hawley, who heads the Veterans Administration's Department of Medicine and Surgery, recently swapped his two stars and six rows of campaign ribbons for civilian attire. Dr. Hawley served as chief surgeon for the European Theatre during World War II.
