SAM POST SAYS:

JERRY: "Sure nice of you to stop by, Sam."

SAM: "Not at all. I was just finishing up my route, and decided to drive over. You been lonesome, Jerry?"

JERRY: "Lonesome? My wife says we've had more company since I've been sick than we had all last year! Why, I think nearly every fellow at our V.F.W. Post has been over! Say... I'm sure glad you insisted on my joining up last year."

SAM: "Glad to hear you say it, Jerry. I don't think there's any finer group of men than those who've fought shoulder-to-shoulder in foreign lands. It takes more than Military Service to belong to the V.F.W. Foreign duty is mandatory. That's why our outfit is unusual."

JERRY: "Like you always say—the most exclusive club in town!"

SAM: "That's right—and the nicest, most considerate bunch of fellows I ever knew. No matter how tough things get, a man who belongs to the V.F.W. always has friends to back him!"

You, too, may be interested in this fine organization that builds enduring friendships. If you're a veteran with overseas service, we cordially invite you to attend our next Post Meeting, as a guest.

By Marie Smith
10,000 VOLTS SENIOR

A fascinating demonstration of the developments of the Bell Telephone laboratories was given the student body January 7, by Tommy Welch, company demonstrator and his secretary, Joan Luyben.

Such things as the artificial voice box, automobile telephone, and a replica of the original telephone were explained to the students.

Music was transmitted through a human telephone line composed of five Pep Club members, Steve Benham, senior, and Miss Luyben.

In another experiment Dean Short, senior, had 10,000 volts transmitted through him, causing a fluorescent bulb to light up when brought near his forehead.

EARNs TOURNEY TROPHY

Duane Rasmussen, tall Beaverton center, was presented a basketball trophy for being most valuable player in the recent Lewis and Clark college coaches tournament.

Coach Ted Harding made the presentation.

INTRAMURALS START

Intramural basketball will again make its appearance in the high school gym with games being played during the noon hour.

Hoop coach Ted Harding is heading the program.

BELTING CRAFT

A new style which has developed almost to the "fad" stage, has found its way into one of the school classes.

This is the making of those one-quarter inch belts that the boys are wearing by the arts and crafts class under the leadership of Mrs. Carol Talbert, home economics instructor.

Some of the boys who are making these "silly" belts are using original designs which are really "quite clever", states Mrs. Talbert.

During the past semester the 22 students have been working with plastics and leather. The plastic work was discontinued until they acquired an electric buffer and other equipment.

The plastic study as well as that of metal will be taken up next semester.

LOCKERS UNLOCKED

The long-awaited lockers have arrived and are now occupied by the "lockerless freshmen" and the girls who have been "cooped up" in half-lockers.

All girls now have a long locker, and the boys have the half-lockers with one boy to a locker.

CAFETERIA USE LOOMS

To raise funds for the new cafeteria, cokes have been sold by Georgeanna Coburn, junior, for the past week in the cafeteria window.

The new cafeteria features many new devices and will be ready for use soon, reports I. R. Metzler, principal.

BARBER SHOP MUSIC

The nine boys in the freshman chorus have turned to "barbershop singing", Mrs. Eleanor Duncan, music teacher, has revealed.

Parts haven't been definitely assigned, but so far they are: first tenors: Paul Buffam and Richard Bess; second tenors: Ronald Young, Richard Creitz and Bernie Thompson; baritone: Daryl Emerick and Roy Childs; basses: Ray Land and Richard Larsen.

FITNESS TESTS

With groans and giggles the girls physical education classes have started physical fitness tests.

Based on physical skill and endurance, these tests are required by the state and are given every year.

ON THE MEND

Kenny Alexander, sophomore and B-squad center injured his foot while playing basketball in physical education class shortly before the Christmas holidays.

As a result, he took a two-week stretch on crutches, but expects to start hoop practice again in the near future.

MOVIES NOT DANCES

Replacing social dancing sports movies will be shown in the physical education classes on Fridays.

Turn out unnecessary lights between 4:30 and 6:30 p. m.

You don't have to sit in the dark—but do turn off lights you don't actually need between the hours of 4:30 and 6:30 p.m. When you leave a room, turn out the light, even if you expect to be back "in a minute." That minute may stretch to 15 minutes—or even longer. Use adequate light for reading but keep extra lamps turned off. Don't forget to turn off lights in closets, basements, and storerooms. In using electricity here is a good rule to follow: "If there's any doubt, better turn it out."

WHY CONSERVATION IS NECESSARY

Winter brings greater use of lights and heating equipment using electricity. It brings a pick-up in industrial production which means still more power use. All this reaches a maximum between 4:30 and 6:30 p.m. when thousands of housewives start preparing dinner and thousands of men and children start using water (most of it heated electrically) to clean up. The result is that the total power available from all present Northwest power sources can barely cope with the demand. A serious break down can occur unless you help.
