Calling All Lovers

You send her candy and flowers and at last she names the day that is to make you happy on through the years.

Now for the oldest love story of all. A father had two sons and the youngest pled for his share of the family wealth. At length the father divided it and the young fellow packed off into a far country and there wasted his all in a wild life. When he was down and out, there came a famine in the land and son found work feeding hogs and was hungry for the very pods they ate.

Then it was that son came to himself and faced about to travel back to the hills of home. His father saw him afar off and ran to him and fell on his neck and kissed him, telling the servants to kill the fatted calf, for they must eat, drink and be merry—For this my son was dead and is alive again. He was lost and is found.
—BIBLE. Luke 15th.
Christ spoke this to make clear how God yearns to have us turn home. Turn, believe the Bible, that Christ died for your sins and that you are in the clear. Right there, God gives you new birth and becomes your Heavenly Father. Being born again, born of God, you should press ahead and prove the new life, looking utterly to Christ for victory over old ways and worries.

OSC Issues Recipes
For Soapmaking

So many people are asking how to make homemade soap that the extension service in home economics has issued a mimeographed circular giving a number of recipes for turning fat into soap for use either in the laundry or bath.

With one recipe six pounds of fat and one can of lye are needed to make nine pounds of hard soap.

Other recipes are given for white soap, abrasive soap and soft soap.

This circular, No. HE 1975, also contains directions for increasing the quantity of soap by mixing with sal soda and soft water. By this method four pounds of white bar soap are run through a food chopper or sliced with a knife.

The chopped soap is boiled until dissolved in four gallons of soft water. One pound of sal soda is then added, making a mixture that is ready to use immediately.
