ODAKO KNIT SQUARES
The Odako Campfire group, sponsored by the West Slope Mothers club, met at the home of their guardian, Mrs. John Robinson, for a general business meeting. The girls brought their knit squares for the afghans they are working on for the Red Cross, and worked on them at the meeting. Mrs. Robinson read the girls several poems, which they enjoyed very much. Those present at this meeting were Ilene Boge, Suzanne Barnes, Patricia Madden, Dorothy Eddy, Caroline Hullings, Gretta Robinson, and Jean Cowie. All members were present. Camp Fire Girls Join Campaign To Fight Paralysis

In an effort to make our local campaign for the March of Dimes a big success this year, seven groups of Campfire girls and Bluebirds helped Mr. Jim Duncan, head of the local campaign, by distributing money folders and bills for announcing the March of Dimes basketball benefit, last week. Dividing the area into districts, the girls went from door-to-door so that every home that had not already received a folder would receive one.

These groups participated in the campaign and covered the following territories: Odako group, under the leadership of Mrs. John Robinson, West Slope; fourth grade, under Mrs. Virginia Cavens, Westdale dist.; 5th grade group under Mrs. Donald Jenkins, East Beaverton; high school group, under Mrs. G. V. Palmrose, central section of Beaverton; Tanda group under Mrs. Ben McCue, West Beaverton; and second grade and third grade groups, under Mrs. Roy Anderson, Mrs. Carl Grandy, and Mrs. Harold Gregory, North Beaverton.

Most of the groups met at the homes of their guardians, and after receiving their folders and instructions, went to their districts from there. Much enthusiasm was shown by the girls at this opportunity to help in such a worthy cause. These girls hope now that everyone cooperates by enclosing their contribution in the folders, and mailing them in one hundred per cent.

2ND AND 3RD GRADERS

The second and third grade Bluebird girls met Thursday, Jan. 22, at 2:00 p. m. in the Beaverton grade school cafeteria. A short business meeting was held, during which plans were made to help distribute March of Dimes folders to Beaverton residences. The girls then made little felt bluebirds during the handcraft session. The meeting was adjourned at 2:55 p. m. after singing some songs.

ST. CECILIA BLUEBIRDS

The second and third grade Bluebird girls of the St. Cecilia school had their regular meeting Thursday. They are sponsored by the Mothers club of the St. Cecilia school. Mrs. John Sweeney, their guardian, read them several short stories, which the girls liked very much. All seven members were present at this session. After a period of games, the meeting was adjourned.

FOURTH GRADERS

The fourth grade Bluebirds of the Beaverton grade school met Thursday at the grade school cafeteria, under the leadership of Mrs. Virginia Cavens. During the short business session, Mrs. Cavens told the girls about the part they were to do in the distributing of the March of Dimes folders. This group also made felt bluebird pins in their handcraft period and joined in the songs with the second and third grade girls at the end of the meeting, after which the meeting adjourned.

TANDAS SKATE

The Tanda group of Campfire girls went on a skating party to Hillsboro Friday evening, Jan. 23. All members of the group were present, except Sylvia Kain, who was ill with the flu. The girls were accompanied by Mrs. George Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Ben McCue. Mrs. Sam Holmes and Mr. Phillip Mead also furnished transportation for the girls. The girls had as their guests at the party, Joan Eastham, Dean Mead, Geraldine Reavis, and Donald McCue. Everyone skated and though there were a few spills, everyone had a wonderful time.

GUARDIANS MEET

The monthly meeting of the Guardians association of Beaverton Camp Fire was held Tuesday, Jan. 20, at the health room of the Beaverton grade school. These guardians were present: Mrs. Harold Gregory, Mrs. Virginia Cavens, Mrs. Carl Grandy, Mrs. Donald Jenkins, Mrs. Wilbert Johannemeier, Mrs. Ruth McCue, Mrs. Strayer, of the McKay district, and Mrs. John Huson, local executive from Hillsboro. Mr. Jim Duncan, head of the March of Dimes campaign, was introduced to the guardians, and he, in turn told them about the March of Dimes program in Beaverton and how the Camp Fire girls could help out by distributing the money folders to all the residences in Beaverton, and to all the houses in outlying districts that have house numbers. The leaders pledged the help of their individual groups. All guardians announced they had sponsors for their groups. Mrs. Cavens' fourth grade group is sponsored by the PTA; Mrs. Jenkin's fifth grade group by the junior chamber of commerce, and Mrs. McCue's Tanda group by the Beaverton post of the American Legion. Birthday Week for Camp Fire groups was again discussed at length and plans were made for the girls to complete their honors. The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. Huson for general discussion, after which the meeting was adjourned.

TANDA ADOPT "GRAMS"

The Tanda group of Campfire girls met at the Church of the Nazarene for their regular weekly meeting Thursday. Phyllis Mead, president, called the meeting to order. Roll was called and these girls were present: Janet Blackburn, Darlene Burk, Marilyn Martin, Phyllis Mead, Lois Reavis, Ruth Rogers, and Sunny Sanborn. Judith Holmes, a new member was also present. Sylvia Kain, was the only absent member, being confined at home with the flu. After the secretary, Ruth Rogers, read the minutes and Lois Reavis, treasurer, gave a report on the group's funds, the meeting was turned over to the guardian, Ruth McCue, who made several announcements. The first was announcing the date and time of a skating party for the Tanda group. Second, she told the girls about the distributions of the March of Dimes folders, and assigned territories to the girls. Third, she announced that the girls were going to join with the fifth grade Campfire girls in adopting grandmothers for the year at the Northwestern Christian Home. The girls then drew names for their "grandmothers", two girls adopting grandmothers and grandfathers. The guardian recorded this information, and the girls made plans to introduce themselves to their "grandmothers." After a general discussion the meeting adjourned.

P. T. A. GROUPS

Child care study group met Tuesday, Jan. 13, at the home of Mrs. C. J. Daniels. There were 14 mothers of pupils present, four of whom were mothers of pupils from the upper grade room. Reports were given and refreshments served. Next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. E. H. May, Cedar Hills. Interested parents are urged to attend.

BOYS TAKE HIKE

Saturday, Jan. 24, John Taft, Douglas May and John Maffitt, 7th graders, went on a hike through the woods near their homes. They made a fire and cooked potatoes, meat, eggs and made toast. Then, like all good scouts, they put out the fire and cleaned up the camp grounds.

TRIP BY HORSE

Sunday, January 25, Jeri Hanson, Marlene Christensen, Ruth Ann Peterson and Rita Stone went horseback riding to the reservoir near West Slope. They followed an old paper run and had a lot of fun.

TRIP TO CORVALLIS

Gene Walters accompanied his parents to Corvallis Sunday, Jan. 25, to visit his uncle and aunts, Mr. and Mrs. Clancy. They stayed for dinner.
