Need For Teenage Recreation

While great strides are being made in the recreation program for small children we are doing very little for our teen-agers and here the need is great.

They need a place of their own to go to in the evenings both for study and for recreation. They need a place to have dances and they need their own organization to meet and solve their problems.

Bill Knepp, one of our high school students, who came to us from Pacific Grove, Cal. was in on the organization and working out of such a program in Pacific Grove.

Here the same need was felt for evening entertainment, so a group of 3 boys took a poll of the town to find out (1) what the people thought the students should be doing for their evening amusement and (2) who was willing to offer his services if necessary.

Enthusiasm was worked up through the student council and a committee went to the City Council explaining their needs and ideas.

Cooperation between the City Council and the Junior Chamber of Commerce made possible a gift of $500 and a $500 loan. A total of $1,000, half of which was paid back.

A location was found and the high school members redecorated it and made furniture. They built and ran a snack bar. They made ping pong tables, a reading room for study and purchased a billiard table. They organized 3 dance bands.

A regular chaperon was hired and the club was open from 3:30 to 5:30 week days and 7:30 to 9:30 on Wednesday evening. Friday usually a dance was held and the club was open from 7:30 to 12:00. Saturday hours were 2:30 to 5:30 and 7:30 to 12:30.

Funds for its running were secured through the snack bar and from the $1.00 for two months dues charged each member.

"The Lord helps those who help themselves" is a true statement. Beaverton's young people need just a start to carry out their own program. The greatest stumbling block is a location. Can't this obstacle be surmounted? Many of our buildings are not in use all the time. Here is a challenge worthy of our metal. Let us accept it.

Farm Labor Outlook Brighter

The outlook for farm labor in Oregon this year is the brightest since before the war, county farm labor assistants agreed in a recent state wide farm labor staff conference at Oregon State college.

The O.S.C. extension service men who manage county farm labor offices in the different counties reported a decided improvement in the quality of farm helpers and in the number of them available. Placements of workers in farm jobs by the county farm labor offices are from 50 to 100 per cent higher than a year ago, according to J. R. Beck, state farm labor supervisor.

Two factors that are expected to contribute to an improved farm labor situation in Oregon this year are the newly established information stations to aid migratory

Babson Looks Ahead Five Years

Eureka Kansas, April 25. I hope I am wrong; but the following is a brief summary of my vision for the next five or more years whatever Russia may do. This, moreover, is based upon forty years of forecasting experience and the expenditure of millions of dollars on business research.

(1) I am reasonably sure of at least two more years of fair business. If the U. S. adopts the right international policy, this can be extended to five years or more. Certainly, the agricultural sections out here are happy and see no reason for any business depression.

(2) My manufacturing friends are very much upset by labor's demands and believe that "sooner or later" we will witness a Great Depression with millions of unemployed. Commodity, real estate and stock prices will be very much lower than at present, they claim.

(3) When visiting Washington I find a belief that unless Russia collapses in the meantime there will then be a communistic uprising in the U. S. If our Federal Government is not then taken over by the Communists, through democratic procedure, certain state and city governments certainly will be. Yes, Washington is very jittery, and President Truman is scared blue.

(4) If these Congressmen are right, a panic of tremendous proportions could take place with people leaving the big cities and seeking refuge in the self-sustaining sections of the Central West. I refer to areas with their own food, fuel and housing supplies and which are not dependent on railroad transportation.

(5) If that time comes, or when the danger is fully evident, it will be too late to prepare for it. You cannot take out fire insurance on your house when it is burning! Yet, today there are several ways to prepare yourself and family both against communistic uprisings from within and Russian bombs from without.

Both of these factors would dangerously affect industry in and around many large cities. The first "hedge" would be to migrate with your families to some small interior city in the Central Area of the United States. If you don't care to take so definite a step now you can at least now make a start by re-arranging your investments. In the light of this situation there are three classifications of investments to be considered. These are Safest Investments, Bomb Targets and Semi-Protected Investments.

Safest Investments should include those companies whose assets or sources of materials are decentralized, or underground or indestructible. Among these are certain Land, Chemical and Mining companies most of whose assets are well scattered, well buried or obtained from the sea. Also, companies processing or packing food products whose assets are in or near Agricultural Areas, Some Lumber and Sea Food companies should be included in this group.

Bomb Targets should include most heavy industries such as Steels, Locomotives, Automobiles and Machinery. Other companies whose principal income is derived from Food Distribution in large cities would be vulnerable. Utilities, including transportation, gas and electricity, Electrical Equipment Manufacturers, Large Department Stores, Drug Companies and Restaurant Chains would all be open to attack.

Semi-Protected Investments are those based upon somewhat scattered assets with at least the greater portion in "safe" areas. I have in mind such industries as the Container Companies, certain Meat Packing Companies, Oil Companies, Chain Store Systems, Communication Companies and finally Publishing Companies whose good will and reputation are in the same category as trademarks and cannot be "bombed" out.

CONCLUSION

When I am in New York City with my banking friends, I am inclined to be bullish. When in manufacturing centers with those plagued by severe labor troubles, I become bearish. When, however, I am out here at the very center of the U. S. viewing our great virgin areas of grain, forests, minerals and happy people, I am neither bearish nor bullish. I, however, do advise my readers now to get and keep out of debt. Hope for the best, but prepare for the worst.

Kill To Wed

KILL YOUR MAN.—What of the young savage in the African jungle who must kill an enemy before he can take a wife? He never saw a Bible nor was he ever taught by man not to kill. Does he die lost? Truly he does, for they who sin without the law shall perish without the law.—BIBLE.

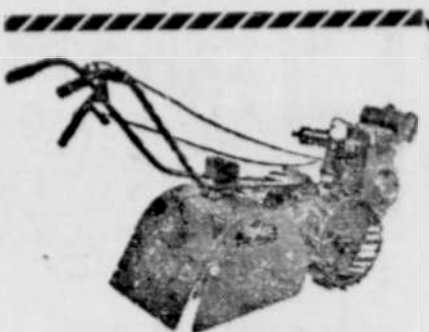

THEY KNOW.—Yes, he knows better for on the heart of every child born, God engraves his law that says man must not kill, steal, commit adultery, blaspheme nor lie. And more yet—God gives to each that inner voice of conscience, God's warning, his STOP LIGHT. Out of it all, he knows he has sinned.

LIFTED OUT.—Now in the face of all the murder and lust at the ends of the earth, a vast company of heathen are being lifted out of their sin to be made into the image of Christ. The Message of God's love wins them—the old, old story of redeeming love. They listen and heed the Good News that God had a Son who died for their sins. They receive Christ into their heart as Lord and Saviour and God gives them new birth and his own God-nature.

Which is better? To live in America and die lost or to dwell in the Dark Continent and receive Christ and eternal life.

Mrs. Harry E. Kresal
ROUTE 1, BOX 19C, HILLSBORO, OREGON
Pays 1/2 as much for electricity since moving to PGE area
The Kresals and their two children, age 5 and 13, came to Oregon from Minneapolis 2 1/2 years ago. In Hillsboro, they purchased a modern home with a half acre of ground.
Mr. Kresal likes Oregon for its mild climate because he works outside all year 'round.
But Mrs. Kresal's delight is the saving she realizes in electricity, enabling her to have many electric servants to help with the housework. "Over the last 10 months my electric bill has averaged only $5.79 a month." In Minneapolis she would have paid $10.67, nearly twice as much, for the same use of electricity.

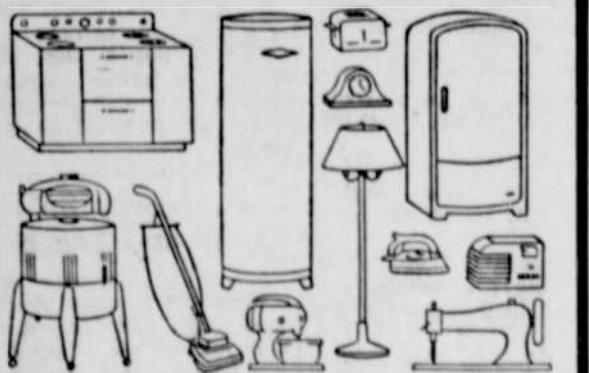

Everywhere PGE Lines Go, It's Economical to Live Electrically

● More than half of Oregon's people live in the Lower Willamette Valley region served by PGE. And every home—in town or out—can easily afford to go "all-electric" because PGE delivers electricity at the lowest region-wide rate in the nation.

Among the 150,000 homes and farms served by PGE, average use of electricity is 2 1/4 times the national average, average cost per kilowatt-hour less than half the national average. The farmer enjoys the same low electric rate as the city dweller. PGE offers to each an equal opportunity for time-saving, economical and comfortable electrical living.

Plan now to go "all-electric." If you cook and heat water electrically, you can save money by applying for PGE's "All-Electric Home" rate. No other distributor delivers electricity so low in cost, to so many homes and farms, over so wide an area.

Mrs. Kresal uses these appliances in her All Electric Home

- In her former home they would cost Mrs. Kresal $10.67 a month
- In PGE area they cost her only $5.79 a month
