GOLF TO THE FORE
In the meeting of the golf club Friday, September 28, the following officers were elected: Don Duffield, president; Paul Strandberg, vice-president; and Roger Murch, tournament manager.
Eugene Duncan, advisor, commented on the obvious interest on the part of the boys.

STUDENT RIDES
Mary Ann Ferry, junior horsewoman, is riding in the three gaited division for ladies in the Pacific International Livestock show. She received fifth place in Sunday afternoon's matinee.

ANNUAL STAFF
Editorial and business staffs of the "49" Beaver, the annual yearbook, were selected last week. John Jacobs was elected editor last May by his classmates.
On the publication staff are: Hans Stroeve, business manager; Mary Ann Kokich and Dorothy Christensen, senior department; Yvonne Hibbard, underclass department; Barbara Monahan and Lewis Rice, organizations; Janet French, administration and faculty.
Jack Jones, Connie Byrd and Dean Short, sports; Paul Wilson and Margaret Powrie, art; Lois Peterkott, Kathleen Ackerman and Fanny Lee Zook, feature writers; Bob Casteel, photographer; Anne Bastian, inserts; La Don Bartholomew, index; Connie Byrd, co-ordinator; and Alton Byrd, sales manager.

SENIOR SEMI-FORMAL
Bob Zahler, senior class president, will be host at a semi-formal dance in the gymnasium, Friday, November 19, to be sponsored by the senior class.
Chairman of the general planning committee is Carole Sheepley. The separate committee heads are: Beverly McKnight, decorations; Carole Rhodes, refreshments; Mary Ann Kokich, check room; Bill Greer, orchestra; Paul Oldenburg and Jim Moore, publicity.
The dance is to be held at 8:30 p.m.

NEW BUS DRIVER
Rodney Coombs of Route 1, Beaverton took over the West Slope school bus route last Thursday. Formerly of Denver, Colorado, he worked at Lowry Field as a government school bus driver and later as a warehouseman.
"I like Oregon," states Mr. Coombs, "because of the mild climate. This Oregon mist suits me better than all the heavy Colorado snow."

NO KILOWATT CLUB
The Kilowatt Club has disbanded, according to Duane F. Paul, radio instructor. A new club will be organized from the radio classes toward the end of this semester, says Mr. Paul.
In the preceding years when there were no radio classes, the Kilowatt club, under the direction of Melvin B. Wells, has helped with the electrical equipment of the school.

MUSICAL FRESHMAN
Prosh songleader Sylvia Wilson and Gale Enger, pianist, were presented before the assembly Friday. Their positions were gained by try-outs held the preceding week.

GARBAGE AGAIN
Organizations of the school last week became aware of the garbage problems which seemed to be growing.
Y-Teens will come to the rescue soon with the presentation of a garbage can to be placed between the "Beaver Brook" and school.

CAFETERIA ON WAY
Completion of the cafeteria by January is the hope of I. R. Metzler, principal.
This completely modern addition, started this summer, is 108 feet by 60 feet, with a seating capacity of 300.
The 30 foot long kitchen, containing all conveniences, will be operated by two cooks and six girls.

GLEE CLUB OFFERING
The advanced girls' glee club made the first appearance of the year in last Friday's assembly with Mrs. Eleanor Duncan directing the favorite, "Old Smoky".
Virginia Talbert, glee club president, introduced student leaders, Fannie Lee Zook, Mary Ann Kokich, Arden Armfield and Nancy Flynn who directed the group in numerous interpretations of the pep singing of the four classes.

DRUM AND BUGLE
In spite of earlier reports, a Drum and Bugle Corps of 25 girls has been organized.
"The girls are working hard and expect to make an appearance before the end of the football season," reports Melvin B. Wells, advisor.

NORRBO'S ART
In recognition of National Book Week an illustrative painting of the book, "Spin a Silver Dollar" is on display now in the library.
The painting, a work of Bennett Norrbo, former student of Beaverton, was framed and finished with the compliments of the Girls Athletic Association last year.
Norrbo left a remembrance of his years at Beaverton by two wall murals in the new unit of the school.

FIRE DRILL SPEED
Although the size of the school and its student body has increased the time of the first fire drill last week equalled that of first drill last year.
The time of each drill was one minute and 20 seconds.

SOPHOMORE LIBRARY
For their reading pleasure, the sophomores have their own library in the room of Mrs. Beth Metzler, sophomore English teacher. The books are from the state library in Salem and from Mrs. Metzler's own library and may be checked out only by sophomores.
Among the books featured are BEN-HUR by Wallace; LAD: A DOG, by Terhune; CHINA SKY by Pearl Buck and WE SHOOK THE FAMILY TREE by Dolson.

Y-TEENS GROW
Seventy-five new members have been received into Y-Teens making a total of about 130, reports Mrs. Dorothy Wipfel, advisor. Installation will take place next Tuesday evening at the White Temple in Portland.
Heads of the organization are Betty Moshofsky, president, Fanny Lee Zook, secretary, Kathleen McClure, vice president, and Audrey Sullivan, treasurer.

TAIL SNATCHERS
Tails on football players is the latest fashion, according to Gene Freese, physical education director. Unlike touch or tackle football each man has a 36-inch strip of colored canvas tucked in the back of his trunk.
When a man is running with the ball, the opposing team tries to pull "the tail" out of his trunk and throws it on the ground, thereby leaving no dispute as to where he was stopped. The sides are distinguished by the colors of the tails, orange or black.

BROKEN BONE MENDS
Vern Dysle, senior, is back in school after two weeks absence due to a broken collar bone, September 10, while playing in a practice football game at Gresham.

NEW FIREMEN
"Man that fire hose" was the summons issued by the 12 new Fire Squad members last Friday. Selected in the Fire Squad meeting of Tuesday, September 27, the new members are Jim St. Clair, Glenn Gordon and Bud Beas, freshmen; Bill Bernhard, Ramon Senn, Bob Speer and Roger Murch, sophomores; Paul Bell, Harry Wold and Don Duffield, juniors; and Bill Glasgow and Stan Lundahl, seniors.

POST-GAME GUESTS
Orlie Robbins, coach of the McMinnville high football team, and his family were guests at the Glenn Ely home Friday night after the game.

FISHING IN IDAHO
Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Mott have just returned from a vacation trip to McCall, Idaho, where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Hawkins for a week of good fishing on the Payette Lakes.
On the return trip visits were made to the McNary dam project and to the Maryhill museum on the Washington side of the Columbia River.
