

City Authorizes Steps To Acquire Sewer Plant Site

VIEWERS APPRAISE DESIRED PROPERTY AT $2300
TOTAL VALUE; GIVE REASONS TO SUPPORT FIGURES

The city council of Beaverton, at its meeting January 17, authorized city attorney Lofgren to proceed with condemnation if necessary, in order to acquire property for a sewage treatment plant site. The land, at present, is owned by Alexander Pesenti and Mrs. Biggi; and is located north of the Oregon Electric tracks behind the Highway Tire Service.

A committee of viewers, consisting of Wilbur Falloon, Bruce McMahon and Roy Berst, evaluated the property in question and set a fair value on it at $2300, total value. Of this amount, 4.31 acres in the Biggi tract was appraised at $1500 while Pesenti's 4.22 acres was valued at $800.

According to the report filed by the viewers committee, this price represents the "highest price measured in dollars which the land would bring if exposed in the market for a reasonable length of time in which to find a purchaser buying with knowledge of present and future uses to which the property is capable of being used."

will be enforced to private users during the four summer months, the council voted to extend the contract at the same rate.

For the Teagarden frozen food packing plant, it was decided to charge 100% of water use on one meter, which includes sanitary facilities, but not to charge for water used in maintenance of freezing equipment, the latter to run off by storm sewer.

Likewise, no charge for sewer will be made to the Oregon Electric railroad, which buys water on contract for use in its locomotive boilers.

The city recorder wishes to remind water users that the first billing on the basis of 100% for sewer charges will begin with the bills to be issued about January 25, within the city of Beaverton.

The reported suggestion that the city take over the chlorinator at Kaiser's Pinehurst addition and start charging residents there for sewer use was not acted upon.

The council will continue its meeting on January 24, it was announced.

JCC Name Heads And Committees To Work in 1949

Most of the land is largely under water and it remains so, in the wet season, for long periods, the report continues. Capability of cropping, it points out, is confined to horseradish which of late, in the particular area, is subject to insect infestation that cannot successfully be controlled.

Natural draining falling to this land, the viewers found, has eroded the top soil to a measured depth of over 2 feet, in a relatively short period of time, thus taking off the fertile soil and reducing the "above water" land level.

In the opinion of the appraisers sewer plans will tend to benefit surrounding land areas in that it will drain off the present water bog.

The council also passed an ordinance providing for methods of payment, as based on a charge in the amount of 100% water usage among domestic customers. Other than domestic uses will be fixed by resolution of the council.

Beaverton high school's present water contract, providing for rate of 15c per 100 cubic feet, will expire June 30, 1949. Because the school is willing to relinquish the vacation rates which

BEAVERTON ART SHOW STARTS JANUARY 24 WITH PUBLIC TEA

GALLERY DIRECTOR GIVES ILLUSTRATED LECTURE SATURDAY AFTERNOON ON MODERN ART TRENDS

A public tea sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's club, Monday afternoon, January 24, signalled the start of a two weeks' art exhibit at the Beaverton Furniture store, in cooperation with Patecky Studio Gallery of Portland.

On Saturday afternoon, at 3 p. m., Albert Patecky, director of the gallery, will present an illustrated lecture on the trends of modern art. He will also answer questions and seek to explain the background of the sometimes confusing school of modern interpretations.

At Monday's tea, Mrs. Hilda Highbe, president of the BPW, was in charge, assisted by Mrs. Ray Clearwater, Mrs. Elmer Benson, Mrs. Harold Miller, Mrs. Mary Dean, Mrs. Jesse Strickland, Mrs. Charles Drew, Jenny Cline and Mrs. William Grauer.

Invited to participate were representatives of local groups who included: Lady Kiwanis; Gladys Huddleston, president, Jenny Cline and Mrs. Morgan Cook; Order of Eastern Star, Mrs. Mary Bonlok-ke; Rebekahs, Fay Saunders; Christine Church, Mrs. Jacobs; Methodist church, Mrs. Maurice Romeig, Mrs. Edna Sheets, and Helen Gertgen; Congregational church, Mrs. Norton Pek; Baptist church, Mrs. Russell Thomas; Lutheran church, Mrs. Harry Durdell and Mrs. James Calley; Beaverton PTA, Mrs. Leona Drew; Beaverton Book club, Violet Lamont; American Legion auxiliary, Marie Moore and VFW auxiliary, Mrs. Lanacetot.

Numbered in the exhibit of some 40 paintings, attractively arranged in settings with modern furniture, are thirteen works from the brushes of artists in the east end of the valley.

Evelyn Hathaway, Beaverton, shows three canvases; Doris H. Johnson, Beaverton, has four; Bennett Norrbo, Beaverton, exhibits 2; Rosemarie Kennelly, of West Slope, offers 2 and George M. McBride, of Multnomah, exhibits 2.

Norrbo, 19 year old graduate of Beaverton high who won an art school scholarship in last year's scholastic competition, is the youngest artist exhibiting.

Mr. Patecky states that any club or other group interested may arrange with him for an explanatory lecture on the pictures on exhibition. The art show will continue one more week and reservations may be made for group meetings, with a question and answer period.

The public is invited to attend the exhibit at any time.

Optometrist of Pac. Univ. Starts Local Practice

Dr. Frank McBride, who began to teach optometry at Pacific University in June of 1948, announces that he has started local practice in the Manning building, Beaverton. He will diagnose eye-ills, prescribe lenses and fit glasses, according to his statement.

Dr. McBride, who is married with 2 children, received his B. A. degree from the University of Oregon and a Master degree from the University of Colorado.

From the Northern Illinois College of Optometry, in Chicago, he received his Doctor of Optometry degree.

During World War II, Dr. McBride served in the Navy and was assigned to the Naval air technical training center at Jacksonville, Florida.

At the outset, Dr. McBride will be in his offices all day Monday and Tuesday. His office receptionist will make other appointments during his absence the balance of the week. He plans, as soon as conditions warrant, to maintain a full-time setup.

County Prunes Board Ship

THE LAST SLINGLOAD OF PRUNES, from Washington county, are shown as they are about to swing aboard the SS MAGNOLIA STATE, bound for Bremen, Germany, in a relief shipment to the needy there, under auspices of the Christian Rural Overseas Program. Watching this final touch to the shipment are state CROP committee chairman Judge T. H. Arrestad (right) and state director Miles G. Blickenstaff.

Oregon grown food, donated by Oregon farmers, will be loading in Portland for destinations abroad during the balance of January. In the shipment pictured, wheat, milk, cheese and sugar are other Oregon products sent. Later cargoes are to be distributed in India, Holland, Japan and China.

A national program, CROP has seen participation of 24 states, with nearly 1500 carloads of foodstuffs.
