TRADE LANES

By way of explanation, this column making its bow today as a regular feature of our paper, will bring you a smattering of news about the business people of the community—people you know and probably deal with every day. Our idea is to pass on to you (in strictest confidence of course!) tidbits of gossip and news that will shed light on the activities, thoughts, morals, etc. of our local business men. Along with comments on personalities, there will be interesting items on merchandising, sales events and general business news all calculated we hope to be of some aid to the shopper. So linger with us a while each week and get to feel the pulse of the trade lanes. Meanwhile this is what the pulse felt like as we went to press:

Evelyn Hathaway and Doris Johnson, local artists will exhibit some of their paintings at the ART SHOW scheduled for two weeks, beginning January 24, at the Beaverton Furniture. * * * Contrary to rumors, the old Safeway store in Beaverton has NOT been rented, according to the Rossi boys. * * * Several deals are hanging fire with one having a slight edge, but nothing definite yet.

That good looking fella you see working with Dana Porter in Walker's, is Robert Bolton, who recently moved to Aloha with his bride of one year. He's a grad of the American Academy of Horology (watchmaking to you). * * * Jack Terry is waiting on customers again at his furniture store, after being laid up for several days with a bad cold. * * * Still walking the floor nights and complaining mildly is Bill Wetzel of Platt's. Bill says their month-old baby boy is developing fine, particularly his vocal chords.

Another new daddy, Roy Mourer, (he passed out cigars two months ago) has called a temporary halt to his pharmaceutical profession while he paints the prescription department at Dean's Drugs. Roy says not only must a pharmacist be a jack-of-all-trades today but he must know how to mix paints as well as drugs. * * * While we're on the subject of daddies, want to add that Beaverton can expect a satisfactory population growth within the next few months if our younger business men are any barometer. Offhand we can think of five daddies-to-be: Jack Weiby, Dana Porter, Bill Selberts, Lyle Rich, Chet Hunkapillar.

Al Ferrier, Aloha tax service man, is reported to have rented a house in Aloha and will shortly move his family from Portland. * * * After a three-week sojourn in Odessa, Texas, where he conducted business matters along with other things, Bob Sharpe of Canyon Drug is back at the old stand in the Haskell Shopping Center. Bob, a native of the G-R-E-A-T state of Texas, plugged his old town with the crack that it's the "oil center of Texas, Suhl!"

The new faces you see at the new Safeway Store belong to Carl Nelsen, the manager; Elwood Collins, Francis Argent, William Watt and Fred Coons. CARL assures us that most of the old employees are still on hand; they're only a little difficult to locate on account of the size of the store. * * * Glad to see that IRMA STILLWELL is spending more and more time at her Beauty Bazaar, following her recent illness. Nowadays she is lending STELLA MOORE some help in beautifying the local ladies. Chuck Ankele of the Kepler Davenport Company has had tough luck with cars lately. Not exactly sour on them, but suspicious anyway. Chuck was driving his dad's car in Portland 10 days ago when he

Beaverton Girl Loses District DAR Elimination

Betty Moshofsky, voted by her Beaverton high school senior classmates to enter the annual citizenship contest sponsored by the Daughters of the American Revolution, lost out in district eliminations, which were won by Mary Kramien, Hillsboro high, it was announced this week.

Eleanor Boyson, Virginia Talbert and Betty were the three final selections made by the faculty "for their qualities of dependability, patriotism and leadership."

It was promised in 1944 that was hit—and hard too, with plenty of damage to the car. A week later his own car froze on him!

Jack Grauer of Grauer and Ackerman reports that they're doing a little remodeling at the store with the purpose of enlarging their showroom and office. Jack is particularly proud of their new air compressor for painting furnaces, says it works faster and gives more of a glass finish. * * * HARRY ROTHCHILD, (Beaverton's most eligible bachelor, he says), proprietor of Tillman's Tip Top, has a new heart-beat as of last Sunday night. Witnesses say he was seen squiring the gal about town. * * * "FRAN" of Thrifty Market is sitting pretty these days and we mean just that. * * * he's reclining in a new leather office chair that the store employees recently gave him. * * * Unfortunately "Fran" doesn't get much time to sit.

Television is on its way to Aloha, at least a set is. * * * Roy Briggs, local radio expert expects the television set he ordered, to arrive within a week. ROY doesn't look for reception for a while yet but he'll be ready when it can be picked up. Meanwhile ROY reports that a few Portlanders have picked up spotty television calls from the Seattle station.

Rumor has it that work will start shortly on a building to house a new furniture store in Beaverton. The location is said to be on Canyon Road across from Caffee Automotive Supply. * * * And that's that for this week.

BEAVERTON ENTERPRISE—Friday, January 14, 1949

Betty would be a DAR candidate when her freshman comrades chose her as their preference for "a future good citizen." Later she was elected to the pep club and a class officer. She is now Y-Teen president and a Hummer staff reporter.

After selection at their schools all entries filled out questionnaires on citizenship to qualify for the district contest.

Through these questionnaires the district winners will qualify for a state-wide drawing tomorrow. State winner will receive a $100 war bond or value thereof. The DAR pilgrimage trip to Washington, D. C., awarded in previous years, has been discontinued.

Mary Kotrick was the 1947 BHS candidate and Mary Myers, in 1946.
