Sam Helps with the Dishwashing

Dropped in at the Abernathy's just the other evening—and there was Sam, out in the kitchen with an apron on, helping his missus wash the supper dishes. (And then I learned later he'd helped cook the supper, too.)

Of course, Sam could have settled into his favorite chair, enjoyed his evening glass of beer, and left all the messy kitchenwork to Dixie. But he kind of likes her company—and she in turn certainly appreciates his help.

In fact, sharing the housework and the mealtime chores is sort of a bond between them... like sharing that friendly glass of beer together, when the work is done. It's one of those little all-important things in marriage.

From where I sit, the time that a man and wife can spend with each other in this busy world today is all too precious. And the more things they can do together, the better.

Next Sunday afternoon there will be a meeting at Ray's, to play games and to practice drilling. This is to be followed by a ride to the Strauss home for refreshments. The next monthly business meeting will be the first Thursday in August, at the C. P. Huddleston home.

Anyone interested in joining the club is invited to write to the secretary, Mrs. J. Strauss,
