"Now, You Take the Ball!"

There are streets in the city of Beaverton which shame the very name and, as winter rains continue, travel through many parts of the community will become next to impossible. In case of emergency, such as fire or serious illness, the loss of life or property might well be laid at the very feet of such street maintenance neglect.

The city council, upon whom rests a measure of responsibility in regard to street improvement, may not be doing everything that all citizens feel it should. Regardless of the evidence such sentiment merits, however, there are limits which the annual city budget imposes upon the council and which restricts the scope of work that body can do.

In another part of this week's paper, there is a summary of the city ordinance which deals with street improvement. This is the instrument which directs the council's authority.

Progress is coming. City mail delivery is almost upon us. There are things that must be done, within the next year, if we are not to let Progress pass us by!

Let's not renege our interest in or sound criticism of city government. This is a vital ingredient of good citizenship.

But there is a further direction to take. Like at a football game, when everything else has blocked a touchdown, why not come down from your comfortable seat in the grandstand, where you can see so clearly what should be done? Get in the game.

Then you take the ball and run with it.

People Are Ready Enough!

Judging immediate reactions from President Truman's appeal to the special session of Congress, citizens of Tualatin Valley are ready enough to see an end to the dangerous spiral of inflation.

Well they should be, with even the President's conservative figure of prices having increased over 35% in the last eighteen months.

But the people are confused.

They have seen price controls in operation, and watched—even helped in many instances—the growth of an insidious black market. They have been assaulted on every side, since the end of the war, with charges and countercharges alleging the law of supply and demand does—and does not—take care of price stabilizations.

Too many, after participating casually in periodic elections, leave themselves at the mercy of their elected representatives. And so, while enjoying some sort of numerically sufficient wages, they awake with a jolt to the threatening specter of inflation—and the disaster it means.

Many citizens, longing for confidence and assurance in the people who head their government, will earnestly wish that someone in the arena of national government affairs has an answer to this dominating problem—an answer which cannot be turned by subterfuge against the very end it seeks to reach.

Yes, Mr. President, if you have an idea and will fight to see it through to full, honest enforcement and administration, you will find one thing for sure:

The people are ready enough to end this growing nightmare!

Accolade To Civic Spirit

The devotion to civic ideals, which has actuated a broad segment of the people resident of the Multnomah-West Portland area to give their time and convenience to work for establishment of recreational facilities in the district, deserves heartfelt commendation possible.

Realize that these people, impressed by a vital lack in their community life, have slogged through rain and mud, ringing doorbells to bring their message to people who otherwise might not participate in the broad movement. Consider the hours upon hours that formulation of a long range program entails. Credit this group, not only the leaders but the workers as fully, with selflessness and concern with a problem that looms more and more important in the development of their young.

Here is a program which should draw support, not only from the immediate vicinity in which it began. Groups and organizations throughout the entire Tualatin Valley should contact some member of the Neighborhood Parks Council and offer serious, sincere help to this project.

It is not enough for people living adjacent to this proposed recreational project to sit back and say, "Mighty fine job, there!" For such a recreational program, when it is completed, will draw participation by many youngsters from all parts of Tualatin Valley.

Better it is to face the facts that an ambitious undertaking, such as the Neighborhood Parks Council is certainly grappling with, needs support, and wide support, from other communities facing the same, critical need.

Mrs. Vera Withington, 7022 S. W. 33rd or Mrs. Allen W. Davis, 3424 S. W. Hume can direct any inter-community cooperation and will help arrange the working out of even a broader recreational program.

Let helpful, constructive effort be your accolade to the civic spirit which sees the beginnings of this recreational district.

BEAVERTON High Lights

(By Joe Rigert)

WHAT A JOLT

The Newberg Tigers lowered the boom on a luckless Beaver eleven, when they walloped the locals 40-6 before a rain-soaked gang of rooters that saw the Beaver ripped to shreds at Newberg Friday.

The Orange and Black barely avoided a shutout when Bob Zahler, who played a whale of a game at half, found a big opening and slipping thru the surprised Tigers, sped down the sidelines on an electrifying 65-yard touchdown gallop. That was the sum total of Bevo threats as the Tigers tallied in every quarter and twice in the second and third.

—BHS—

UNHAPPY END

Thus the '47 pigskin season was brought to an inglorious end with the locals showing occasional flashes of form but never displaying a consistent defense to beat back enemy threats. The backfield, however, proved to be speedy and capable of going places. Standouts on the line were Hesselgesser and Cornils, guards, who justified all pre-season ratings. Of the backs, Oldenburg and Zahler merited watching as they romped to 5 touchdowns and broke loose for many good gains.

PLAY LAST GAME

Starting out with a green team, Coach Bader didn't expect miracles, and despite the record, the locals gained valuable experience that every winning team needs. Since almost the entire squad will be back next year, prospects for a good season look bright. Seniors who saw their last game are: Denny O'Donnell, Mark Cornils, Dick Hesselgesser, Gene Pfeifer, Bob Massingill, Tom Cook, Jim Smith, Dave Witt, Dick Batke and Art Bacon.

READ AND WEEP

The season's record was one win and six losses and one tie. Beaverton scores are: 6 Gresham 20; 13 Tillamook 0; 12 West Linn 27; 0 Forest Grove 7; 0 McMinnville 20; 0 Tigard 0; 6 Hillsboro 32; 6 Newberg 40.

—BHS—

"B" SQUAD SURPRISES

The B-Squad, playing its first and last game of the season, showed surprising strength when they held the strong Hillb B's to a 14-7 victory last Wednesday. The only local tally came when Stevens ender a paydirt drive by smashing over from the 2. The Little Beavers displayed a stout defense but they simply didn't have the experience to cope with the Spartans.

NEW CLASS OFFICERS

Congratulations to the new class officers elected Monday, Nov. 10. Class presidents are: Seniors Dave Buffam, noted for enthusiasm and interest in activities; Juniors Zane Mulhausen with a ready grin, he is a true "buddy." Sophomores, Don Strandburg, a likeable football player. Don is going places; Freshmen, Jimmy Tsegawa, a distinctive football hero, Jimmy won the friendship and admiration of the student body.

VOLLEY... GOLLY

One of those hilarious volleyball games between girls and women faculty members is on tab for Friday, Nov. 21. The game, in which anything can happen and probably will, will be held at the gym with a small admission charge. Everyone is welcome, so turn out and enjoy the fireworks, because there's bound to be action.

JOINS STAFF AND KEY

Evelyn Marsh of Beaverton was elected to Staff and Key, a women's service organization at Oregon College of Education at Monmouth. The organization is composed of girls outstanding in leadership, friendliness, cooperation, scholarship and loyalty. Membership is by invitation.

PTA Membership Climbs To Over Three Hundred

Twenty-three, including the officers committee chairman and room mothers attended the Executive Board meeting of the Beaverton Grade School Parent Teacher Association, Thursday, November 13, at the home of Mrs. Roy Cavens. Mrs. Cavens and Mrs. Charles Drew were co-hostesses.

The Board welcomed Ruthann McKenzie as the new music chairman, taking the place of Mrs. A. W. Beguin, who has resigned because of ill health. Mrs. Rosebrough and Mrs. Shear will assist Mrs. McKenzie in this work.

Treasurer, Mrs. Newman Ward reports a bank balance of $509.64, proceeds from the October Carnival having swelled the account. The Board members, in behalf of the entire Association, gave personal thanks to Mrs. Holeman and Mrs. Hulings, who head the Ways and Means Committee, for their remarkable work in making the Carnival so successful.

Membership has climbed to over three hundred, according to Mrs. Charles Drew, chairman of membership enrollment. As the membership contest closes just before Thanksgiving, all who wish to join P. T. A. but have not been contacted, are urged to call Mrs. Drew soon.

Rev. Bowers stated at the meeting that he is anxious to interest the PTA membership in the "Institute of Family Relations" program being held weekly by the First Methodist and the Bethel Congregational Churches, as the lectures and following discussions are of superlative interest to all young parents.

The Association again voted to help the Washington County Health Association which is cooperating with the Oregon Tuberculosis Association in finding unknown cases of T. B. The Mobile X-ray Unit will be in Beaverton on December 13. You are requested to make appointment for your X-ray ahead of that date. A worker will call at your home and you may make appointment to suit your convenience.

The Washington County Council of PTA will meet at Cedar Mills on December 9 from 10:00 a. m. to 3:00 p. m. Those attending will please take a bag lunch, drinks will be served.

The November Business meeting will be held Tuesday, November 25 at 8:00 p. m. in the Grade School Auditorium. The program will be devoted to the Youth Organizations of Beaverton, under direction of Mrs. Harris Hansen, chairman of the Character Building committee and promises to be of much interest to all. Refreshments are to be served by the 6th grade room mothers, Mrs. A. C. Enger and Mrs. Paul Knepp under direction of Room Mother chairman Mrs. G. V. Palmrose.
