WOUNDS HEAL

Harry Wold, junior, who received a broken collar bone in the last game with the Oregon City Pioneers, is back in school again after a one-day rest.

Bud Cox, senior, received a severe bone bruise when he fell out-of-bounds on the yard marker.

GIRLS STUDY SPORTS

The girls' physical education classes have begun the study of different sports, announces Mrs. Reva Coovet, physical education instructor.

Included in the study are tennis, badminton, softball, volleyball, folk dancing and tumbling.

Pamphlets containing the rules and regulations are given on each sport. After these pamphlets are studied, tests will be given. Six weeks is expected to be spent on each sport, one overlapping another.

FOOTBALL STARS

"You never miss the water till the well runs dry," quoted Bud Hansen, junior, last week when he presented the co-captain stars to graduating seniors, Bob Zahler and Zane Mulhausen.

The two stars were chosen for this position when the entire football squad voted on the best players.

The boys thanked the team for the honor and the student body for the support that was given in the cheering section.

PARTY AT STAKE

With a party at stake for the winning volleyball team, the girls' physical education classes are trying their best to win.

Winner of inter-class competition will compete with other schools.

GRADUATE DRIVERS

There are now 10 students ready to take their driving and written tests, announces instructors Duane F. Paul and Melvin B. Wells.

Those qualified are: Wanda Ganger, Pat Huson, Don Sauerwein, Richard Fulton, Marjorie Robinson, Pat Hagen, Donna Harvey, Joan Petersen, Jean Batke and Bob Sinclair.

The written test may be taken in Beaverton, but the driving test must be taken either in Hillsboro or Portland, said Mr. Paul. The dates for this have not yet been announced.

During the next 12 weeks, 16 more students will be instructed in driving.

OF DISPLACED BOOKS

Three new books are in the library, replacing old copies, Mrs. Marjory Whitbeck recently announced.

These books are "SALVAGE" by Felix Riesenberger, Jr., "RABBIT IN ARMS" by Kenneth Roberts and "SEVENTEEN CHIMNEYS" by Theodore Acland Harper.

FIRE SQUAD RITES

At the initiation of 16 new Fire Squad members by Chief Bob Zahler, in the assembly recently a milk-drinking contest was hard-fought by baby squad members: Stan Lundahl, Bill Bernhardt, Bob Syverson, Bob Speer, Jim St. Clair, Berton Gredvig, Glen Gordon and Oliver Cobb.

The barefoot, bedclothed infants "battled with the nipples" until "Baby Gordon" chewed the end off and guzzled the contents to come out winner.

Barry Hoaglin was winner of the "orange scramble" in which blindfolded rooks scrambled around in search of scattered oranges.

Ramon Senn won the title of "The Biggest Blow" by huffing and puffing a little piece of paper across the finish line first.

Roger Murch was assigned to play the "Viennese Carnival," but before long, hecklers gathered around prolonging his number to marathon proportions.

The last of the fledglings to perform was "Baby Gordon" who played Brahms' Lullaby on his musical saw.

Completing the list of new members are: Richard Gervais, Don Duffield, Paul Buffam, Paul Bell and Richard Bess.

FRESH MUSICAL PLANS

The freshman chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Eleanor Duncan, plans to entertain the student body in the assembly Friday Dec. 3 with "The Cape Cod Sea Chantey," "The Peasant's Dancing Day" and "The Big Corral." This will be their second appearance before a group.

Short talent programs are being held each Friday for enjoyment of the class. Program chairmen are elected and they plan the program which includes three or four selections.

Anyone with talent who belongs to the chorus may participate in the program. Past program chairmen are Richard Larsen, Patricia Schlatt, Vanda Benson, Sally Lindsay and Irene Boge.

Reports on famous composers are frequently given by the students. The chorus has listened to reports on Johann S. Bach, Joseph Haydn, George F. Handel and W. A. Mozart.

CHRISTMAS IN PLASTIC

Christmas gifts are in the making in Mrs. Carol Talbert's arts and crafts class, which was started this year.

An outstanding and different work is being done by Barbara Brown, sophomore, who is making Christmas cards by painting pictures on pieces of plastic. She gets her ideas for scenes from old Christmas cards.

Nearly all the boys are making plastic bracelets and Margaret Powne, senior, is working on one which features figures of dancing peasants. Rita Newell, senior, has made a letter holder and opener of plastic. All in the class have made jewel boxes.

Leather working will begin the first week in December, says Mrs. Talbert. Later the class will work with aluminum, copper and possibly brass and bronze, if the equipment can be obtained.

In the spring of next year, general handicraft will be taken up in which the students may make anything they wish. Basket weaving and ceramics will be featured.

SOPHIS LIBRARY

Thirty-six new books were recently purchased for the reading enjoyment of the sophomore English classes.

Among the recently bought publications are "Pilgrim's Inn" by Elizabeth Goudge, "The Big Fisherman" by Lloyd C. Douglas, "Anna and the King of Siam" by Margaret Landon and the new adventure of the witty author, Betty MacDonald, "The Plague and I."

Generous sophomores are loaning books to their library. Bob Shaw brought in "The King's General," "Silver Nutmeg" and "Young Jefferson"; Roberta Comar loaned "Room Mates" and Bob Ervin "Flying Carpet" by Richard Halliburton.

Other books have arrived from the state library in Salem. Among them are "The Keys of the Kingdom" by A. J. Cronin "Home Country" by Ernie Pyle, "Forlorn River" by Zane Grey and "The Nutmeg Tree" by Margery Sharp.

HI-Y GO TO CHURCH

November 22, Hi-Y members attended the Evangel Baptist church in Portland, which is under the pastorate of Reverend Lewis Paul Lehman, Jr.

The Hi-Y sponsors a "go-to-church-Sunday" at various intervals during the year. These trips take the boys to different churches in the surrounding area.

BLIZZARD BUGGY

Onward in the blizzard slid the twenty seven. This is what the Beaverton Ski Club faced on their latest expedition to Mt. Hood last Friday.

The bus was unable to make it to Timberline because of drifted snow on the road, consequently the bus had to stay at Government Camp. Most of the skiers on the bus were content to stay at the bunny-tows at Summit, but seven of the more venturesome ones rode on to Timberline.

This is the second time this season that the club has rented a Trailway bus for their excursions. The only mishap on the trip was when Ron Clancy twisted a cartilage in his left knee trying a slalom course.

VOLLEYBALL PARTY

"Malapoo grapes are very fine grapes, but Concord grapes are better."

This was one of the many "parlour" games which were played in the girls' gym classes last Wednesday.

Winning volleyball teams were the honored guests of the losing teams and came to class expecting to be entertained.

A variety of entertainment was furnished during the day, some of which included piano solos, guessing games, songs, twirling, and other "student manufactured" entertainment.

A good time was had by all, especially Mrs. Reva Coovet, girls' gym teacher, who would probably have a hard time duplicating such a day.

THANKFUL THOUGHTS

"Thanksgiving really comes alive in our homes," stated Dr. Richard M. Steiner, minister of the First Unitarian Church, in his address to the students in the Thanksgiving assembly.

Dr. Steiner not only stressed that people have much for which to be thankful but also that God-given favors should be returned. The speaker urged that, if it is not already customary in the homes, grace be said before the Thanksgiving dinner.

"TURKEY TROT"

One of the features of the Thanksgiving assembly was a "Turkey Trot" presented by Beverly Larson, Beverly Blank and Dorothy Carr, juniors.

Also assisting in the dance was a "chorus" of five freshmen girls, Jo Allene Krueger, ballet dancer, Marilyn Boyer who "tumbled", and Sylvia Wilson, Mary Jo Cornell and Dreenali Zwahlen who "can't do anything".

The dance was accompanied by Arlene Amell at the piano.

NEW SPEECH OFFICERS

Officers of Miss Bernice Conolly's speech class were elected on Wednesday of last week for the third six weeks.

They are: President, Homer Speer; Vice President, Ellen Smith; Secretary, Pat Wright; Treasurer, Bob Sinclair and Sergeant-at-arms Norman Vermillion.

Barnes School Notes

INCHING ALONG

The "race-for-inches" continues! Joe Rigert, editor-in-chief, and Bill Moore, advertising manager, led the race in November's issue of the Hummer, which came out Tuesday of last week.

Joe totaled 80 inches in this issue alone while Bill claimed 58. Nancy O'Connor, new editor, was next in line with 30 inches, and Betty Moshofsky, reporter, had 24 inches.

REASON WHY

America has become the greatest food producing nation in the world because the free constant markets provided by the commodity exchanges have enabled the farmer to produce to the maximum.
